Another Land Sale Case.

The case of Peter Peterson and Hilda Peterson, of Haynes Inlet, against Josephine M. Rennie, T. W. Rennie, M. H. Klochar, William Cox, A. E. Polluxen and others, was decided by Judge Coker in favor of the plaintiffs, Peter Peterson and Hilda Peterson, and the plaintiffs recovered a judgment against the defendants for $8,832.64, together with the costs of the proceedings.

The case involved the sale of what is known as the Peterson ranch on Haynes Inlet, which was sold in 1909 for $14,000. Mr. Peterson was granted judgment and in failure of defendants to pay the judgment is to recover the ranch and to take immediate possession. The case has been in court in one form or another for practically a year.

Defendants refused to make the payments claiming the title to the premises were defective and contending that 40 acres of bottom land, which Mr. Peterson attempted to sell, did not, as a matter of fact, belong to the Petersons. The court, however, found the contract between Peterson and the defendants provided he was to sell only the interest which he had in and to the premises and that the time for the defendant to object to the title had gone by as the defendants have been in possession of the ranch for the past several years.

The Petersons upon the failure of the defendants to pay the amount of the judgment will recover back the property and the defendants are given until the first of June, 1918, to redeem.—Record.

This case in some of its features resembles the Weekly-Jeffries case from Gravel Ford in which the decision was in favor of the purchaser, in the State Supreme court.

Four young men left Monday morning to join the navy. They were Grant E. Wilcox, of McKinley, Harry Luttrell, Leander Belieu, of Myrtle Point, and Chester Emmett, of the Gardiner country.—Marshfield Record.

Men between 21 and 30 years of age are liable to be arrested at any time now if found without their registration cards.

WE GO OVER EVERY PART of an auto sent here for repairs. It isn't always easy to locate the cause of the trouble, the trouble itself is only the effect. So we go over a car until we find out why it does not run right and then remove the cause of the trouble. That's why when we repair an auto it stays repaired. Thoroughness is our middle name.

COQUILLE GARAGE, A. A. Paul, Prop.

A Life Free From Care.

"Biggins takes home every cent of his wages to his wife."
"What's the idea?"
"She has to buy all the gasoline and pay for the automobile repairs and run the fuel bin and the market basket, and all Biggins has to do is to stand around and tell her she ought to come home."
—Washington Star.

Solitude.

Solitude is a matter of taste. It has been the subject of much discussion. Voltaire has been written in praise or condemnation of it. But perhaps the real value of solitude has never been so subtly and so accurately expressed as by the girl who was asked if she liked being alone. "That depends," she answered coolly, "on whom I am alone with."
