Certain Cure for Croup.
Mrs. Rose Middleton, of Greenville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says, "When my children were small my son had croup frequently. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately. I am never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."

Send the Sentinel to eastern friends

Items From Arago.
Miss Stamlin closed her term of school in the Roy district last Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson returned Saturday from Canada where they have been since last spring. Several others took the same trip but all have returned like the birds to the sweet sunny south.
Cleveland and Elton Burgess left Monday for Humboldt, Calif., to spend the winter with their brother, Walter.
Mr. Emily Schroeder has been visiting relatives in Coquille for a couple of weeks and is now at Powers visiting her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Laingor.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sinclair, of Coquille, are visiting at the Stauff brothers' home this week.
Lester Clinton is attending the Anderson Business College evenings at Coquille and helping his uncle, Riley Clinton, scale logs through the day. He is thus getting a practical and scientific education.
Rev. Roberts preaches at the S. M. E. church next Sunday.
Plenty of old newspapers now in stock at the Sentinel office and they are still selling at a nickel a bundle.
Calling cards 100 for $1.00.

MYRTLE POINT ITEMS.
While in Myrtle Point don't fail to call and see the new fall and spring stock of wall paper just arrived at Berry & Schroeder's.
Sam Dietz, the carpenter, is now in the employ of Mrs. Richards on Harris street making some very necessary improvements.
G. E. Dietz, the ready to serve salesman at the Farmers store, with his family are in Portland this week enjoying a needed change and visit with Mrs. Dietz' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hermann. Mrs. Ida Hansen will remain at the store during the absence of Mr. Dietz.
Mrs. Allie Dodge writes her hubby that she will return. She went to Oregon, Calif., amongst her folks and then there seems to be a seductiveness in the name "California," which many need to see the place to be disillusioned of—and then here is good old Coos, green, rain just enough, sunshine, plenty wood and such good things to eat—Yes! Myrtle Point says Come Home.
Clarke Fensler at Fort Stevens says that they are now in plenty of mud and that they will soon move towards action, in a letter to his father and mother here.
Charlie Gilroy, the homesteader from the Bridge country, is in town this week.
The Bank of Myrtle Point is treating itself to a new cement sidewalk on its Fourth street side, replacing the one laid by the "late" Billy Hughes now in the Shasta valley.
Mrs. John David Guthardt is this week with her cousin, Miss Hazel Radabaugh, a teacher in the Bald Hill district. Adam is now "chef," dishwasher and waiter in his chop house.
William and Elmer Bell have now leased the Ben Shull place which their father leaves to occupy his own place, which he had bought some time ago. These Bells all ring right.
Mrs. Henry Schroeder, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, is now home and soon will be her own housekeeper.
Mrs. Albert Parman, of Marshfield, visited over Sunday with Mrs. Joe Williams.
G. L. Parrish is another who said "I want you to keep the Sentinel coming." Please mark him so.
Berry & Schroeder, the furniture men, are toning everything up in their shop including their pianos—looks nice.
The Coos and Curry counties Creamery association held a meeting Monday here in the city hall, in which they agreed to continue to do business under last year's agreement for another year.
At the entertainment given by the Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors in their hall in the McCloskey building a "super" time was had. There were 41 baskets of good lunch which were sold at auction, Chester Carey, of Powers, being the vendor. Those whose baskets brought highest prices—the two highest—were to receive prizes. Miss Nieta Arnold and Mrs. Alta Abbott got first and second prizes. The highest prices paid were $6.25, $6.00 and $5.75. The lodges realized $121.50 by the "social." Young Mr. Cary was voted an expert auctioneer.
Clarence Barklow and family now occupy the E. C. Bargelt place on Fourth street.
J. W. Hall brought in 52 boxes of apples this week. He shipped them to North Bend.
"Our" Aunt Annie visited last week in Bandon with her daughter.
Last Sunday there was a reunion at the Myrtle Point Hotel of the Leach family. George, of Coquille, and family were here and the Holloway family, of Powers, were present—present at a good dinner which Geo Ling knows how to prepare.
Mrs. Frank Boutel, of California, was here last week. She was among the first acquaintances of the Leach family in early times in Coquille and is visiting now with her brother, Mr. Beyers, our efficient County Assessor.
G. D. in Myrtle Point means Gus Dietz, the first salesman in the Farmers store.
Mrs. Alta Abbott went to market this week to order her spring millinery.
Chris O. Ward was in Saturday making final proof on his homestead. His witnesses were Isaac Nichols and Carl Buchnell.
L. G. Ray, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Ray is here for a short visit with his parents before starting for the front. His home has been Washington county, Idaho.
Berry & Schroeder, the furniture men, shipped an eighty dollar bill of goods to Port Orford this week billiardly steamer via Bandon.
Geo. Hermann's little boy, 8 years old, was attacked Friday of last week by pneumonia and Dr. Pemberton was consulted.
Out of the proceeds of the concert Thursday evening the Red Cross netted twenty-five dollars.

Unique theater, especially when seats below are full, and annoy others by the continuous dropping of small paper, peanut shells and scraping of boots on the floor—needless?
Miss Gene Black is the lady in the store during the absence of Frank Spencer of the Spencer and Shelley store.
Miss Lillian Seaman, daughter of A. E. Seaman of Marshfield and now secretary for the Coos and Curry counties business, was here Friday on business for the association. Her brother, Wesley is in the University of California.
Billy Dye and wife will come to town to be near his business and have advantage of all the good things the town offers.
James Lewellen is building a garage for one of his tenants on Seventh street.
Dr. Pemberton reports Mrs. Geo. Wilson as being much improved from her recent serious illness.
Frank Whittington undergoes a severe operation in the Pemberton Hospital this week.
Dr. Pemberton reports the daughters of Max Dement and P. W. Laird as being very ill.
Y. M. C. A. work is not neglected in our town. The Eastern Star with the churches gave a tea Thursday in the Masonic temple charging an admission, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the above cause.
A social will be given Friday evening by members of the Eastern Star in the Temple, each member inviting one person or guest. The "Hawaiian" Band will render the music and there will be eatables by the Star.
Dr. Pemberton removed tonsils and adenoids from the daughters of Henry Harris and Wm. Widby, also from Mrs. Bachman.
Joe Mast is the lucky man who gets the Harvey Johnson place on a lease. Joe is a good dairyman and this is one of the best ranches on the South Fork. Mr. Johnson will go to Shasta Valley.
The Ed Jenkins' ranch this week passes into the hands of three relatives for a good price. Guy Devault will be the operator and he always likes the business.
Dr. F. M. White, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Dement, a former practitioner here but now located in Marshfield and operating as an Eye and Ear specialist, will be here Friday and Saturday. We'll be pleased to shake hands with the doctor.

O. P. Hedge, a man from Lento, Oregon, is here representing a church organization known as the "World's Faith Missionary Association," and preaches where there is a "welcome" empty house.
Thanksgiving! A North Fork man is in this week contracting to deliver turkeys for Thanksgiving—said they were getting fat.
Geo. Kribbs is now in the bridge building business for the S. P. and is at present at Garberville, California.
Shall we celebrate the completion of our new high long "with branches" steel spectacular bridge, of which we are so proud?
John Felcher's little two-year old boy was operated on Tuesday by Dr. Clarke for cervical abscess.
Dr. Clarke operated on Floyd Mast, a son of Hardie Mast, and very successfully, for trouble of the nose.
Joe Mast, who recently returned from the "valley" has traded for the Arthur Brown property on B street.
The crossings on Spruce street from Railroad avenue to Berdor avenue are all gone but one. When there's mud we walk in it.
"Laura" and "Leta" kept the millinery store of Mrs. Abbott while she was absent buying her spring stock in Marshfield.
C. C. Carter is shipping a load of hogs this week to Portland. We don't like to see the good stuff going away but there was a time when we had no market.
25 lady and gentleman school teachers took the early train Wednesday morning on their way to Bandon where they will attend Teachers' Institute.
The automobile traffic to Coquille is now only by "orders"—no regular run.
W. W. Whittington Jr. has returned from Santa Rosa, Calif., where he has been making good money on a ranch but when he comes he knows Coos, Oregon, is the place for wages and he's here.
L. D. Lamb, who has been himself a home in the Catching creek woods, is in this week for his winter's supply, single—P. O. Myrtle Point.
Earl Slingsby and Mildred Smalley were united never to separate until... in Coquille Tuesday this week by the Rev. Mr. Rogers, of the Methodist church, and came home to the man's parents, where they were properly charivariated by a very proper "bunch." As the bunch approached the front door the victims escaped by the back door and took to tall timber on the hill. After about an hour they were found and escorted to the house where the bunch was regaled from a barrel of choice candy. At present the young people are so happy they can't think about living in this world.

Mrs. Mina Roberts, wife of L. J., of Middle Fork, has returned from a visit to her cousin, Mrs. W. E. Brown, whose husband was very ill and passed away while she was there, on Sunday, the 11th. He was very well known here, having been the M. E. minister in Myrtle Point in 1905. Mr. Brown was not an old man and his premature passing was the result of a paralytic stroke about a year previous.
Henry Bryant was in Thursday from his Bridge ranch, where he is delighted to live after many years as a drayman in Myrtle Point. He says the chinee pheasants are numerous and eat with his chickens the 4 1/2 wheat he buys for them.
The best advice we have to date is that we are to travel the new bridge after 8 days.
Mr. Spencer, of Spencer & Shelley, has returned from a visit with his parents over on the Umpqua. He resumes his place in the dry goods department.
Miss Marjorie Stemmler accompanied her aunt, Miss Nellie Barton, to Bandon to the Teachers' Institute.
"What's the price?" of spuds and beans is often heard. They haven't got started up evidently.
Dr. Pemberton made a professional trip to the home of Loney Parrish on North Fork this week.
There will be another wedding of Myrtle Point people on Christmas day. The ceremony will be performed by a Judge in Portland. You don't know and don't ask!
Jim Hobson, I am delighted to announce, goes on your list for the Sentinel for a year.
A. T. Arrant returned from a trip to Portland with a car of swine and pigs. He says there's no trouble about the market.
"See that 'turk' now catch him quick," This is heard from Catching creek. And we get the friendly call. For to come and help eat all. Then we go and bite that turk. For we'd rather eat than work. We get home then through the mud in some places to the hub. But we're full of Adam's turk. And Adam, he—has to work.
