

At Bridge Grange Has Tall Tale Telling Contest

Taking her cue from the Burlington Lions' club, lecturer Mrs. Wm. McKinley arranged for a hars' contest which was the high point of the entertainment when the Bridge Grange met on Saturday evening at the grange hall. Grange master Henry Brownson presided at the business session. Powell Lancaster was named chairman of the committee to buy a heating unit for the hall, and Buck Goodman was appointed chairman of a committee which is to investigate costs for painting the interior of the main hall.

Many tall tales were heard, and the judging committee was hard put to decide which was the tallest, that honor in the men's division going to John Koch, with his tale of chickens. According to the story, when a power failure occurred when he had 250 eggs in an electric incubator, he was faced with the loss of the eggs, nearly ready for hatching. Remembering that a neighbor had frequently bragged on the brooding powers of his bantam hen, he placed the eggs into a barrel, and borrowed the bantam hen and put her on the bung hole of the barrel. She hatched out every egg, vindicating her owner's bragging.

Mrs. E. Goodman took the honors in the ladies' division, telling how she and her husband pulled up a dry well and cut it up for fence post holes when they built a fence several years ago. The children had some tall tales, and Paula Lancaster's story of her big fish was awarded the prize. Her fish measured 12 inches, she said, and when told that wasn't such a big fish, she said, "Of course, I mean 12 inches between the eyes."

The program was ended with a skit with the following taking part, Mrs. T. J. Davis, Mrs. Ernest Sell, Frank Schram, Powell Lancaster and Henry Brownson. The Bridge Community club met on Thursday, Jan. 3, at the Grange hall with Mrs. Al Richmond presiding. After the business was disposed of, Mrs. Carl Nelson told of the Cathedral of the Pines in New Hampshire, built and dedicated to the memory of a G. I. who lost his life in the war. Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Henry Brown, Mrs.

Carl Nelson, Mrs. Lyle Hardman, Mrs. Howard Winkelman, Mrs. Al Richmond, Mrs. E. Goodman, Mrs. Elvin Waterman, Mrs. R. H. Coster, and Mrs. Clyde Cota.

The public is invited to the next meeting of the Bridge Grange, on January 19, when officials of the Coos-Curry Electric Co-op will be speakers. Further discussion of a three-phase line and improved electric service will be the subjects.

Gold Beach Editor Called By Death

We Thank You!

It is our sincere appreciation of the past months of service to you...

Now we are entering our second year of service. Instead of flowers and gifts we feel that our appreciation can be best shown by giving you food stuffs at an additional low cost.

YOU—our customers and friends have made our store one of the best food stores in this district. We want you to feel that this is YOUR store, and any suggestions will be welcome and helpful.

Sincerely,
BERT AND VI

In the past few years the F & M has tried to give our friends meats that are reasonable in price and of good quality, too. This same policy will hold true in the future.

Our hopes for the years to come will be to give all of you a better meat service. We hope that this year our health will be such that the old F & M will again be
