

THE BANK IS SOLD

Flanagan & Bennett Institution at Myrtle Point Bought by J. A. Black.

Sept. 12, 1917
To the Depositors of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point, and to the People of Coos County:

The undersigned, Jas. H. Flanagan, and the J. W. Bennett Estate have sold all of their stock in the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point to Mr. J. A. Black, and we feel that we owe our appreciation to the people of Myrtle Point and the surrounding territory for many years of kindly and successful business relations with them. After the sale of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Marshfield to the Bank of Southwestern Oregon we felt that the next logical step to take was the sale of the stock of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point, but we did not care to trust the money of the good people of this community who have made us custodians of their property, to anyone we could not unhesitatingly recommend as a person who merited their continued confidence. Our first concern was for the welfare of our friends and depositors and it was our earnest desire that our depositors' interests be fully and amply protected before we considered ourselves in the matter. In selling out to Mr. Black and his associates we feel that we have fulfilled our entire obligation to our depositors and to the community as we know Mr. Black to be kindly, conscientious and thoroughly responsible man. He is a man who has had various experience being at one time President of the Bank of Drain and having conducted a successful banking business while that institution was under his control. Mr. Black was engaged in the sawmill business, timber business, general merchandise business, real estate and cattle raising. He is a successful banker and business man and is one of considerable means. He will be a decided advantage to the community and will spend his time and will make his home in Myrtle Point. In turning over the management of the affairs of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point to Mr. Black we feel that the interests of our former friends and depositors will be carefully and conscientiously guarded and we are satisfied that any business dealings which the people of the community may hereafter have with the new management of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point will always be carried on with the same degree of interest and fair dealing as has characterized the business of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point in the past. The active affairs of the bank will be managed by the new Board of Directors consisting of Mr. Black, A. E. Adelsperger, and R. C. Dement. Certainly Mr. Adelsperger and Mr. Dement need no introduction to the people of Coos County as Mr. Adelsperger has long been prominent in the most important industry of Coos County—lumber. Mr. R. C. Dement, the other director, has lived in Coos County longer than any other living white man and for us to attempt to pay any tribute to this kindly conscientious and conservative citizen would be but reiterating facts which probably every reader of this article knows by personal experience with Mr. Dement.

Neither Mr. Flanagan, the President of Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point, or Mr. T. T. Bennett, the Vice President and son of the late J. W. Bennett, was in a position to give to the affairs of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point the personal attention which we felt that such a concern merited. If the reader of this article will pardon us a personal word we would say that Mr. Flanagan will continue as Manager of the Coos Bay Water Company and of the Flanagan Estate, and Mr. T. T. Bennett will continue in the practice of the law, following the profession of his father, Mr. J. W. Bennett. Every dollar of the Bennett interests is invested in Coos County and will continue to remain here and both Mr. Flanagan and Mr. Bennett were born on Coos Bay and intend to remain citizens of this county.

One word in regard to the affairs of the Bennett & Flanagan Bank of Myrtle Point. It is a novel institution at the present time in some ways, probably due to the fact that it carries such a large cash reserve. At the present time its deposits are $146,500.00, and its cash and exchanges amount to $84,900.00, a reserve about four times greater than that required by the banking laws of the State of Oregon. The Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point was a banking corporation organized under the banking laws of the State of Oregon, and was a separate and distinct institution from the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Marshfield, although the management of both banks was for many years the same. However, the Flanagan & Bennett Bank of Myrtle Point will continue to follow the same as before, only the ownership of the stock in the corporation and the management of the affairs of the bank have changed.

We again thank the good people of this community for your generous patronage in the past and we recommend Mr. Black and his associates to you as being worthy of your confidence and patronage for the future.

Respectfully yours,
JAS. H. FLANAGAN

Two Pounds Made From One.

The following from the Humboldt Times, is sent us by Mrs. M. P. Jacobson, who says she has tried the recipe and is enthusiastic over it:

Anything that will cut the price of living and at the same time conserve the national supply of food is sure of a hearty welcome by the housewives of the entire country. The following recipe will cut the butter consumption in half and will materially reduce the cost to the individual housewife. It has already become quite popular with the women of San Francisco and will doubtless receive a trial from the women of Humboldt:

Place one-half cup of good, rich milk on the range and let scald. Permit to stand until lukewarm. Then add one-fourth pound of unmeasured butter cut into small squares, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-eighth dandelion butter color. Beat with an egg beater until the milk has entirely disappeared. Make into a patty and set aside to cool. The resulting pat when firmly set tastes exactly like fresh ranch butter and is double the amount of the actual butter used.

The coloring used is purely for appearance—the product being quite as palatable in the pale color. The coloring can be obtained at any drug store for twenty-five cents and will last the purchaser an indefinite time, or be made to serve several families.

Mrs. J. P. Mahan recently returned from a visit to San Francisco and the bay cities and found the women of that section using the recipe with such marked success that it seemed worth trying here. Those who have already tried it in Eureka are enthusiastic over the result.

Believes It Right to Kill.

Speaking of the case of James Burns, who is in jail here on trial for murder, the Coos Bay Harbor says:

While he will not talk about the case Jim Burns, charged with killing his crippled boy, calmly waits the time when he will be haled into court and tried for murder. He seems to think that, as the boy was a cripple and unable to take care of himself it was his given right to put him out of the way. The boy was found dead in the woods near the Burns cabin back of Empire, and the circumstances pointed directly to the father as the murderer. He was placed in jail and held for trial in October.

A few years ago Burns' father jumped into the river and was drowned when he had a high fever, which it is believed was done to get rid of himself because he realized that he was a care to his relatives.

Bandon Creamery Sold.

A deal was completed a few days ago, says the Bandon World, whereby the Bandon Beach Creamery became the property of the T. S. Townsend Creamery Co., of Portland, operating a chain of creameries throughout Oregon.

H. B. Warner, former owner of the plant, will remain for the present at least as local manager, and will conduct the business as heretofore, excepting that he will pay the dairymen for their cream each day. The deal was completed by Supt. W. F. Hardison, who is in charge of the Townsend interests outside of Portland.

Will Keep Milk Coming.

We are informed that this year the ranchers will make a greater effort than ever to keep the milk flowing all winter, says the Coos Bay Harbor. Heretofore it has been the practice with some at least to quit milking soon after green feed is most gone and to permit the cows to spend the winter in the woods where they feed on whatever may be found. With numerous silos built during the summer it is believed that creameries and the condenser at this place will be kept busy all winter. The prices paid for milk at this time were never better.

People Speak Well of Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBride, Hordford, Ont. "If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good."

The Secret of His Success.

Game Warden J. M. Thomas, of this district, talking about his experience in the Oregon Sparrows, gives this as one of the reasons he has been so successful in getting on to the trail of lawbreakers:

I went all over the country the first two months and got the different ideas and opinions of the more law-abiding class, and asked them to help me where convenient, and on the promise not to mention their names, many of the best citizens in the state promised me their support. But, of course, their promises did not satisfy me as I thought this may only be to pacify me at the time, but I must say I began to be surprised at time went on. Not only did these people give me information, but others that I had not heard of fell in line, saying such a person had told them, and when I came to investigate this information I found it true in every case, and the wilful violator wonders how I find these things out as I am after him as soon as the complaint comes in.

New Brand of Beans.

N. F. Woodcock has grown some beans in his garden in Port Orford that have attracted considerable attention, says the Tribune of that place. He planted eight rows of bayou beans and then just a short distance north of them he planted three rows of the Manchurian variety. And now in harvesting his crop Mr. Woodcock finds that in his eight rows he has just three hills of bayou beans, the rest being in two distinct varieties—one red and white and the other purple and white. It is believed the prevailing wind being from the north blew the pollen from the Manchurian vines onto the bayou plants until it inoculated them and caused them to produce a different bean. The fresh bean yielded well and is of excellent quality, and Mr. Woodcock says that next year he is going to do a little Luther Burbank work and experiment further along the line of his discovery as he thinks the bean he now has is better than either of the original varieties.

Boutin Sells 40 Million Feet.

Purchase of forty million feet of timber from Frank Boutin by the Moore Mill & Lumber Co., of Bandon, is reported by Geo. W. Moore, vice-president and manager of the mill.

The timber taken adjoins that which the company is already cutting in section 18, 27, and 19 and cutting on the new area is already underway. No new camps will be opened since the location makes possible handling of the new material from the old camp.

This week for the first time spruce is being cut at the Bandon mill according to government specifications and spruce for airplane construction will be the major part of the lumber produced this fall and through the winter by the Bandon mill.

Stuck His Finger in Bottle.

From the Coos Bay Times report of the Fred Gross trial at North Bend Monday we quote the following interesting paragraph:

By order of the Court, Sheriff Gage then opened a bottle of the liquor, and put his finger into the neck, afterwards sucking it. He admitted that it tasted like whiskey and, amidst laughter, said he could not swear as to the quality, McKnight interposing with a remark that Sheriff Gage probably knew good whiskey when he tasted it.

Peirces to Go to Europe.

On his return from a recent trip in the northern end of the county Surveyor Canfield informed us that Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Peirce were preparing to enter the service of the nation for the war, the former to offer his services to the engineer corps and the latter to the Red Cross. Now comes word that they have already rented their ranch and made application for service with both the American and Canadian forces, so that if this county fails to take them they will go with the Canadians.—Gold Beach Reporter.

Jan. Kibbe, of Kestada, was arrested Monday night for enticing two daughters of John Middleton into his bachelor quarters late at night. The girls are 13 and 15 years of age, and got away from home by using a ladder placed at their bedroom window. Kibbe, who is about 31 years old, is sometimes called Lawton and is said to be a deserter from the United States navy.

Experiences the Best Teacher.

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for these diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.

NOTICE OF FINAL ACCOUNT.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed his final account: 22nd, 1917, at the hour of ten o'clock as administrator of the estate of Thomas T. Is Your Money Supporting the Government

At this critical period in our history our manufacturers are offering their mills, and our young men are offering their services to the United States Government.

Would you like to do your share and help by putting your money where it will support the new Federal Reserve Banking System, which the Government has established to stand back of our commerce, industry and agriculture?

You can do this by opening an account with us, as part of every dollar so deposited goes directly into the new system, where it will always be ready for you when wanted.
