The ladies of the Aid Society of the Methodist church will serve a chicken dinner noon and evening on Saturday, Nov. 17, Corn Show day, at the church opposite the court house.

Last Friday Fred Gross, who was serving a term in the county jail here for bootlegging, made his getaway while engaged in work at the Norway cut on county road work.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will have a cooked food sale at Anderson's store Saturday, Nov. 3. Will have chicken pie as well as other good home cooked things.

The smoke and fog together on recent mornings has exactly filled the prescription that has made London fogs so famous. The air has been almost thick enough to slice.

H. C. Christensen charged with killing deer out of season and Milton Epperson charged with mutilating a female deer were released from the county jail on bail last Saturday.

Miss Fern Hobbs left a U. S. Treasury warrant for $5,312 with the sheriff of Curry county last week to pay the O. & C. taxes, interest and penalties for grant lands in that county.

J. L. Smith had the most appropriate Halloween window we saw this week. Fine large ears of white and yellow corn with a background of pumpkins made a display hard to beat.

The Marshfield road was in fine condition for travel last Sunday and many people with autos took advantage of what was expected to be the last chance this fall to drive over to the Bay.

A. H. Powers is quoted as saying that the Smith-Powers Logging Company has suffered more loss from fire in their timber this year than in all the years they had been in business heretofore.

Charles O. Norman, the young Coquille giant, whose enrollment here we noted last week, writes his sister that he enlisted in the Third Oregon Infantry, and started east with that regiment last Friday.

Look over the list of magazine combinations we are making with the Sentinel by which you can get the Woman's World, Every Day Housewife, McCall's and other popular publications at about half the regular rates.

A Photo for a Xmas present see Stadden in Coquille on Saturday.

F. E. Conway has secured the service of Fred True, bookkeeper at the First National Bank, to audit all accounts of the Coquille Valley Creamery, and see that no errors are made in settling with the dairymen the first of each month.

A special meeting of the Ko-Keel Club has been called by the president, F. E. McKenna, for next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the club rooms. Matters of vital interest to the club are to come up and every member is requested to be present.

Oregon and California turkey raisers expect to receive 40 cents per pound for their fowls this Thanksgiving and Christmas, and the middle men and retailers will add numerous cents to this before the turkeys are offered to the consumer.

A. J. Whiddon and wife, of North Bend, arrived here to take up their residence. Mr. Whiddon will be the resident minister for the Christian church and begins regular services Sunday, Nov. 4. They will make their home at the N. C. Kelley residence.

The Ladies Aid, of Fairview valley, are trying to pave a part of a mile with pennies to help build their church. We now have 173 feet of the mile paved. Anyone wishing to help us pave this part of a mile may get the slips from Mrs. Charles Willey.

E. H. Harnden, who has been trying in vain to buy a bunch of sheep, came in yesterday and ordered the want ad which appears in today's Sentinel. He got quick action. Within two hours after he inserted the advertisement he had secured a dozen sheep.

Rev. J. A. McVeigh, who had been in Portland last week, returned last Friday night. He announced Sunday that it has been arranged by the church authorities that he shall remain in Coquille as pastor of the Presbyterian church here until next July.

The latest reports are to the effect that the boys from Coquille who have been at Camp Greene, North Carolina, for some time past have been removed to another point on the Atlantic coast, probably preparatory to going across the ocean in the near future.

The Coquille boys who went out in a bunch a couple of months ago to enter the Engineer corps are now in Camp at Yaphank, Long Island, near Camp Yaphank, Long Island, near where the writer of these lines was born and spent the first quarter century of his life.

Don't get mixed as to dates. The annual dinner given by the ladies of the Christian church always comes the first week in November; this time it will be on Wednesday, Nov. 7. The ladies of the Fairview Aid Society will have their chicken pie sale on Saturday, November 17.

Everyone should remember the big mass meeting at the city hall this evening at the city hall this evening to make arrangements for the corn show. It is not a Commercial Club meeting but a Corn and Potato Show meeting to which everybody interested is invited. Do your bit for Coquille.

In commenting on the Liberty Loan subscriptions last week we remarked that J. S. McEwen, who is over 40 years old, was probably the oldest subscriber. It transpires that another subscriber, Mrs. Francis A. Kelley, mother of Ned G. Kelley, has passed her 84th birthday and is entitled to that honor.

Water is being conserved in Coquille as never before. We hear of one instance where a housekeeper used the bath water to wash the clothes in. There was still use for that supply and it was used to mop the floor. And then as it had served every possible purpose in the house it was applied to the family garden.

Miller & Minard opened up their new White House Billiard Parlor in the Golden Building on Front street Wednesday evening and were kept busy all evening setting up soft drinks. They have made it a very attractive resort, everything being new and clean, and will no doubt receive their share of the public patronage.

Recorder Lawrence asked at Monday evening's council what was to be done with the saloon in the basement of the city hall. The mayor suggested that he put it up to the district attorney to either remove the stuff or have the county pay rent. It has been stored there ever since E. A. Beckett's stock was confiscated a year ago.

Although no rains of any account have fallen here for the past six weeks, Mr. Epperson reports that the city water supply is holding its own, so that with strict economy in domestic consumption and all irrigation forbidden, it is hoped that we will tide over until the rainy season begins without the threatened water famine.

W. W. Lawhorn, of Sitkum, brought in a fine beef to Miller's Sanitary Market here Wednesday morning. It was the Roan Durham which took the first prize in its class at the recent Coos-Curry fair. Although a May calf this animal weighed 331 pounds and looked a good more like a beef than a veal. And it was "fat enough to kill."

J. N. Jacobsen says that a Marshfield man driving a Ford out of control on the Myrtle Point road last Saturday evening passed his place just as his herd of cows was crossing the road coming home from pasture. It struck a Jersey heifer, breaking both her hind legs close to her body and making it necessary to knock the animal in the head and dress it for beef. The offender promised to settle for the loss.

Commercial Club every Wednesday evening at City Hall at 8 o'clock.

Will G. Barrow came in Wednesday evening and spent yesterday at home while en route from San Francisco to American Lake to join the colors. He volunteered last spring but was rejected then as too young, but was subsequently taken in the first draft. His commanding officer was going to insist that he go right straight up the road without coming here but finally consented to his having the two days furlough necessary to come here from Eugene to see his parents.

P. H. Brewer, and wife who went to Canada last May, have just returned and gone back to the ranch at Arago to live. He was in yesterday to register with the local examining board, having been unable to get any card while up north. They bring back a baby born on foreign soil four and a half months ago, whom they have, nevertheless, named Woodrow Wilson. The winters up there they say are much too cold to be enjoyable. Indeed in early October, before they left ice had formed an inch in thickness.

After Nov. 1st wood will be $2.25 a tier. Fred Noeler.

Hereafter all automobile and repair work must be settled for before it leaves the garage. A. A. Paul.

You can get a 2 1/2 horse power Baker-Hamilton gasoline engine cheap at the Sentinel office.

Plenty of old newspapers now in stock at the Sentinel office and they are still selling at a nickel a bundle.

East Fork Items.

Walter Lawhorn bought 23 head of cattle of various ages in Brewster valley. He and Fred Baker drove them Tuesday.

The Mator Brothers made a trip to town for a load of freight shipped from Wyoming.

John Fitzgerald, of Marshfield, came in from Douglas county, having been looking after matters concerning his father's estate of which he is trustee.

Oscar Bunch thinks that the fall of 1916 was just about as dry as this, he had to hand water from the river then and he has to do it now.

Ed Abernethy is digging his potatoes planted on Hally Laird's place in Brewster valley. He has about an acre of Multnomahs.

Last Saturday night there was a party at McKinley hall at which there was a large crowd.

One of the troubles with Billie 2 is that he is "stuck" on himself. He will end up with being stuck on a bayonet.

Geo. Marcy, a brother of Ed Marcy, and family are living in the house that was Clark Bunch's homestead. Until a few weeks ago the brothers had not met for 16 years.

Mrs. Geo. M. Bunch, clerk of District No. 32, took the school census Wednesday and pledges for food conservation.

R. A. Easton.

Hersey-Thornton.

Last Saturday evening James B. Hersey, better known as "Ben," and Miss Ruth Thornton, of this city, were united in marriage at the Chandler Hotel in Marshfield, Rev. Hiram Gould, of the M. E. church officiating. Miss Catherine Hersey, sister of the groom, and Miss Clara Thornton, sister of the bride went over with them to the wedding.

The Sentinel unites with their many friends in this city in congratulations and best wishes. The groom grew up in this city and received his education in our public schools and at the Mt. Angel academy. He has for several months past been employed in Drane's grocery and is highly esteemed here. The bride is an estimable young lady and was a favorite in our younger social circles. The newly wedded pair will make their home in Marshfield.

Enjoyable Halloween Party.

Wednesday evening Mrs. J. S. Barton entertained the Wednesday "500" club and some other guests very delightfully.

The decorations consisted chiefly of Halloween novelties, among which, the time-honored pumpkin and Jack o'Lantern features were not forgotten. There were witches, black as night, bats that looked as if they had just emerged from some cave of gloom, and many other attractive seasonal features.

The refreshments were notable for being in line with food conservation exhortations and at the same time in keeping with this November eve holiday occasion.

The first prize, a handsome hand-work centerpiece, went to Mrs. Hartson, the consolation to Mrs. Tuttle.

Successful Halloween Ball.

The Masquerade Ball given by the Coquille Orchestra was the most largely attended of any since the Coosonian masquerade dance. Novel, varied and comical were the costumes and characters represented, the prize winner being: For the best sustained character—Miss Kathleen Mulvihill and Mrs. Earl Graham. For the most original character—Miss Esther Johnson and Miss Norman. For the most comical character—Miss Orval Smith and Earl Townsend.

Everyone had a fine time, the only unpleasant feature being when a Myrtle Point youth tried to start a fight on the floor. He was quickly squelched.

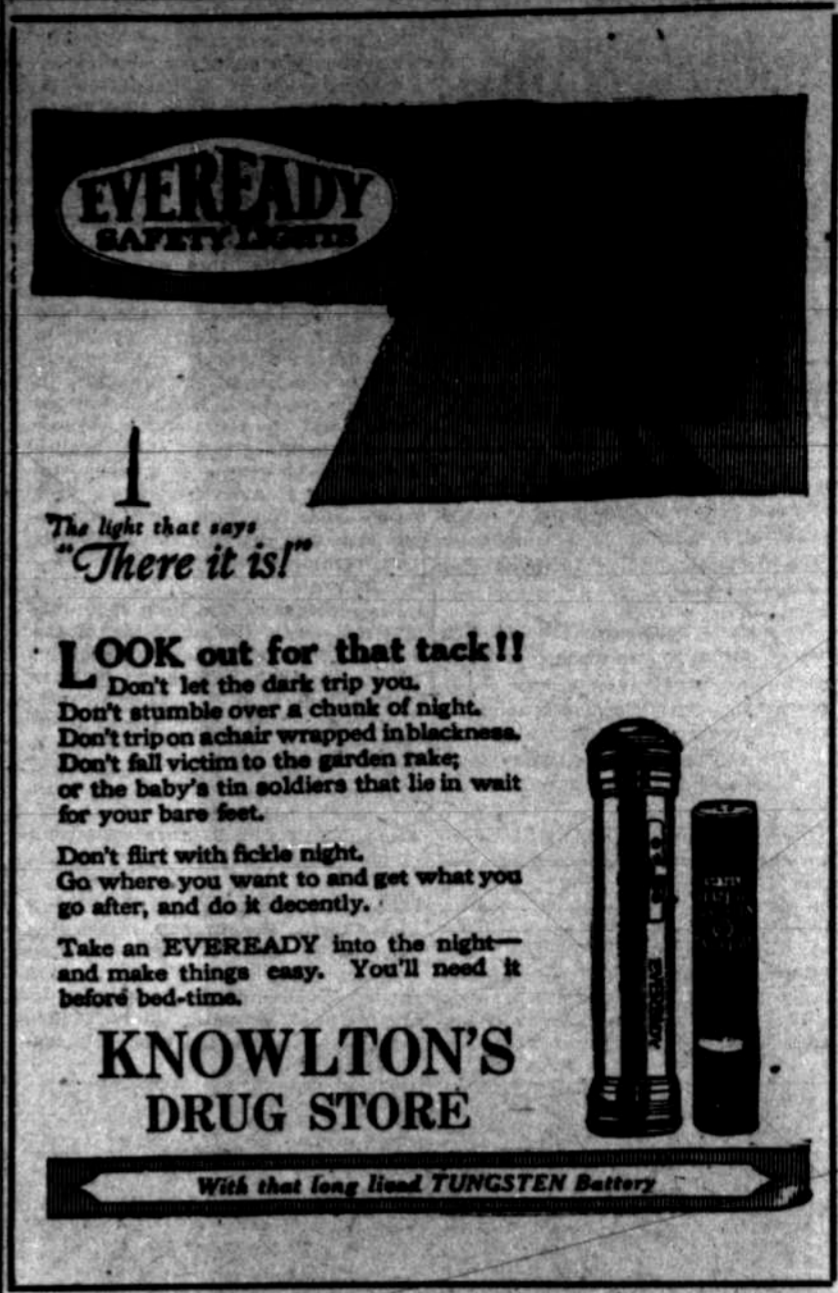

Another of these popular dances will be given by the orchestra tomorrow evening.

Was a Reckless Bootlegger.

Joseph Stanley, assistant fireman of the tug Sampson, which arrived with the C. A. Smith in tow, was fixed to do a big booze business on the side. He was going out hunting customers with two heavy suit cases containing 12 bottles of bug juice and 18 more were found in his room on the Sampson. Recorder Butler fined him $100. The Ladies Aid of Fairview will hold their annual bazaar at Anderson's Furniture Store during the Corn Show on Nov. 17. Their far-famed chicken pie will be on sale also.

New Cases in Circuit Court.

Oct. 27—Mary E. Dye vs. Chas. V. Dye. Suit for divorce.
Oct. 30—Henry A. Strong vs. Albert Graham, Jennie Graham, his wife, M. E. Lee and Lovina Lee, his wife, Alva Lee and Lillie M. Lee, his wife, Hiram Thurston and all other persons interested.
Nov. 1—Violet Mccum vs. Albert Mccum. Suit for divorce.

EVEREADY SAFETY LIGHTS

The light that says "There it is!"

LOOK out for that tack!!
Don't let the dark trip you. Don't stumble over a chunk of night. Don't trip on a chair wrapped in blackness. Don't fall victim to the garden rake; or the baby's tin soldiers that lie in wait for your bare feet.

Don't flirt with fickle night. Go where you want to and get what you go after, and do it decently.

Take an EVEREADY into the night—and make things easy. You'll need it before bed-time.
