Who Lives Where Confuses Florist

Speaking of delivery difficulties in our overgrown city just imagine yourself, if you will, in the predicament of Chuck Adams who this week received a letter asking that flowers be delivered to a certain party.

The letter said, "—This house, I understand, is a small cottage in back of some larger residence. Please sign the card from — and —."

So armed with the names, and these directions, Chuck sallied forth to try to deliver the posies.

A "white elephant" sale was held at the meeting and $7 raised. The next meeting will be in September at the home of Mrs. Fred Sell.

Following the meeting, a surprise handkerchief shower was held in honor of Mrs. Shirley Dwight who is moving to Empire. She will teach at Coos Bay next year.

Driving Through Water is Not the Time to Make a "Big Splash"

Although today's automobile has progressed far beyond the point where a severe spring rain will stall the engine, it still is not an amphibious vehicle.

Failure of the engine to bring you through normal flood waters, which might cover highways, can be attributed mostly to water on the ignition system caused by splashing. Today's engines are better equipped to combat excessive moisture and driving through water, by the use of such things as improved rubber housings on the spark plug terminals.

These pictures show the splash effect when a car "plows" into a seven-inch depth on a flooded highway.

At 20 m.p.h., the water shoots high, completely drenching the underneath part of the car. At 3 m.p.h., the forward motion of the car creates a small wave running ahead of the front bumper, with control of the vehicle greatly improved.

When you encounter an inundated highway, slow your car down and approach with caution. As a safety tip, on driving through flooded areas, remember to try out your brakes at slow speed immediately after reaching dry ground. When wet brakes do not respond to pedal action, hold brake-pedal down moderately with left foot, while right foot feeds enough power to carry car forward and dry out brakes. This action, over a few hundred yards, should restore your brakes to safe driving condition.
