

DEATH OF PROMINENT COOS COUNTY PIONEER

Andrew G. Aiken, better known as "Glenn Aiken," died at the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg Sunday night. He was one of the very earliest pioneers of Coos county, having settled at Empire in 1854, and having been for many years a resident of this city, where he built a home in the eighties—the place now owned by Hark Dunham—which was then one of the best in the city.

His wife is residing with her daughter, Mrs. Otto Schetter, in Marshfield. She had visited him a few weeks ago at Roseburg when his condition became critical.

Besides his wife, four children survive him. They are Mrs. Otto Schetter, of Marshfield; Miss Florence Aiken, who recently went to San Francisco; James Aiken, who is with an engineering party near Eureka; and Charles, who is employed at the Brookings mill.

Mr. Aiken would have been 81 years on Feb. 12, having been born in Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, in 1837. At the age of 16 he left home with his two brothers, John and James, and made the trip to Oregon with an ox team in 1853. After a short experience in mining in Washington territory he came down to Coos Bay the next year and went to work mining at the old Newport shaft.

At the outbreak of the Indian war on Rogue river he enlisted in Capt. Harris' company and took part in the famous Battle Rock engagement which was the end of that war.

After that he tried mining on the Sixes river in the same section, and still later spent two years mining in Idaho.

May 25th, 1874, he was united in marriage to Augusta Cunningham.

He was next engaged in the lumber business on Coos Bay as a partner of his brother, James, where he remained until 1875 when he made a visit to his boyhood home in Pennsylvania.

On his return he received the democratic nomination for sheriff and was elected and two years later re-elected. This left him at Empire for four years and about 1881 he became a citizen of Coquille. After Cleveland's first election in 1884 he was appointed postmaster of this city. Some time during the later nineties he removed to Coos Bay again, where he interested himself in logging, lumbering, mining and hunting.

He was of a genial, kindly nature and generous and hospitable to a fault, and, of course, had a host of friends.

His funeral services were held at Roseburg Wednesday morning.

"Glenn Aiken" creek, a couple of miles south of here on the Myrtle Point road near the Geo. Davis ranch, was named for Mr. Aiken and will perpetuate his memory as long as its waters run.

How Income Tax Figures.
Typical income tax levies on heads of families are as follows: Income of $2,500, tax is $10; income of $3,000, tax is $20; income of $3,500, tax is $30; income of $4,000, tax is $40; income of $4,500, tax is $60; income of $5,000, tax is $80.

Unmarried persons would pay in this way: Income of $1,500, tax is $10; income of $2,000, tax is $20; income of $2,500, tax is $30; income of $3,000, tax is $40; income of $3,500, tax is $60; income of $4,000, tax is $80; income of $4,500, tax is $100; income of $5,000, tax is $120.

Taxes may be paid in four installments between now and June 15, if this arrangement is preferred, but the treasury will open a determined campaign soon to encourage persons to pay their tax in full immediately, and receive interest on the advance payment.

Hope To Get Pardon for Miller.

Portland attorneys, who were engaged by Mrs. Grove C. Miller, are hopeful of securing a pardon for her husband, who is now serving a term at Salem for robbing the Myrtle Point bank of about $10,000 in 1913. Miller was convicted on testimony of his having repeatedly boasted of having pulled off that stunt, but at the trial claimed he knew nothing about it. On the theory that "murder will out," it is time we learned who was the party or parties who cut their way through the floor of a law office over the bank and got away with more gold than the majority of people see in a lifetime.

Writes From Aviation Field.

The following is a Christmas letter from Walter Oerding just received by Geo. O. Leach, with whom he worked for many months in the sheriff's office here:

Today is Christmas, but it does not seem so to me, everything that might be green has been dried up, the sun and wind have done well. I have wished many times today that this was Oregon instead of Texas. In place of rain, we eat dust, the wind whips it around; well we grin and bear it.

In all the twenty-five hundred miles of land that we went across, old Coos is good enough for me; it is a paradise compared to this country, even with the mud and rain.

We had some dinner today: turkey, sweet potatoes, green peas, stuffing or dressing, gravy, cranberry sauce, oranges, apples and nuts. We always have white bread and coffee with each meal. Everybody had all they could hold. We ate at two o'clock, so we will not get any supper but we ate enough to make up for the supper we miss.

We live in tents, eight men to the tent, three blankets and an iron cot with good springs and a tick filled with straw to put on the springs. Each tent has a stove, the stove is made like a large funnel upside down with a door on the side. It has no grates, it gives a pretty fair heat at that. Most of the men live in tents. The original barracks are made of wood but they would not take care of the men that are here, over a thousand men are in the camp now.

The best thing in the army is the Y. M. C. A. Without it I don't know what the fellows would do. Tonight, that is in about fifteen minutes a motion picture starts and some ladies from San Antonio are to give a program. I am writing in the "Y" in Kelley Field No. 2. Our Y. M. C. A. is in a tent and the dust is pretty thick there as the tent is always open.

Must close as the program is about to start. With regards to the boys and wishing you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.—Walter Oerding.

H. W. Young, Coquille, Oregon

In Memory of Judge Harlocker.

The following resolutions were adopted by Coquille Post No. 27 G. A. R., Department of Oregon, at a meeting Jan. 2, 1918:

Whereas the Grand Commander of the universe has called Lintner Harlocker, a comrade of our post, Number 27 G. A. R. department of Oregon, and Taps has sounded on his earthly career:

It is hereby resolved, that in the loss of Comrade Harlocker the post has lost a true and loyal Comrade and the community a good neighbor and the state a worthy citizen.

Resolved; That while we mourn his loss, we are consoled by the thought, that he has been called and advanced to a higher and better service in the Grand Army above, where the Supreme Ruler of the universe is the Grand Commander.

Resolved; That while we deeply sympathize and grieve, with the family of our deceased Comrade, we hope and believe that the thought, that he now is in better and higher service will be a consolation to the family of our deceased comrade, as well as to us, his sorrowing comrades.

Resolved; That for thirty days the charter of the Post be draped in mourning, as a token of respect for our deceased comrade.

Resolved; That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the post, that a copy be furnished to the family of the deceased comrade, and a copy be furnished the Coquille Sentinel that the same may be published in said paper.

D. P. Strang, Post Commander.
Attest: Walter Sinclair, Post Adjutant.

Soon Over His Cold.
Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. Geo. Lewis, Pittsfield, N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. Will Spend $35,000 on Mine.
C. A. Peterson and M. W. McCormick have gone to Coquille to arrange for machinery to be used in clearing out the Eureka coal mine near Riverton. It is estimated that about $35,000 will be required to put it in operating condition, which exceeds the first estimate.—Times.
