The Norton-Price Nuptials.

A very happy event was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Norton last Saturday at 2:30 p. m., when their son, Harry Stewart Norton, was united in marriage to Miss Beulah Price, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Price.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. McVeigh, of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties and about twenty-five invited guests, the ring service being used. Mrs. M. O. Hawkins, at the piano, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The rooms were beautifully decorated and the ceremony was performed under an arbor of ivy and flowering vines.

The bride was handsomely attired in a blue travelling suit with hat to match, while the groom wore blue serge.

Following the congratulations of the happy pair a sumptuous wedding dinner was served, but without the presence of the bride and groom, who left immediately in an auto for Beaver Hill where they caught the afternoon train for Marshfield. The hasty departure was decided upon to escape the carrying out of dire threats made by the younger members of the assemblage concerning the peace and happiness of the groom.

Many and beautiful were the presents received by the young people, being mostly of silver and hand painted china.

Mr. Norton is a young man of sterling character, well-liked by all who know him and is in the employ of the Coquille Valley Mercantile Co. His bride is a lady of grace and charm and a universal favorite. Both are graduates of the Coquille high school, where their romance may be said to have begun. The Sentinel joins with a large host of friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

The newly weds returned from a short honeymoon over at the Bay Tuesday evening and are temporarily living with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sharkey until the rooms they will occupy on Front street are ready for them.

Will Organize Loyal Legion.

The Loyal Legion, a ladies' auxiliary of the Loyal Order of Moose has been organized here and the lodge and officers will be installed at the M. W. A. hall next Wednesday evening, Oct. 10.

Mrs. Aaron Wilson was appointed by the Moose to act as organizer of the Loyal Legion and she easily secured the number requisite for a charter. The Moose also appointed a committee to take charge of the installation affair next Wednesday and this committee is preparing for a banquet and social affair after the ceremony.

The Bandon lodge has been invited to perform the installation as they have a large lodge and are thoroughly familiar with the work.

Gimlet Club Meets.

The "Gimlet Club"—so designated by Aaron Wilson—met at the residence of J. E. Norton Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. Norton's forty-third birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and conversation. Mr. Norton has the distinction of being the youngest-looking, if not actually the youngest, grandfather in Coquille, he now having a grandchild three years of age. Those present beside Mr. and Mrs. Norton were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Nosler and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wilson.

Books, Books, Books.

A large variety of school books in good condition at Quirk's.

Modern Woodmen Drive.

The Modern Woodmen of America held an important meeting last Tuesday night, at which they voted unanimously in favor of the Patriotic Fund of 20 cents a thousand of insurance carried. This fund is created to make certain that every claim against the Woodmen due to the war in Europe is paid in full.

Another matter of much importance locally was the enthusiastic decision to engage in a Booster Campaign under the direction and with the assistance of District Deputy John A. Eggers. It is probable that every camp in the county will participate, four having already agreed to do so, and a monster Class Adoption for the whole county will be held in Coquille some time in November.

It is planned to hold a drill contest between the Forester teams of the county, and other sports in the afternoon, while the evening will be devoted to the secret work and a big banquet.

One or two of the lodge heads of fairs will be here to make addresses and the day will be one to be remembered.

Mr. Eggers has offered a fine list of prizes for drill work and for individual effort in securing new members and the work of the campaign is starting off with a rush.

At the conclusion of the session last Tuesday a hearty banquet was served to which the members and visiting neighbors did full justice. The menu consisted of omelet on the cob, sandwiches, doughnuts, pickles, salads, baked apples, cake and coffee.

Heard Gerard at Portland.

While at Portland last Monday Raymond E. Baker tells us he had the opportunity of listening to one of the wonderfully instructive and patriotically enthralling speeches that James W. Gerard, our last ambassador to Germany, is making during his western tour. We can give only one striking incident among the many he narrates. When a company from one of the armies of our allies made an advance somewhere in France and came to occupy a town the Germans had just vacated they found six of their own members nailed up on the walls of a building where they had been crucified by the diabolically fiendish Huns. Then and there the rest of that company took a solemn oath not to take another prisoner alive. That company has been in many attacks since and they have become a terror to the Germans who have learned that no one lives who falls into their hands.

Will Remodel Store Building.

J. A. Collier expects to begin this week the remodeling of the store building occupied by the Coquille Hardware Co. As rearranged the building will be L shaped with a front on both Front and Willard streets. The rear of the building will be raised and the entire building will be under one roof instead of two as at present.

A plate glass front will be installed for the Front street entrance and the front there now will be moved around to the Willard street entrance. The rearrangement will give the hardware company more room, better accommodations and will make a marked improvement in the appearance of that corner.

Sour Stomach.

Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, abstain from meat for a few days and in most cases the sour stomach will disappear. If it does not, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Red men are most likely to cause sour stomachs and you may find it best to cut them out.

Red Cross Notes.

There will be a meeting next Thursday evening of the Red Cross organization, at the Ladies room opposite the postoffice at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of re-organizing the local auxiliary. Everyone interested is invited to be present.

The work under construction at the work rooms over the First National Bank is progressing smoothly. The ladies are faithful in their attendance and painstaking in their efforts, as will be seen in the following flattering notice which appeared in a recent issue of the Coos Bay Times:

Coquille sent the Marshfield work room a splendid sample of their work this week. In fact, all the work sent in from outside towns is splendid according to Mrs. Dindinger, who oversees the inspection of every garment before it is forwarded to Seattle for shipment.

The J. G. W. club will hold a cooked food sale Saturday morning, Oct. 6, at Lamb and Von Peger's, the proceeds from which will be donated to the Red Cross society.

The Honor Guard girls invite their friends to a Japanese tea Saturday afternoon, Oct. 6, at Masonic hall for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Myrtle Wood Makes a Hit.

J. H. Oerding and son, William, returned the first of the week from Salem where Oerding & Sons had a myrtle wood exhibit at the state fair. Mr. Oerding is very enthusiastic over the reception they were accorded out there and believes the advertising thus secured will be of far-reaching benefit, not only to themselves, but in bringing to the attention of outsiders the wonderful assortment of resources of Coos county.

As an indication of the interest taken in the myrtle wood, Mr. Oerding says that he looked in vain for even one of the circulars, which they distributed from their booth, that had been thrown away, while other advertising literature littered the floor and grounds.

The sales at the fair nearly paid the expenses of the trip, but Mr. Oerding is convinced that the advertising is worth many times what it cost. Just now the factory is loaded with Christmas orders and has a sufficient blast to keep them running full blast until that date without the new ones which every mail is bringing.

Mr. Oerding was urged to bring a myrtle display to the Manufacturers and Land Products show at Portland for three weeks during November. He is considering the matter and has taken up the question of Commercial Club assistance with the officers of the club. A special meeting of the club will be held this evening to discuss this and another important matter. All members are requested to be present.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Coquille high school and faculty held October 3, 1917, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has removed from this community our associate and friend, Mr. L. Harlocker,

Be it resolved: That in his passing on this community and schools have sustained a severe loss. That his upright life and character has been one of the highest types of manhood. That in his work and social life has been felt an influence for honest living, affording an example worthy of emulation. That we deeply sympathize with his wife and children in their great loss and commend them to the One who doeth all things well.

And be it further resolved: That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this High School, printed in the Coquille Valley Sentinel, and a copy sent to Mrs. Harlocker and family.

Committee: Maymie DeLong, Gordon Hanscom, Genevieve Chase, Miss Ada May Newell.

Don't Wait Till the Last Minute.

It's got so that everybody who has anything for the Sentinel seems to have concluded that late Thursday afternoon is ample time to get anything in the paper, and we could more easily fill two papers Thursday evening and Friday morning than a single column earlier in the week. There are physical limitations though to the amount of work we can do in the 24 hours prior to going to press and much copy that comes to hand then must be left out.

Methodist Church.

The pastor, Rev. S. G. Rogers, will preach both morning and evening next Sunday. The subject of the morning service is: "The Christian's Loyalty." Evening: "What is Religion?"

The Sunday Schools will meet in their usual places next Sunday. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

Choir practice Thursday evening.

HE PASSED AWAY.

1895, he enlisted in the Union army, becoming a member of the 47th Wisconsin volunteer infantry. He served under General Thomas in Tennessee during the closing months of the war and was honorably discharged in August of the same year. Four years later in 1899 he decided to try his fortunes in the west and emigrated to California. He remained in Sonoma county until 1911, and then came up to the Coquille Valley and located on a farm of 170 acres three miles above this city. After working some time on the main line of the Oregon & California railroad in Yashill county, he came back here in 1873 and homesteaded a quarter section three and a half miles above this city, where he continued to live for the next ten years.

In 1882 he was elected assessor of Coos county and after two terms in that office in 1886 he was elected sheriff, holding that office also for two terms. The county seat was then at Empire where he lived during his incumbency of that office and where he had some unpleasant duties to perform.

Coming back to Coquille in 1890 he was appointed postmaster here and filled that office during a four-year term. Then he became station agent at the depot here for three years and in 1897 he was elected county judge, a position he held for two four-year terms closing in 1908.

Since then he has devoted himself largely to his private interests, having invested in several hundred acres of river bottom and willow land down towards Riverton. But he was still frequently called upon to fill various public positions and was one of the county road viewers when incapacitated by sickness and also a member of the grand jury up to the time of his death.

To have performed the varied and exacting duties of the many public positions he held to the satisfaction of his constituents and to have been re-elected to office time and again and still have retained the confidence, affection and esteem of the people of the county and of his home city, as fully as Judge Harlocker did, indicates the possession of unusual abilities and of an evenly balanced temperament. Indeed in all the relations of life Judge Harlocker has acquitted himself as a man without fear and without reproach and left to his children that best inheritance, an unswerving name and the good will of all who knew him.

While filling the office of sheriff on August 4, 1889, he was united in marriage to Miss Fannie J. Coke, daughter of John S. Coke, and sister of Judge John S. Coke. Of this union there have been born six children, Mary Emily (now Mrs. F. E. McKenna), Charles Stephen, Frank Jones, Edna Cynthia, Hugh and Fred Lintner.

Judge Harlocker was one of those men who kept everlastingly at it and always found something to do. Indeed, although almost three score and ten he worked through the summer this year clearing up willow land on his place down the river with his own hands; and when illness laid him low a month ago he was engaged in hauling his winter's fuel, doing all the work with his own hands. It may, indeed, be said of him that he died in the harness.

In a quiet wedding at the old Thrift home at Langlois, Miss Jeannette Gibson became the bride of Mr. E. B. Thrift.—Port Orford Tribune.
