Things to Find Out

Do you know what your cows earn you? What it has cost you in labor and material to put your crop on the market? Have you at your hand information concerning your business affairs that will enable you to intelligently and readily guide your next year's business?

This school conducts a Home Study course for the farmer and dairyman. Its purpose is to teach you in a remarkably short time by mail and personal contact a brief, yet absolutely modern and complete system of farm accounting. The cost is very slight. The time occupied by you in securing this knowledge would in many instances be used to no particular advantage.

Drop us a line for particulars. This request will not oblige you in any manner. Simply ask about Farm Accounting By Mail.

Plenty of old newspapers now in stock at the Sentinel office and they are still selling at a nickel a bundle.

Calling cards 100 for $1.00.

MYRTLE POINT ITEMS.

How do you like the mine? Tom Cook has advanced at the mine but our dealers have not put it to us yet. "Least we forget," but we couldn't. E. H. Harris wants the Sentinel. Put him on for a year. His family wanted it.

The Rev. Ray Sly, of L. D. S., is wearing a carbuncle on his chin—just temporarily.

Thomas W. Murphy, who is the husband of Rose Hayt, who formerly lived here, was in before A. E. Dodge making final proof on his homestead near Powers.

Not for a premium but they are shown in Spencer and Shelley's windows, the finest box of apples of this season by Wm. McNair.

Arthur Jones, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, is now in Massachusetts, where he has enlisted in a three years' course in wireless telegraphy.

Mrs. Pearl Maus Ward is delighted to have her mother visit her. She arrived by train Monday night from her home in Portland. Her name is Mrs. Wm. Cook and she says "we're beautiful."

One of our popular young ladies, a student in our high school, Miss Annie Short, will leave in a few days for Bisbee, Ariz., where she will remain for the winter with her aunt, Mrs. Dickey, in the hope that the dry climate will be conducive to her health. She has very many friends who are sorry she must leave.

Wm. Smalley, of Hall's creek, was in Tuesday for supplies. He says he has the best corn crop this year he ever had in this county and it had not a drop of rain.

Grandma Carver was quite ill the first of the week. Her many friends and those of her church promptly cared for her. She is up again, however, and needs no help.

The business men are subscribing to a fund for "fixing" Railroad avenue between Spruce and Maple streets; also the intersection at Spruce. The mayor heads the list with a liberal sum. The city had made no provision for the very necessary improvement of this street.

Dr. Pemberton, on receipt of the message telling of the death of his father in Salem, Ore., took the train Tuesday morning to be with relatives in their common sorrow. Mr. Pemberton was 63 years old and the immediate cause of his passing was heart trouble.

G. W. Halter was in this week. He is incapacitated for milking by blood poisoning in his hand.

Penny Sturtevant writes his folks with usual regularity and this week tells of their catching a rattlesnake, extracting its fangs and keeping it for a pet and mascot.

The second son of Dr. and Mrs. Giles, a little fellow, put some washing tablets in water and drank it. The result was poison and it required Dr. Pemberton's best service to save the boy's life.

R. E. Mith, one of the contractors building the high bridge, is on the ground this week and is pleased to have a man like Mr. Duff to superintend.

Many people remained home last Sunday as was evident by the number of "inspectors" of the new bridge.

A drummer dropped in the other day and said prices had not raised since his last trip. He was neither a groceryman nor a dry goods man—Oll!

Miss Ruth Wade, a long time with the Myrtle Point Hotel, goes home this week and Miss Mary Pearson will now pass out the pure food—to the animal man.

We have been told this week of the arrival of twin boy babies in the county but have not learned the location but they are named "Sears" and "Roebuck" as there was not much of a library and no newspapers in the house. The parents were delighted when they thought of these names and no doubt the twins will be.

Send the Sentinel to J. E. Grissom, Alder Springs, postoffice, Myrtle Point. He has been reading the neighbors' but wants one of his own. He takes a year of it.

Lee Wagner with his family has moved to Powers and Sterling Wagner, a younger son, is now with his mother on the ranch.

E. C. Roberts made his monthly trip to Powers last Saturday coming home early.

George Kribbs is down the coast doing special work in his line and Charlie Lehmannski is assisting in the store.

Ralph Standish, son of H. A. Standish, is here for a few weeks' visit with his folks after several years in San Francisco, which he says were profitable and his appearance proves his words.

On Saturday, Nov. 3rd little Gayle Duff entertained about twenty of her little friends: Maxine Nelson, Lucille York, Grace Murie, Vera Knight, Ellen McCully, Leta Miller, Eunice Horn, Kathleen Anderson, Elda Laird, Myrtle Hall, Alice Train, Freda Gorman, Leat Rackleff, Eva Hammond.

For a Weak Stomach.

As a general rule all you need to do is to adopt a diet suited to your age and occupation and to keep your bowels regular. When you feel that you have eaten too much and when constipated, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets.

DON'T TAKE ANY CHANCES SECURE YOUR SEED

Your Prosperity depends on SEED
your CROP, you must have

It will be dangerous, this year, to wait until seeding time before getting your seed. As soon as you know what you want, GET IT! And hold it until time to plant.

The car shortage is growing worse and it may not be possible to get shipments when needed. This is serious; DON'T TAKE CHANCES.

We have on hand now a small amount of Vetch, Timothy, Italian Rye Grass, Red Clover, Burn Mixture and Orchard Grass. Only a little left.

Can also fill orders for Alyke and White Clover, mixed. A bargain this year @ 27 1-2 cents

Just received a car of Eastern White Oats. Prices reasonable now; but going very fast.

Eleanor Miller, Evangeline Landis, Francis Fearnly, Billy Cavers and Lillian McCrary. The birthday cake was decorated with six candles and the little tota wishes were many but all could not extinguish the six candles with one breath. Gayle will long remember each little guest by their lovely little gifts. She is six. A photograph was taken of the covey.

The father of T. V. Johnson writes that he is enjoying the Los Angeles climate, is well and is busy making garden.

Ped Hatcher, the butcher, came in Tuesday for the first time since his round-up. He is a little lame yet but is feeling well and is ready for another.

Dr. Willin and Clark Giles, dentists, went to the Bay Wednesday. Dr. Willin returned Thursday morning and Miss Annie Short took the Thursday morning train here and joined her uncle, Dr. Clark, on their way by train to San Francisco whence Miss Annie will proceed to Bisbee where she will be for the winter with Uncle Sam and Aunt Anne Dickey. They own a large cattle ranch and from home can look into old Mexico.

Henry Knight is back after a month's absence in California and Washington and is now on the big motor truck again.

We're glad to see those back who return to Coos County. Oliver Perry is now here after being in many places in Alaska. We ourselves remember of being greatly pleased again to put our feet under the paternal table.

F. M. Stover, of White House ranch, now has one of the best machines in the world. It serves him right. It's a Ford.

W. C. Fenster, the Hub man, went to Marshfield Tuesday and returned same day—business! New goods will follow.

"Cid," the Telephone big chief here, is under the doctor's care with a lot of grippe. Mrs. Guy Devault is occupying the deck.

Enos Ross is in this week from his present home near Bridge. He has several pictures of his son, Ivan, who is now on his way to "somewhere in France."

George Rackleff is now the equal of anything that may come up at the Spencer and Shelley store. He is a salesman.

C. B. Zeek and wife, of Bandon, are here this week.

"Minnie," said her mother, "was you late to the party?" "No mama," said she, "they were playing but they hadn't begun to eat."

Myrtle Point has had six scraps in the last four months that we know of. They were all by good men so they were not put in Jim's pen. Our "Point" is also heard from in the logging camps.

Roy Duncan, the jitney man, took some passengers over to Wedderburn before the rain and he is there yet.

Mr. Black, president of the Flanagan & Bennett bank, now enjoys a private office fitted up for him off the lobby and enclosed by a myrtle railing. He is at present in Portland.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder, who was operated on a few days ago for appendicitis, is reported by her nurse, Mrs. Albro, as a fine patient and recovering from the operation rapidly.

On the occasion of Miss Annie Short leaving for the far south a farewell reception was given by the sophomores of the H. S., of which she was one, at the residence of Mrs. Harry Fenster Tuesday evening at which were present: Olga Schriener, Grace Knight, Hilda Carter, Nina Wood, Blanche Lee, Thelma Knight, Virginia Hermann, Jacob Mumaw, Lloyd Mast, Raymond Ford, Ernest Ford, Lyle Nealer, Percy Black, Emmet Schriener, Misses Rosche and Tobey were also present as invited guests. They are teachers in the "High."

Mrs. Lennie Huntley, who recently died in Wenatchee, Wash., and whose remains were shipped here arriving Thursday night, will be interred in Myrtle Point cemetery, Rev. Thomas Barklow conducting the funeral at 10:30 a. m. at the Brethren church.

She was a daughter of Wm. Huntley on North Fork and was 23 years of age. The cause of her premature passing is said to be typhoid fever.

Mark Hardman is in town this week from his home on Middle Fork getting ready to hibernate till next spring. The roadmakers are pushing nearer everybody's home and we will see more faces of our friends during the winter to come.

Dod Buell has sold the tract he recently bought of John Sperry, a new man in the country, who is putting the lumber on the ground for a fine new seven room house.

The Red Cross society of Myrtle Point is a unit that comes across every other afternoon of week days and more present each day and many garments made. Look in! See them! Some of them have sons on the way to "somewhere."

A. O. Hooton, of Bridge, was in Thursday shipping a package of his choicest dried fruit to his father in Marshfield, Missouri.

Archie Taylor, who autos to Roseburg, is yet autoing that way and says the road is not bad. He went out Thursday.

John says the road to Coquille is soft in the newly made and ungravelled parts and that more gravel or planking or both are all that will save the auto stage line.

J. W. West, of Norway, is in this week with a bodily grouch but was good natured about it. He will saw and split stove wood all this winter.

It may be of interest to young men to know that two young ladies were severely poisoned by eating ice cream this week.

Those affable people, the Woodmen of America, will give a free dance and free eating at their hall Friday night. These don't often come around, at least not together.

A high class entertainment was given here in the Unique Theater under the auspices of the Red Cross Society in which Miss Arloine Andrews sang as we seldom hear in Myrtle Point for strength, harmony and sweetness, and Miss Bonnie Francis Smith gave several fine renderings in reading. They with Mrs. Elise Long, who is with them, were afterward received at the home of Mrs. M. O. Stemmler, aided by some friends. Light refreshments were served after which they were entertained in the home of Mrs. J. O. Stemmler.

On the eve of Oct. 31st an enjoyable little Halloween party was given by Miss Lois Greene and Miss Agnes McCracken, teachers of the fifth and sixth grades, to their scholars at the Grammar school. The pupils all came masked and in the costume of owls, ghosts, clowns and brownies. Miss Genevieve Fairfax, a friend of the hostesses, entertained the little merry makers by playing one of the Edisons belonging to the Pacific Drug Co. After numerous games were played, cider and doughnuts were served to all, after which all departed for home.

Red Cross Concert Masonic Hall Nov. 10, Saturday evening. Arloine Andrews, contralto, New York; Bonnie Francis Smith, reader. Miss Clara Myron, of Marshfield, accompanist. 50, 35 and 25 cents.
