

MERRY CHRISTMAS

and the best of good wishes for the holiday season, as well as a prosperous and is the sentiment we wish to express to all our friends and patrons at this time.

May your ideals be brought nearer to a realization and your lot be as contented as is possible in these troublous times.

We would like to have one and all come in and allow us to extend a more personal season's greeting.

VARIETY! QUALITY! VALUE!

THE SCHROEDER idea of Service it embraced in three words—Variety, Quality, Value.

A Variety so liberal as to insure finding what you want—a Quality so dependable as to make you satisfied with what you buy—and a Value so substantial as to justify what you spend.

This triple service is especially appealing at this Christmas season. May we not render you this service and assist you to solve the Holiday problems?

COQUILLE GARAGE, A. A. Paul, Prop.

Executor Is Trust Company.

Bennett Swanton, of Marshfield, representing the firm of Bennett & Swanton, lawyers, and Bennett Trust company, has been in Myrtle Point and Coquille for several days in connection with the affairs of the estate of Jason Machado, deceased.

Mrs. Bessie Broulette, daughter of the deceased, was named in the will as sole executrix thereof, but desiring to retain the good position she had in San Francisco, decided to put the estate matters in charge of the Bennett Trust company, which is authorized under the recent trust law to act as executor or as administrator of the estate of any deceased person.

Messrs. Charles H. Harrington, N. G. W. Perkins and P. L. Pheasant, of Myrtle Point, were named as alternative executors, but owing to the complicated condition of the estate, and by consent of Mrs. Broulette, filed written refusals to accept the executorship of the estate. On December 19th, based upon the petition of Mrs. Broulette, Judge Watson appointed the Bennett Trust company as administrator with will annexed of the estate. Under the will the property is given to Mrs. Broulette in trust for herself and the three other children, namely, Mrs. Glenn Kearny, of San Francisco, Jason Machado, now in Pittsburg, Pa., and Lawrence Machado, who was assisting his father in the store at Myrtle Point at the time of his death.

Mr. Swanton said he drew a will for Mr. Machado in the winter of 1907, at the Mercy Hospital, North Bend, on a night when Mr. Machado expected the end before morning, from ptomaine poisoning. The will was changed in 1912, and again altered in 1915, and that is the last will. The property devised will approximate in value $15,000 or $20,000.

Mrs. Bessie Broulette returned to San Francisco Wednesday morning after a stay of several weeks, having been summoned to her father's bedside in his last illness.

Curry County Ships Pork.

Seven wagon-loads of fine porkers in the pink of condition were brought to Bandon from Curry county points, Wednesday on their way to the Portland market. The hogs were from the A. J. Marsh, L. Knapp, R. L. Wagner, David McKenzie and Robt. McKenzie ranches. They were sold through J. E. Ford, of Marshfield.—Bandon World.

County Agent J. L. Smith finds porkers very scarce and says pork production is being neglected by Coos county dairymen to their loss. Wherever cattle are kept it pays to have a bunch of hogs as followers. He is an earnest advocate of more corn and more hogs in our agriculture.

Teachers at Examination.

The following are the teachers who are taking the examinations here in Coquille now:

Fred Baker is giving his services to increase the membership of the Red Cross. Great is the Red Cross. Its mission is that of healing. We could not buy a Liberty Bond but I am glad that we could come across with two dollars. We are in this fight to do our part toward helping to lick Billie 2 and his kind from the face of the earth, regardless of the cost. Nothing is too good for the man who is willing to pay the price. And for the man who hums and haws and don't know whether we ought to be in this fight and don't know that we are in the right, there is no damnation too great. This is a rich man's war; every man who is rich enough to possess a soul is in it.

Billie 2 is getting ready for the next war, we are getting ready for this, and there won't be any next for Billie.

The Coos Bay Harbor in commenting on H. M. Bylesby, of Chicago, accepting a commission as major in the aviation department of the United States Signal Corps, says, "It is truly a great sacrifice men of this calibre make when they give up their private business to assist their government in carrying on the war."

It is more positive and emphatic that men of "this calibre" or of less or greater calibre do not make any sacrifice when they give up their "private business." This man of whom the editor speaks has a good name as a man and as a power and light man. He is said to be fair in his dealings. When the war department called him, could he be a loyal United States of America man and not accept. He could not have been fair to himself if he had declined the work and the honor, for then he would have sacrificed himself. The "business" of his company will keep going on whether he enlisted or whether his body was in a wooden overcoat, but he, the man, could not keep going on if he sacrificed himself. The only sacrifice that brings ruin and disaster is that which sacrifices ourselves. I tell you that Benedict Arnold did not sacrifice himself as long as he was the general leading the American forces on march and in battle. It was when he became the traitor and would have turned those forces over to the enemy that he sacrificed himself—sacrificed his present, his past, his future. Sometimes you hear parents talk about that they have sacrificed themselves for their children because they have tried to give them of the best. That is not making a sacrifice; they would have sacrificed themselves if they had not tried to give the children of the best things.

A man don't talk about making a sacrifice if he has to sit up nights with a sick horse, a sick cow or a sick hog. No, he sits up nights and then tells how he saved the horse, the cow or hog, and how many dollars the animal was worth. That was no sacrifice for he saved the dollars, see. But when we give ourselves for that which is greater than dollars, then we sacrifice ourselves, see! A man don't sacrifice himself reaching out and laying hold of the best things; it is when he is going at an easy gait and using a swift pace for ballast that he sacrifices himself.

No man, who has entered this war for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, is making a sacrifice. No man, woman or child of whatsoever occupation, who is doing his best as a "soldier of the commissary," is making a sacrifice. In the measure that we fall to do our best we sacrifice ourselves. "For whosoever would save his life shall lose it."

Items From Arago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Knife returned Thursday of last week from Elston, Missouri, where they were called two or three months ago on account of the illness of Mrs. Knife's mother.

There will be a Christmas entertainment at the Arago school house Saturday evening if the weather is fine—and if it rains it will be on Saturday afternoon. There will be a children's program.

People who went up to Flahtrap Monday afternoon to solicit for the Red Cross secured $21.

A son was born last Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Oerbert Robison who are now living in Coquille.

Lighthouse Not To Be Moved.

The Bandon lighthouse won't be moved across the Coquille at its mouth until after the war. Uncle Sam had appropriated $5,000 for that purpose, but when he found it would cost all of that just to build the new foundation, he bucked and said he had too many other irons in the fire and would leave that job for some sweet day of peace.

Calling cards 100 for $1.00.

J. F. Schroeder hands us the following clipping from a Eureka, Cal., paper telling of the death of a pioneer resident of this valley, who will be remembered by many of our citizens:

Edlef Christensen, a pioneer of Humboldt County, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. E. Schroeder, at Carlotta at four o'clock yesterday morning.

Deceased was a native of Denmark. He was born at Hostrup, Schleswig, February 12, 1847, coming to Dwight, Ill., in 1869. In August 1875 he married Lena Hynding, the couple coming to Humboldt county in 1877, where they resided up to the time of Mr. Christensen's death.

The widow and six children survive, the latter being Henry L. Christensen, of Gascon, Oregon; Mrs. F. E. Schroeder, of Carlotta; Mrs. N. A. Curry, of Bald Mountain; Mrs. F. R. Hill, of Eureka; and Edward N. Christensen, of Hollister, Cal.

The funeral was held in Ferndale Monday, December 10 at 11 a. m.

There appears to be an epidemic of cigarette smoking by boys 15 years of age and older. Especially is this noticed at the dance hall where they pollute the air for everyone by smoking on the floor. The law passed by the last legislature is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous membrane of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. J. C.
