

Coquille Attorney Heads Latourette Committee

Clarence Barton, Coquille attorney, war veteran and prominent democrat, has accepted appointment to the committee heading the campaign of Howard Latourette, Democratic nominee for United States Senator, in the November general election.

Chairman will be H. B. Van Duzer, prominent Oregon lumberman and former chairman of the state highway commission. Van Duzer, long time vice president of the Inman-Poulsen Lumber company, resides in Portland.

The 11-member general committee will be supplemented by committees soon to be named in each of Oregon's 36 counties. The Latourette committees will work closely with the regular democratic organization in the campaign.

Other members of the general committee: Harry D. Boivin, Klamath Falls, former speaker of the state house of representatives; J. C. Compton, McMinnville, contractor; Edward C. Kelley, Medford, attorney; Jack E. Allen, Pendleton, business man and former state senator; Bruce M. Spaulding, Salem, former district attorney of Polk county; Daniel Thiel, Astoria, prominent democrat; Judge E. M. Thiessen-Starkweather, Milwaukie, judge; Mrs. Mae Arnold, Bend, prominent Central Oregon party worker, and Mrs. Gertrude Dale, Eugene, long active in state party activities.

Curry County Ager News

Feed prices to livestock farmers reached the highest levels in over a year, according to U.S.D.A. reports. There were 950 million bushels of corn sold last year which is the highest of any previous record.

The estimate of hay supplies in the U. S. is the smallest since 1941. Prices may remain low through the summer season but probably will advance as the season progresses. The Curry county extension agent suggests that livestock men in that county should supply their needs for the coming winter and should "do it now."

Lambs and beef should remain up during the summer months, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics report. Cattle marketing will increase during the season with an expected fall decline in price. Feeder lambs are bringing 24c in San Francisco which is about equal to fat lamb prices. This means lamb prices should hold fairly constant at a top of 24c to 25c per pound.

Pete Hady, marketing specialist, O. S. C., recommends top lambs now, before they start to lose weight. Ewes with heavy fleeces will dry off milk production with the first warm days. This means the lamb will be weaned and will lose its milk fat.

Leading sheepmen also recommend early lamb marketing. During the late '30's a very high percent of the Curry lambs graded fat. Most of these were shipped before July 15th. This is the reason for the "sell early" campaign this year.

The small buffet-sized cans of ripe olives are handy for packing in the picnic basket. Open them a can at a time, as you need them and there will be no problem of packing up any left-over olives to take back home.

Hope is like the sky at night: there is no corner so dark but that a persevering eye will discover a star.—Octave Feuillet.

Building permanent markets through modern selling

It takes a steady flow of orders to keep our camps and mills running. Successful selling is absolutely necessary if we are to have a permanent forest industry and steady employment.

This is the job of Weyerhaeuser marketing divisions, their salesmen and technical service men. Their job is to study the markets, plan their sales programs, and get the orders at the time our mills need them. Then they see to it that quality and delivery are such that the customer will buy again and again. We advertise our products to make their qualities known and use many other modern means to help win steady customers.

Permanent markets—orders from thousands of regular customers—are the ONLY sources of income to meet payrolls, pay taxes to support government, provide money for plant expansions and pay shareholders. This flow of orders from all over the nation has an important effect in giving economic stability to communities where we operate. So customers for forest products deserve the best of attention—from all of us!

AFTER A STRENUOUS WEEK of personal appearances all over Central Oregon, the Royal Court of the Bend Water Pageant relaxes on the grassy banks of the Mirror Pond, site for the water festival July 3 and 4. Inset shows Queen Marcia, Miss Marcia Skjersaa, Northwest Ski champion for this past year. Others in the court are Catherine DeRushing, Diane Newland, Georgann Winslow, Mary Anne Klesow, Mary Foyler and Peggy Terwilliger.

TO HELP INSURE A PERMANENT INDUSTRY WE—

OPERATE TREE FARMS—to provide a never ending timber supply for our mills. The forest crop is harvested, reseeded, harvested, reseeded—in about 80-year cycles.

DIVERSIFY OUR MANUFACTURING—in order to use all of the tree. The aim is to build manufacturing centers in each of our operating areas so that on one millsite we can make useful products from low value as well as high value material.

DEVELOP NEW PRODUCTS—to increase the "take" from each acre of forest land harvested. A staff of engineers and scientists spends all of its time in this work. More products mean more steady jobs.

DEVELOP PERMANENT MARKETS—to be reasonably certain that Weyerhaeuser products are in steady demand year in and year out, in good times and bad. We work toward consistent high quality, and apply modern selling methods to create customer demand.
