SLES THE YEAR.

Long and Useful Carerr Judge Harlocker Comes To a Close Tuesday.

this city at 9:30 To Even then many remained standing outside. The chancel and the chancel rall for its length were banked with plays we had ever seen.

The exercises began with the singing of that wonderful hymn "Nearer My God, to Thee," by the full church choir. This was followed with prayer by Rev. S. C. Rogers, the new pasa brief sermon by Mr. Downs, in five years. At the same time he favwhich he paid a fine tribute to the sterling character and many virtues of him who has gone from us. Mr. Downs stated that in the two years he like the state of the Coquille to Bandon road.

Mr. Murdock also says that the Downs stated that in the two years he had been meeting Judge Harlocker he had never heard him utter an unkind word of any human being; nor had he ever heard any man, woman or child say anything but good of the

On that bright and still early Ocrespect to the memory of the departed and Nature herself seemed to have hushed every murmur, the procession formed for the last earthly journey this kind without close investigation of the fire limits when thus protected. of the dead, the Masonic cemetery out on the foothills of the valley.

The honorary pall bearers were: J. S. Lawrence and A. J. Sherwood, of this city; Col. R. H. Rosa and Stephen Writing from Eugene on a "Greater Gallier, of Bandon; R. C. Dement, of Oregon Club" letter head, Chas. A.

The exercises at the cemetery were in charge of the local Odd Fellows, of which the Judge had been a member longer than all except one or two, he having joined on February 14th, 1884, a third of a century ago.

Lintner Harlocker was born in Calumbus, Ohio, July 14, 1848, and lived to be a little over 69 years of age.

While a boy he developed a robust constitution by out door life on the farm in Ohio and Wisconsin; and at

O. C. Sanford, Sec.-Treas. the age of seventeen, on January 28,

E. P. Lewis, J. D. Carl, Norway, E. R. Fish, Sandon, W. E. Higelow, Myrtle Point, W. E. Higelow, Myrtle Point, dwin D. Yoskam, C.

E. H. Boyle, Bandon

SHOULD HAVE

the difference in interest between ar most beautiful and effective floral disn trestle that cannot be perman and one of $18,000 in a gravelled roadway in the new road to be constru from Coquille to Fat Elk across the willow land bottoms south of town, would be cheaply bought by the in-convenience of dispensing with the use of the road for a few days once in first class condition and that improve-ment would put it in shape for travel Mayor Johnson said that Fire Wartober afternoon, when the city's business houses were generally closed in fact, the section asked for was not

Still Boosting For Home Town

Myrtle Point; and John F. Hall, of Howard, formerly at the head of our city schools, tells us that one of the first things he did after reaching that Hazard, E. E. Johnson, James Watson, Samuel Nosler, O. C. Sanford and
C. J. Fuhrman. high school there, of which he is dent, started off with an attendance of 450 boys and girls.

Time to Come Across.

The last payment on subscription to the Red Cross is now due and al

Along the same line he figures that ed up as per contract and on some of the difference in interest between an the roadways the plants are loose and will have to be spiked down before the improvement is accepted.

There being a number of delinstreet assessments for improve proceed with the collection of the manner provided by law.

The need of a revision of the city's a result of the announcement that J.

A. Collier desired to improve the building occupied by the Coquille Hardware Co. Under the ordin an improvement costing more than 20 per cent of the value of the building can not be made on frame-buildi within the fire limits, nor can frame buildings be erected within these lim-

buildings protected by the overhead

Several instances have been cited where old shacks would already have been replaced with new and modern buildings if wood construction had been permitted, but where the cost of brick or concrete was prohibitive. Pro-tection against fire is most accessary but if frame bildings can be made safe by the histaliation of an overhead

The Honor Guard Girls are going to give a Japanese Tea at Masonic Hall tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon from 3 o'clock on and into the evening. Everybody is urgently invited to attend. Tea and wafers 10 cents, calle extra. The receipts go towards the Honor Guard's subscription to the Red Cross fund. Don't miss this. Byerstedy will be there ting Report of the Part Played By Coos.

nal as to make the transformation in outline the same as last year, with a stretch of unfading green corn having its roots in a trough of water inked across the back of the exhibit And in arranging it care was taken that none of the numerous ears should The sile at the cou-be hidden but that all should hang in ported about finished.

revealed that it was only patches

black cloth so splotchily outlined and so carelessly scattered over the ani-

Of course, in her splendid myrtle wood display and her fine coal exhiing to the ends of the booth was a last article moved was the sign on row of alternating bottles of milk and the door. ombs of honey, the whole surmounted by the legend, "Coos County, a land of milk and honey."

The prises taken by the Coos coun-ty exhibit were $100 for the first prize son and Coos counties, though, that in the coast district and $100 sweepa prise for "the county best featuring its principal resources." Some people Sept. 26 to serve a five months' senseem to have understood that this sweepstakes prize was for the district; it actually was for the whole state, and winning it indicates that our resources were more extensive and better dislayed than those of any other county among the thirty odd in Orecounty among the thirty odd in Oreco ome very near paying all the ex-

One feature of the general state railbit that attracted much attention to rae a display of 762 quart jars of b ruit canned by a fourteen-year old in this shout 700 of which were pro-

having won the trip as a prise for her exhibit in the Industrial School section at the Coos-Curry fair last

W. H. Dancer, of Myrtle Point, won hird prize on honey in the state ex-

Louis Simpson's Helstein buil took the fourth prise, but as the first three

by remember "little nister" and DOINGS AT THE simulate their favorites. But Lampa. Such a road is much to be desired and would shorten the distance between Marshfield and Bandon overheard this. It was proof or onstruction of a costly bridge across the Coquille it was evident that nothing could be done just now towards complying with the request.

Powers is still urgently insisting on the necessity of a new bridge to counect North Powers with the main

The viewers will next Monday go over the Coquille-Bandon road as surveyed to fix the property damages involved in the changes to be made in the route down the river.

The sile at the county farm is re

The six weeks extension that E. G. Perham was given for the completion of his first contract north from the bees moving about over the combs inside, which attracted attention as the moving of that office to the room

> The sheriff's office is receiving about those thus stolen. 1000 a day now on the personal taxes for 1917, which the law says shall be this law is being enforced.

Cecil Reimert, steward of the Steamer Bandon, was brought up here Sept. 26 to serve a five months' sentence in jail—and 200 days more if the fails to pay his $400 fine. Sheriff Gage started Wednesday evening for the installation of transformers and the necessary connections here in town are all that remain to be done to give

C. H. Corey, of the Oregon Public

Hark Arrested Twice in One Day at the Bay for Playing the

Can you imagine anyone mistaking Hark Dunham, of Coquille, county probation officer and typical old ptthe Bandon World. It's a most ridiculous thing yet the still that is just what hap to place her in care of the landlady. COURT HOUSE ish it. Just what happened Hark didn't quite explain, but Mr. Hakshaw old gentiman on the shoulder. "You are under arrest," he said, and they started towards the jail. Hark remonstrated, trying to explain, but nothing doing. So he marched along with his captor until fortunately they met Jack Carter, chief of police. Hark got the horse-laugh, but the real joke was on the detective, and being a good sport he ordered up the cigars.

Now Hark is trying to figure out some way of making himself look old and dignified. He says it isn't safe to look like a lady killer when you're hangin' around Marshfield.

Worse Than Vandalism.

They are worse than vandalsbit Coos had taking features which no other county could rival, but another effective device did much to emphasize Coos county's chief farm product. Towards the front and in the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a beehive with the center of the booth was a been stealing the lamps with red globes plated at danger points on the Coquille-Myrtle Point road, during the progress of the work there. The red globes are taken off and smashed and the lamps stolen. leaving no warning signal and endansomething alive always does. Flanking this on the either side and reachclerk's office yesterday afternoon. The
to be shot at sight. The county has gering the lives of all who travel that been at the expense of buying a couple of dozen additional lamps to replace

Will Finish it Next Week.

Manager McKenna says that unless something unforeseen happens Co-quille will be connected by the new high power line with the big plant at Marshfield by next Saturday, Oct. 18. Coquille a larger supply of juice than we have heretofore had available.

Come Out Tonight.

Every member of the Cor Service Commission, was here Wednesday for a hearing on the applica-tion of the Smith Timber company for boom privileges on the Coquille below valley and Coos county, is request to be present at a special meeting be held at the city hast this events and will no dealst be favorable.