Methodist Ladies Aid Merger.

The Ladies Aid and Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church met in joint session Thursday p. m. at the home of Mrs. Richmond. The object was to unite the two societies. They united under the name of "Ladies Aid of the Methodist church." The society will have a missionary department which will meet every third Thursday of each month.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. T. Noser; Vice President, Mrs. W. H. Lyons; Sec., Mrs. J. A. Richmond; Treas., Mrs. E. E. Fraedrick.

In the Missionary department the following officers were chosen: Supt., Mrs. J. S. Lawrence; Sec., Mrs. H. O. Anderson; Treas., Mrs. J. Pope.

The society adjourned to meet in the church work rooms for work, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 25, at 1:30 p. m. Georgia G. Richmond, Sec.

Mrs. Sanford the Hostess.

The "500" club and a few additional guests were most pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. O. C. Sanford last Tuesday evening. After the usual number of games had been played the hostess served delicious refreshments to which the guests did full justice with numerous exclamations of Oh's and Ah's.

Mrs. Allen Collier made high score, winning the club prize a beautiful vase.

The living rooms were bedecked with Nature's creations—autumn leaves, of varied tints—while in the dining room the always popular cosmos was in evidence.

At a late hour the ladies reluctantly bid their charming hostess goodnight.

Pleasant Autumnal Party.

At the James Laird home last Saturday evening the Misses Winifred Spencer and Emma Kennedy were hostesses at a delightful autumnal party. Massed autumn leaves in gorgeous hues, with bowls of naturiums adorned the living rooms. Music and unique games, interspersed with the toasting of marshmallows, provided jolly entertainment for all, followed by the serving of delicious refreshments typical of autumn.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Chase, Almack, Laird, the Misses Bay, Allen, Anderson, Sweet, Mulkey, Treadgold, Fitzgerald, Newell, Spencer and Kennedy and Messrs. Noblet and Douglas.

Cochran-Hamblock.

It was a happy event at the M. E. parsonage here Tuesday morning, when at 10:30 Rev. S. G. Rogers said the words that made Earl Cochran and Miss Bonnie Hamblock, of Parkersburg, man and wife.

The friends and relatives present to witness the ceremony were J. B. Hamblock and Jesse Hamblock, father and brother of the bride, J. E. Cochran, brother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Drane. The Sentinel joins their many friends in congratulations and best wishes to this fine young couple. May they live long and prosper.

Gave Them a Raw Deal.

We hear much criticism of the Southern Pacific people for failing to give the Marshfield people notice of a change in their methods there. The Coos Bay Limited stops "up town" at Broadway to permit passengers to get off; but last Saturday about two dozen people who were on hand there with their baggage to come to Coquille and Myrtle Point were refused an opportunity to board the train as they had been in the habit of doing there ever since the train had been running. The rule that passengers must go to the depot to board the train was put in force without any previous notice, with the result that a bunch of people couldn't find any sort of conveyance to take their baggage to the depot and were unable to take the trip as they had intended. We are sure the managers of the road never intended the new rule to be enforced in any such arbitrary fashion and with so much inconvenience to the travelling public; but somebody did a mighty thoughtless and unpopular act in putting such a rule into force without a moment's notice.

Permits Increased Rates.

Under date of Oct. 15, the Public Service Commission of Oregon furnishes the Sentinel a copy of the order made in the case of the recent application of the Coos and Curry Telephone company for permission to increase its rates in cases where private farmer lines connect with city systems.

The application for general increases in charges at Coquille and in the valley had recently been waived by the company, so that the only thing the commission had to pass upon at this time was the request for authority to charge 50 cents per month where connections were made between farmers' lines and the city systems at Bandon, Marshfield and North Bend. The order made by the Commission grants permission to make such additional charges at those three cities; but no change whatever is made in any of the prevailing rates in the Coquille valley outside of Bandon. We should worry.

Marriage Licenses.

Oct. 12—Charles E. Jackson and Helen W. Robertson.

Oct. 13—Carl Coleman Cochran and Bonnie Hamblock.

Oct. 16—Luc G. Hinkley and Mary J. Sheriff.

Oct. 16—Charles Emil Brown and Jessie G. Kinney.

CORN AND POTATO SHOW

The following about the third Annual Corn and Potato Show here on Nov. 17 was prepared by County Agent Smith for the "Agricultural Bulletin," a publication he issues monthly. In this connection it would be well to state that no one is barred from competing for the prizes offered. Farmers or city gardeners are alike eligible.

In cooperation with the Coquille Commercial Club we are arranging to pull off the big annual event of the year on Saturday, Nov. 17, (one day only) at Coquille.

It is our plan this year to make it a Corn and Potato Show instead of corn alone as in the past two years. We intend to spring some new stunts this year, which you better not miss.

The Coquille band will be all keyed up at the head of the procession; the famous Corn-fed Canaries will warble the same old sweet songs and may be a few new ones. Other corn clowns will also cut capers and carry on.

Don't forget to bring your "shuckin' peg" for the corn shuckin' contest "down at the huskin' bee;" also you better have your best gal with you that night for the old time barn dance which will be about at the "End of a Perfect Day," Saturday, Nov. 17, 1917, in the Masonic Hall, Coquille, Oregon.

RULES

All weights and measurements concerning yields in this contest must be certified to by witnesses, not related to the grower, who assisted in the weighing of the yield and in the measuring of the land. Each grower may make one entry of each variety of corn and potatoes which he may have Name of variety and grower's name should be marked plainly on each entry.

All exhibits for the Corn and Potato Show at Coquille, Nov. 17, will be assembled not later than Nov. 15 at the following places:
Exhibits from Coos Bay Dist. make entry at Marshfield Chamber of Commerce.

Those from Myrtle Point Dist. make entry at the Pacific Drug Store, and those from Coquille Dist. enter at County Agent's office.

There will be a corn and spud specialist here from O. A. C. to judge the exhibits at the show and to lecture on such crops.

The corn and potato crop is very good in this county this year and we hope each farmer will be interested to help make this show a success by entering his samples not alone with the idea of winning a prize but to try to find out how his corn and potatoes compare with those of his neighbors and to learn if there might possibly be a chance of his picking up some new ideas, which may help him to improve in a few points with these two important crops next year.

In selecting specimens for the Corn and Potato Show it would be well to remember that the biggest is not always the best, although it might be possible in some instances. Specimens which are well matured, uniform in type, sound and free from disease are the main points you must keep in mind in selecting your stuff if you want to make a hit with the judge.

Visits Old Home.

Mrs. Tom Dimmick, of Coquille, is visiting friends in Gardiner and Scottsburg this week. Mrs. Dimmick is an old resident of Scottsburg, being the daughter of Mr. Lyons, who published the Gazette at Scottsburg in the early sixties, the first newspaper in the Lower Umpqua country. The Lyons family also conducted a hotel at that town in the early days. At that time Scottsburg was one of the most important points in Oregon, where packers outfitted and packed goods and provisions to extreme points in Southern Oregon. Mrs. Dimmick and Mrs. Henry Wade were children and schoolmates together at Scottsburg in those days, and seeing them with each other today one would judge that the past years are resting very lightly on their shoulders.—Umpqua Courier.
