Special Clubbing Arrangement With

The Oregon Farmer

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measure Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER, whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.

ATHLETES IN WAR

Walter Camp, Football Star, Will Train College Men.

FOR ALL OVER MILITARY AGE.

In Manufacturing Cities Throughout the Country They Will Be Great Amount of Guard Duty, and Mr. Camp Plans to Follow Military of This Work.

New Haven.—The Internal Defense League, an organization to be composed chiefly of former athletes between the ages of forty-five and sixty, is being organized by Walter Camp, Yale's football adviser, for home guard duty in the event of war. Mr. Camp announced that the league would be organized at New Haven, when he will start a body of prominent New Haven business and professional men in a course of physical training. The league has been started by Mr. Camp at the request of many former college athletes who are over military age, but who are desirous of performing some kind of guard duty which ordinarily would have to be performed by the militia. The object of the new organization is to make the regular militia available for more important duties.

Mr. Camp stated that for the past few months he has been receiving several communications from former athletes between fifty and sixty years old asking if there was not some branch of the service where they could be useful. In the event of war it will be necessary to guard railroads, bridges and munition factories, and many men past military age believe that they can get into good enough physical shape to perform these duties.

The league will not be limited to college men, but will be open to all men between the ages of forty-five and sixty. Mr. Camp has mapped out a course of training, which he believes will be efficient and yet will not interfere with the members' routine business duties. The squad which went into training at New Haven will give up one morning hour a day at first—from 8 to 9—to walking and other exercises, which Mr. Camp will suggest. The plan is to take only light exercise at first, gradually working the men into shape until they are able to tramp fifteen or twenty miles a day without fatigue.

In the manufacturing cities such as New Haven and, in fact, all over New England, there will be a great amount of guard duty to perform, and Mr. Camp believes that if the older men, who have already shown much enthusiasm to do their "bit," can be worked up to proper physical condition the militia will be relieved of much of this home guard duty.

After the league gets under way in New Haven it is expected that the movement will be taken up quickly throughout the country.

BELIEVED DEAD FOUR YEARS.

Friend Now Says He Saw Marseau Recently.

Grass Valley, Cal.—Four years ago word came to the relatives of Peter Marseau that the young man had been killed by falling from a tower he had been repairing on the Mexican border.

The aged mother has thought her son dead, and all the rest of the family and friends held the same opinion until recently a letter was received from a friend of Albert Marseau stating that he had seen "Peter" at El Paso, where he was acting as interpreter for the government in connection with the military authorities.

ALL WEDDING GIFTS NOT BRIDE'S PROPERTY

New York.—Think of it, girls! A jury in New York decided that all wedding gifts do not belong to the bride nor does the wife own all the household effects. Mrs. Amy Philbrook Clark was suing to recover lots of things, including an automobile, all valued at $44,000, when the blow fell. She said when her husband brought action for divorce he put a new lock on the family safe.

News From the Bay.

(From the Coos Bay News.)

The number of pupils enrolled in North Bend schools up to the end of last week was 544. At the Marshfield schools the enrollment was 762.

E. W. Dunham, county probation officer, was on the bay last week and visited South along, where it was reported there were a number of children who were not attending school.

The special committee appointed by the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce reported at a meeting held Friday evening, that at least 150 new houses would be required on the bay to supply the demand.

The county court has decided to place a light on the South along bridge, to warn boats, scows, rafts, etc., so as to prevent damage to the concrete piling. Mrs. Dora Taylor has been employed to attend to the light.

Frank Terrace, who worked hard for the bond issue, was here from Tacoma, Wash., for a couple of days last week. He is still boosting for the coast military highway, and expresses confidence that it will be built in the not far distant future.

The new vessel building by Kruse & Banks for the C. A. Smith Co., will be called the C. A. Smith, and will be launched the end of the present month. The other Smith vessel was called the Johanna Smith in honor of Mrs. C. A. Smith.

Arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, of Oregon, which will be held in Marshfield on Sept. 27 and 28. Between 50 and 75 delegates, some of whom will bring their families, are expected to attend.

A number of teams from the Willamette Valley, which were employed on road work at various places in Coos county this summer, have quit and gone home. Road contractors who were in town Saturday said they were short of both teams and men.

Quite a number of Chinooks brought to the cold storage plants last week weighed between 40 and 50 pounds each. At 8 cents per pound a 40-pound salmon now brings the fisherman $3.20, while a few years ago the price at the canneries was 60c, and some years as low as 40c.

D. L. Foote, who skipped while his trial on the charge of bootlegging was under way at the Recorder's court recently, is said by some of his friends to be in California, it being given out on Thursday last that he had written to a friend from "somewhere" in Southern California.

Big Catches in Curry.

Sunday night the fall fishing season opened, and Monday both canneries on the Rogue river were overwhelmed with fish. Over 3,200 large Chinook were delivered to the Macleay cannery and about 2,000 at the Barnes cannery at the ferry. In all fully 125,000 pounds of fish were secured by the canneries.

To handle this large catch every available person was brought in to help, and the canneries were run with but short intermission, yet it was yesterday before the last of them were in the can.

Monday night a catch of 800 was secured at the Macleay cannery, and the Tramp being in port these fish were loaded on that vessel and taken on to Coquille. This relieved the congestion at the cannery here and enabled them to catch up with their work yesterday.

The price of fish is now 75 cents and $1, which is 25 cents lower than before, and as the run of fish is light most of the outside fishermen are leaving.

The two highest catches for the spring season for the W. T. Co. were made by Ike Smith and Sid Howell and by Ellis Robinson and Oscar Miller, each of the two outfits having caught over 2,000 fish for the season. The first named, using their own gear, got $1.25 per fish, the latter $1. Mr. Macleay made each of the men a present of a fine suit of clothes.

The best record on the river for pure gill net fishing is said to be held by the Hall boys at the ferry, fishing for the Barnes Co. They turned in over 2,000 fish.—Port Orford Tribune.

Largest Barn in the County.

Contractor C. H. Pearce went to Wedderburn a few days ago where he will draw up plans and help to construct what will probably be the largest barn in the county. The building is going up on the Macleay ranch, and will house 150 head of cattle. Under the management of W. T. White Jr. the Macleay farm has been bringing in excellent returns, $14,000 worth of beef cattle alone having been sold from it this summer, and now in order to give better facilities for handling the stock Mr. Macleay will have an immense barn built.—Port Orford Tribune.

It felt like fall sure enough this morning, with the mercury down to 45.

WEED Chain-Jack

Simply a few pulls on its chain and the heaviest car is raised or lowered without danger and without exertion.

Every motorist has dreaded using the ordinary jack—an unpleasant operation, to say the least, and constantly fraught with danger and much tiresome work. Now all the unpleasant, disagreeable features have been entirely eliminated by the Weed Chain-Jack. With it, whether raising or lowering the car, you are always out of harm's way—No knocking of head, or soiling of clothes against springs or other projections—No skidding of wheels or flying up of a "handle"—No chance of the car coming down, often resulting in serious bodily injury—Infinitely easier to operate than any jack on the market.

To operate a Weed Chain-Jack it is not necessary to get down in a cramped, strained position and grovel in mud, grease or dirt under a car to work a "handle" that is apt to fly up with unpleasant results. To lift a car with the Weed Chain-Jack, simply give a few pulls on its endless chain which has stand steel—free from springs, tire carriers and other projections. To lower a car, pull the chain in opposite direction, up or down—there's no labor.

You will never be satisfied with any other if once you use a

Weed Chain-Jack

Powerful—Safe—Easily Operated

Use a strong one, providing the kind of support from which an axle will not slip, while a broad base prevents the jack from upsetting on uneven roads. Every Weed Chain-Jack is submitted to a lifting test and will support over twice the weight it is ever required to lift. Never gets out of order. Gears and chain wheels protected by a stamped-steel housing. Chain heavily plated to prevent rusting.

Size	Height When Lowered	Height When Raised	Height When Raised with Auxiliary Bar It.
8 inch	8 inches	12 1/2 inches	16 1/2 inches
10 inch	10 inches	14 1/2 inches	19 inches
12 inch	12 inches	16 1/2 inches	No Aux. Bar
12 inch Truck	12 inches	19 1/2 inches	No Aux. Bar

The 8 inch and 10 inch sizes are made with an auxiliary step as illustrated above. When in operative position this step adds two inches to the height of the Jack.

Cleaning Tinted Bellows.
More often than not the calling will have black spots over the radiators and gas jets, while the other parts will still be clean. Try this method of cleaning the soiled spots: With a very soft cloth remove all the loose dirt, wiping always in one direction. Then dip a soft, dry cloth into some of the dry calcimine powder of the same shade as the ceiling, finish and rub gently, stroking away from the wall and toward the center and renewing the powder dressing occasionally.
