

Coquille Animal Hospital

Mixed Animal Practice

"Phillies Win the Pennant," "Five Die in Great Coquille Flood," "Louis Armstrong and His All Stars Appear at the Coquille Community Building," "Casino Tavern Burns on Front Street," and "John Ford's Rio Grande Plays at the Roxy Theatre" were some of the top headlines the year the Coquille Animal Hospital was built in the middle of an apple orchard in 1950 by Dr. Norman Crawford. In May of 1982, Dr. Ed O'Donnell, a graduate of Kansas State, purchased the building from Dr. Crawford and began his practice here in the Coquille area. His wife, Karen, a retired C.P.A./Homemaker manages the hospital, so Dr. O'Donnell can focus his energies purely on the practice of medicine. Also employing the assistance of Disa Mattix, Cindy Ingram, Sandi Peterson, Nikki Davidson, and the occasional summer intern, Dr. O'Donnell has consistently kept your family and farm friends in the best of health, in the hopes of keeping integrity alive and well in the animal practice.

Although the Coquille

Animal Hospital has seen a lot of change over the past 50 years, there are still many ways that it has also remained the same. Dr. O'Donnell and his staff want you to know that at the Animal Hospital, quality service never goes out of style.

A commitment to genuine care and concern for your pet, along with a friendly and helpful atmosphere, are what Coquille Animal Hospital is all about.

Next time you're in the neighborhood, stop by and say "hi." We're sure someone, employed or just visiting the Animal Hospital, will have a smile waiting just for you.
