A Guaranteed Liver Treatment

THE function of the liver is to filter the waste products-poisons from the blood and to produce bile, the fluid which aids digestion in the small intestine, and which is also a natural purgative.

If the liver slows down in its work, the entire system suffers—we have sour or sick stomach, headache, indigestion and constipation.

Rexall Liver Salts

Contain certain salts commonly found in the celebrated mineral water at Carlsbad—the famous spring visited by people from all over the world suffering from chronic liver trouble.

A tablespoonful of REXALL LIVER SALTS every morning for a week or ten days is similar to the CARLSBAD TREATMENT.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE of new tires or those we have vulcanized into renewed serviceability. So far as the inner tubes are concerned there will be no difference except that the new tubes will cost many times what we charge for making old tires new. Don't be in a hurry to throw that damaged tire to the scrap heap. Bring it here. We can probably save it for many miles of service for you yet.

MYRTLE POINT NEWS

The delegates and family are busy preparing for the Christmas celebration.

John Strong has purchased a new car for the general truck use.

C. H. Gowan, of Madras, Ore., a local maker, is busy this week looking for a plant project.

S. V. Gowan, not so young as he used to be, jumped off a moving car and as a result is now out after 30 days. Jumping from a moving car, whether one is 20, 40 or 60 years old, is dangerous.

Prof. Davidson is in Marshfield this week to consult an eye specialist and may undergo an operation. Mrs. Davidson accompanied him.

Miss Meta Hanson went with her mother to Marshfield to have tonsils and adenoids removed.

Prof. C. H. Patterson, who was head master in our Grammar school last term, is this week calling on his many friends. He is now teaching in the state university and is also taking a post graduate course.

Our Metzger, a coast boy, is now winter in the Club cafe, during the absence of Cleo Barkley, who is this week with friends in Madras.

Max Dement renounces his subscription. There are some things he doesn't like but he does like the news.

Tom Knight and wife are away up to their old camping ground in the Idaho country to spend the holidays with their children.

A. H. Penco has gone to Portland with a load of fat hogs. John Strong is best man during his absence. He weighed a turkey this week which weighed 30 pounds.

Miss Kate Willsongby, of Bend, Ore., was a visitor last week with Miss Nellie Bruce.

During holiday week the passenger train runs through to Powers.

Carl Arneson and family, of Powers, are here for the holiday season with their relatives.

Henry Ware, a Kansas man who was hurt in the logging camp up the river, is back home after nine months in Mercy Hospital, looking well but yet lame.

Dr. J. L. Masson wishes to be put on your mailing list for a year.

The John Wagner family had a Christmas dinner here, all living members being present.

Tom Wallace, of Portland, returns this week to his gold mining interests in the Sixes country. Jack Carr is with him and they will open new claims. From here they go by way of Hekley where they change their load of provisions from wagons to the backs of horses and load it.

Joe Clinton, wife and daughter, were guests of the J. O. Stammer family from Saturday over to Monday this week.

J. A. Black Jr. and wife, of Hoodport, are here for the holidays with his father's and brother's families. Mr. Black is a sweet singer and was a member of the glee club of U. of O. He was prevailed on to sing a few numbers at the M. E. concert given Sunday evening.

Miss Belle Chubb, teacher at Bancroft, was a guest of Miss Nellie Bruce last week.

A well groomed turkey belonging to Jap Youkam evidently objected to being eaten for he or she flew away from his captors and landed on the top of the old blacksmith shop and craned his neck and kept turning about and slipping on the wet roof, all the time saying, "Turk, turk, turk." Pete Peterson got an air gun and fired several shots at it, one of which he says hit the turk in the face, whereupon after a little struggle to keep its equilibrium flew aloft and away and beyond.

It is said nearly all the dairymen on this side of the county will have to pay income taxes. Federal officers will be here about January 25th.

Mrs. George Kribbs has shipped her household effects and will follow in a few days to Orcutt, California, where her husband is employed at a fine salary.

Many people were in town Monday. No confusion and the merchants never had a better Christmas trade.

T. M. Hermann and wife, with Miss Nellie Bender, have gone to California for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Miers occupy the Bender house during their absence.

Geo. Mallen, from the shippards on the Bayside, was over for Christmas with friends.

Some of our merchants are taking amount of stock—a government suggestion.

Henry Knight, who drives the big Republic truck for the Kay Transportation Co., has taken a bull dog for steady company on the coast beside him.

A Christmas dinner at Ferris Lundy's was given and the following named Lundy's were present: Ferris, Madeline, Vern, Mary, Dorothy, Jean, Will, Lorne, Mabel and Audrey; also Sgt. Barnhart and wife, Miss Roache and E. B. Lane and wife. Afterwards a Christmas tree and songs at the Will Lundy residence.

Bill would tell no one till evening' But the boys thought they'd get even. These boys were never known to fall they caught him, put him in jail.

The above excellent young man and his wife might have been married long ago if they had just said so but they saved it for last Sunday night when Uncle Tom came with book in hand the back way, but some of the boys were near. William Stevens and Miss Hazel Weekly. After a few admonitions Uncle Tom gave them to each other. The next night—Oh! They were there—the chaurivari party. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens invited them down town to ice cream after which they took Bill to the lock-up or city jail and threw him in and slammed the door. Pretty soon they wanted to see him again but found the door was self-locked, they couldn't open it and after some hours they got Jim Brown to unlock the door. It being now about breakfast, all went home. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will next year be at home to their friends in their own furnished home on Railroad Ave.

The Delco Lighting company is demonstrating their apparatus—ventilators in Huling & Lundy's store. Dan Gardiner is demonstrator. It beats the once wonderful "Keely Motor." This almost if not quite produces its own light. While being shown at H. L. & Sons, Dr. Masson is expected to be the resident agent.

Now that Lee Weekly has rented his place to a good man he will be with us again in town. We need him and some more.

Near Gravel Ford there is an "upper room" in the barn and late in the evening Wednesday while there was no pitching or preaching a young man named Stephen fell through a hole in the floor 16 feet to the floor below. The fall didn't hurt him but stopping so quickly jarred him. He was afraid he was dead but he was raised by hand and brought to Dr. Pemberton away late as this occurred at a late hour. Stephen now wears a black eye, a splinted forearm and no smile.

A card from Bessie Brocollette says she resumed her position with the Beadle company the next day after her arrival at her home in San Francisco.

S. S. Reed and Geo. Hermann go to Corvallis next week to attend Farmers Week at O. A. C. Mr. Reed was there last year and could not miss it.

The E. G. Allen boom came down before the state and federal courts—if the boom be in the barrels.

Mrs. Albro, trained nurse, who has served so many cases in the Pemberton Hospital will go home and stay there the two days she will be without a patient. Her own home is in Powers.

Miss Mabel Billings, one of our girls, a trained nurse, is here with her relatives and friends for the holidays. Business is surely good in and about Myrtle Point. The merchants never had a better before Christmas day—people got married and if you listen you will hear of another next Sunday.

W. F. Ray, a brother of the Ray brothers, is here this week from his home on the Bayside to enjoy the holidays with the several Ray families here.

The Modern Woodmen have knocked out a partition extending across their hall 15 feet in length so more may dance better. They now also have a fine banquet room.

If some of the grown-ups should be grabbed for profane and obscene language on our streets as a young fellow was the other day our mental atmosphere would be cleaner.

The cause of the chaurivari last week in southwest Myrtle Point was due to Hearley Barklow and Christina Whobrey making up to each other to get married and they did and the town enjoyed (?) the music.

The North Fork is over its banks and the water about town runs where our civil engineer, Mr. Tomney, said it would.

Our Uncle Tom, the Rev. Thomas Barklow, has preached 98 funeral sermons and solemnized 19 marriages—the last one being his 276th. There may be another, the 277th.

We expect to tell of another wedding next week. We know all except what they haven't told us.

Edward Frazier Huffman and Susie Victoria Evernden being of the right age to marry were accommodated by the Rev. Thomas Barklow at his residence Sunday.

A crowd in front of the City Hall and another across the street at the City Jail house indicated that there was "something doing." A barrel and some smaller packages were unloaded at the jail and locked up. At the Justice court the chairs were all occupied and the Judge on his bench while Bert Allen sat in a chair opposite the Clerk's desk—all waiting for Attorney Olsen. Mr. Allen was charged with having intoxicating liquor in his possession—the stuff put in jail. He didn't know if he were guilty or not, but on it being suggested that he take a day to think about it he decided to say he was not, but could not pay for a lawyer. E. C. Roberts was then appointed to defend him. He said he made it of local stuff and for his wife and never knew it would make one drunk. Yes, he had sold some to the boys. Mr. Allen is a woodchopper from Pleasant Valley, a mile west of town over the hill. He gave bonds to appear Saturday, H. G. Hermann and Louis Strong being his sureties.

Attorney J. O. Stammer is this week in San Francisco being called there by business.

Russel G. Dement and wife returned from their place at Hubbard in time to enjoy the holiday season at home.

Mr. Leslie P. Trigg, of Norway, and Miss Hazel Hough, of Humboldt county, Calif., went to Marshfield to have their vows to each other certified and by proper authorities. They went to get married.

Howard Barkley and Gustave Metzger two stalwart young men having finished their work here will go to the logging camp where men are needed and they are the kind.

Items From Arago. Mrs. George Laingor is visiting at Schroeder brothers.

Entertainments are being arranged for at Arago to purchase a piano. Word was received from Minneapolis, Minnesota, saying the second week in December the thermometer registered 22 degrees below zero and they are having such hard times to get coal. We who live in this delightful climate can scarcely realize or appreciate the difference but keep on complaining because it is still raining and of the mud.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mumford and little daughter left last Saturday to spend the winter with Mrs. Mumford's parents, Rev. J. S. Root and family at Montague, Cal.

Orval Newton came home from Corvallis where he is attending the Agricultural College to spend Christmas.

Fruit Trees. Give me your order for Fruit trees, Berry Bushes and Rose Bushes. Geo. T. Moulton.

The Commercial Club meets every Wednesday evening at 7:30. Everyone invited.
