Loggers Urged To Ask For Retroactive Pay After IWA Timberworkers Strike

Loggers and sawmill workers who terminated employment with employers who have contracts with the International Woodworkers of America, CIO, during the recent strike in the Northwest were urged today to apply immediately to their former employers for retroactive pay due as a result of the strike settlement. The notice came from A. F. Hartung, IWA president, who said the men may have only a few days yet to make application. The retroactivity stems from the new contract which grants a wage boost of 7 1/2% an hour plus differential pay and other benefits as of April 1. Men who worked from that time until the strike was called will have pay coming to them if their operations were covered by the IWA Northwest Regional Negotiating committee settlement, Hartung said, regardless of where they are working now, or what union affiliation they may have. Deadline of 30 days for application is based on the date each individual company was notified by the wage stabilization board that its contract with the union was approved. That deadline is nearly at hand in some cases. Each worker must make application in writing to his former employer unless otherwise notified by his union or employer.

TO BUILD BOX CULVERT August 18, the Oregon State Highway Commission, will receive bids for the construction of a triple 8' x 11' reinforced concrete box culvert, within the limits of the previously awarded contract for grading and paving work on the Hauser-Coox Bay Section of the Oregon coast highway. This structure will complete the work to be done on this relocated section of highway. See "Spice" Leslie for insurance of all kinds, phone 4581 etc
