

MINOR MENTION.

Telling About People and Events in the City and County.

A. E. Betts was in from Fairview Monday.

A. J. Sherwood returned from Portland Monday.

Henry Bengtsson was over from the Bay Tuesday.

Plenty of extra copies of this issue for a nickel apiece.

Neva Harry, of Brawster valley, was in town last Tuesday.

A great crowd of sightseers was in town Sunday from all over the county. A message from W. R. V. of Eugene translate the above and you are on the right road.

Suppose there had been a gentle drizzle instead of a southwest gale Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newberry are the happy parents of a baby girl born last Monday.

Nonda Anderson was out at camp near Reedsport and did not learn of his loss until Monday.

Jas. Hatcher, L. E. Teters, Glenn Barker, and Z. C. Strang were in from Fairview this week.

One of the liveliest questions in Coquille now is, "Who will get in on the ground floor with a movie?"

V. R. Wilson, Watchmaker. Swiss watches and all grades of American watches skillfully repaired. 1044

R. C. Muir, of Gravel Ford, was in town on business last Saturday and added his name to the Sentinel's list.

Mrs. Alma Rackleff, who has been A. J. Sherwood's stenographer for several months past left for Portland last Friday.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will have their annual Easter dinner on Friday evening, March 22, beginning at 5 p. m.

Turnkey Ward has six boarders at the sky parlor of the annex now. Four registered in and one out yesterday, but it's a world of change.

W. L. Ames went up to Noti, on the Willamette Pacific this side of Eugene last Sunday morning where he will be employed as a tie maker.

Miss Inez G. Bunch, of County Clerk Oddy's office force, went over to the Bay Monday for a minor operation, returning the following day.

I. C. Fredricks went out to Woodburn, Ore., last Saturday to visit a sister. On his return, the family will go back to their ranch near Prosper.

Hugh Hastings, of Cunningham, trapped a wild cat which measured thirty-three inches from tip to tip, and which weighed twenty-four pounds.

John Yoakam, of Coquille, announces himself as a candidate for County Commissioner of Coos county at the Republican primaries on May 17.

Several hundred people will receive this issue of the Sentinel as a "sample copy." Receiving it means an invitation to subscribe and become a regular reader.

Monday G. A. Colvin brought in a fine lot of his winter grown lettuce which had been in the open ground the entire season. The heads were a foot across.

J. J. Stanley says he has been writing insurance for 15 years and this was the first fire in which any of his companies ever sustained a loss through his risks.

The reflection from the fire was plainly visible at Marshfield, Bandon, Powers, and even from Roseburg. A call came in to Myrtle Point to know what was burning.

Last Sunday noon Edna Harlocker was operated upon for appendicitis at the Coquille Hospital by Dr. Hamilton. She stood the operation well and is recovering nicely.

Mrs. G. R. Wickham says that there was not a dollar of incumbrance on her property and that stories in Bay papers of there being a mortgage on her place were entirely incorrect.

Mrs. Nettie Stevenson returned to her home Sunday night from Selma, Ore., where she went about two months ago to lay away her daughter, Mrs. Lottie Tolin, who died March 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Wernich left Wednesday morning for Portland and after a couple of days there will go down to San Francisco on business. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Wanted before April 10, good, white potatoes, any number of cars, between Powers and Eugene. H. W. Coats.

D. F. Dean, formerly publisher of the Coquille Herald, came in from Halsey Sunday morning to visit his son, Ray, and his brother, only to find that Ray had lost his home in last morning's fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Baxter were in Marshfield last Sunday morning when the fire was threatening the hotel and came in on the early special. The suspense was nerve racking before the assurance reached them that the danger was over.

C. McC. Johnson, who was at Reedsport, tried all day Sunday to phone to Mrs. Johnson here and it was only when he arrived on the evening's train that he learned that his home was not destroyed.

The spirit of our revolutionary sires is neither dead nor sleeping; and that the women of today are no less ready to protect life and property with powder and ball, if need be, than the Molly Starks of 1776, was demonstrated here last Sunday morning.

Fighting fire on a blazing roof with buckets of water, 40 feet from the ground, was not conducive to a comprehensive knowledge of all features of the work done by the firemen and a failure to give credit wherever it is due in this issue of the Sentinel must be laid in part to that necessity.

Four Enemy Aliens in Jail.

Yesterday Deputy Sheriff Clyde Gage came over from the Bay with four of the enemy aliens arrested there this week as the result of U. S. Deputy Marshal Tichenor's activities, and placed them in jail here. They were:

Chris Grohs, charged with being in the possession of firearms.

Henry Holmes, Arthur Lorz, and H. A. Belke, all charged with trespassing in the restricted area next to the water front in violation of the espionage act.

These men were all arrested without warrants and will be held here awaiting the arrival of presidential warrants from Washington, when they will be taken out to Portland to answer before the Federal court. Tony Youngmen, German, arrested on the same charge was taken directly to Portland.

Limited in Hard Luck.

For two nights in succession this week the Coos Bay Limited got mixed up with freight wrecks between here and the Bay and we saw nothing of our mail until the following morning.

Tuesday evening it was the wrecking of two cars of spruce lumber at McCormac, a little station near the Bay, that caused the disturbance and held back the passenger so that it did not reach here until 4 in the morning.

Wednesday night the logging train from Powers met the mail at Delmar just after the latter had backed into a blind side track to let it pass. One of the log cars jumped the track and dumped its load right at the switch and it took so long to clear the track that the Limited did not get here until eleven.

S. B. Huston in Coquille.

S. B. Huston, of Portland, a republican candidate for United States senator from Oregon was a caller at the Sentinel office yesterday morning, being enroute to Bandon, whither he went on the Charm.

Mr. Huston is one of the leading attorneys of Portland and a republican of the staunchest sort. He is highly spoken of by Coos county people who know him well as a man of strict integrity and splendid abilities—in every way well qualified for the great office to which he aspires.

It was a matter of regret that he could spend so little time in Coquille, but he promises to come here again when he can remain longer.

Skipworth Coming Monday.

Judge G. F. Skipworth, of Eugene, is coming down here from Eugene next Monday to try some cases in the Circuit court in which Judge Coke is disqualified on account of personal interest.

Mr. Liljeqvist, as special tax case counsel, will have the Kinney cases ready for disposition and order of sale if the federal injunction secured at Portland some time since does not prevent action at this time.

Regular Convocation.

There will be a regular convocation of Chadwick Lodge, No. 68, F. & A. M., of Coquille, in the Odd Fellows Hall here on Saturday evening, March 23, at which the question of erecting a new hall will be considered. It is hoped every member will be present. R. H. Mast, Sec.

FOR SALE

Gov. James Withycombe

Governor Withycombe yesterday made an announcement of his candidacy for renomination at the republican primaries in May and states the grounds on which he asks an endorsement and re-election at the hands of the people of Oregon.

His Skull Was Crushed.

About 3:30 last Friday afternoon at Conlogue's camp Orva L. Adams, known as "Jerry," was fatally injured from having the top of his head crushed by two logs, and though he was rushed the Coquille hospital and an operation performed Saturday, he died that night without recovering consciousness.

Adams and another man were taking the hooks off of two logs which were a foot or more apart. Adams was standing between the logs which were about the height of his chest from the ground, when one of them started to roll. The other man yelled and Adams must have seen the start for he dropped and almost got out, the logs catching him on either side of his head at the parietal bones. He was not held but dropped to the ground.

The funeral services were held at the undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon being conducted by Rev. S. G. Rogers, and the interment was in the Masonic cemetery.

Orva L. Adams was the son of S. S. Adams, who now lives in Bandon. He was born near Myrtle Point 28 years ago last month and was an only child. He was married and he and his wife had been living on a homestead in Curry county for the past five years. They had just sold it, so that he could go to work in the logging camp. They had one two year old child and another only five weeks. The mother was in the Oregon Rooming House Saturday night and did not know of his death until after the fire. She barely had time to escape in her night clothes and the babe was so badly strangled by the smoke that another minute's delay in getting out would have cost its life. It was unconscious when taken out.

Come Out Monday Evening.

Every captain and every member of every team of the War Savings Stamps campaign in Coquille and from as many of the school districts adjoining as can do so, are requested to be present at the city hall Monday evening, March 25, at 7:45 o'clock. This request is made by the executive committee of the W. S. S. through its chairman, L. J. Cary, and also by L. H. Hazard, chairman of the executive committee of the Third Liberty Loan. The Home Guard drill that evening will start at 7 instead of 7:30 p. m. to permit all committee members to be present at the later meeting.

Santa Fe Man Here.

H. H. Francisco, of Portland, general agent of the Santa Fe railway system, favored the Sentinel with a call Tuesday morning. It's a good many years since we have met a man passing out the blue cross in a circle and square, such as ornaments every freight car of the great Santa Fe system. To one who has travelled somewhere between 50,000 and 100,000 miles on that road in the good old days before newspaper passes were cut out, it seemed, like meeting an old friend to come across one of its representatives.

Chauffeurs Go at Last.

Those nine chauffeurs that Mr. Beyers, of the local board, was going to send out a couple of weeks ago to a training camp in Texas and who were held up at the last moment because there were no more needed, have at last been placed in the service and went out this week—all except Phil Emery who did not stand the required physical examination.

Well Qualified for the Place.

The movement to bring Judge John S. Coke out as a candidate for the Supreme bench of the state at the republican primaries, first made by the Coos County Bar Association, appears to be meeting with hearty reception on the part of the people of western Oregon. It is a place to which any judge might well aspire as rounding out his career and filling the measure of an honorable ambition. Of Judge Coke's qualifications for this distinguished position there can be no question. With long experience on the bench of this district which he now adorns, amply endowed with all the qualities which make a successful judge; possessing the judicial temper as well as the training required in so responsible a position, his present constituents will with practical unanimity join in the move to place him upon the Supreme bench at Salem. The only reason that could possibly militate against such unanimity would be the natural desire to retain him in the position he now occupies, in which he measures out justice with an even hand, and whose duties a ripening experience enables him year by year the better to discharge.

There isn't any such short cut to the basket ball championship as the Myrtle Point coach has attempted to take. The points he makes might be well taken if the object were to secure a new location for the championship game, but to claim that they are sufficient to warrant his team in grabbing the championship as things stand now, is about the rawest sort of a deal that can be imagined. It isn't good sportsmanship to attempt to evade the final test in that way.

Will Decide Soon.

Judge John S. Coke started for Portland Wednesday and will be gone a week or more. He will hear two cases for Judge Skipworth in Corvallis while gone and also one in Portland. Upon his return he will announce his decision as to his becoming a candidate for the supreme bench.

We hear it rumored that in case Judge Coke resigns to make the race for the Supreme Court judgeship, either W. C. Chase, of this city, or A. S. Hammond, of North Bend, will receive the appointment to fill the vacancy.

Candidates For County Clerk.

Word was received here yesterday that Lentner Gallier, son of Stephen Gallier, and a prominent Bandon young man would announce his candidacy for the republican nomination for county clerk—within a few days. Mr. Gallier has had much business experience along lines that would fit him for the position to which he aspires.

Mr. Getty, of Empire, was in Marshfield yesterday conferring with friends regarding his probable candidacy for the republican nomination for county clerk. He says that a number of his friends have been urging him to make the race and he expects to make his announcement soon. Coos Bay Times.

Burglary Sunday Night.

Some time between 7:30 and 9:30 last Sunday evening the residence of Jas. Livingston in the Leach property at the head of Second street, was entered by burglars and $210 taken. The money consisted of $70 in currency and $140 in gold and was stored away in the bottom of a tool chest which was full of different things. The lock was split open and the money removed without disturbing anything else in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Livingston had gone to church about 7:30 and immediately on their return at 9:30 discovered the loss. That it was some one who had knowledge of what the chest contained is evident, and Mr. Livingston says he has a pretty strong suspicion as to who the guilty party is.

The Coquille to Gray's Harbor.

The river steamer Coquille which was sold about a year ago to the Shaver Transportation Co. at Portland has been sold by the latter to the Knappton Mill & Lumber Co., to be used in towing rafts out of Grays river and Deep river. The Coquille was built at Coquille in 1908 and for years was in service on the local river.

Drill at 7 Next Monday.

Regular drill by the Home Guard next Monday will begin at 7 p. m. instead of 7:30 to permit its members to attend a meeting of the War Savings Stamps committees at the city hall at 7:45.

Clean up day will come pretty soon. Better call Davis, the junk man, around in time. Don't forget he buys rags.

Not the Same John Purdy.

John H. Purdy, of Coquille, is not the same John Purdy who was mentioned in the list published in the Sentinel two weeks ago of those who had failed to take the physical examination under the draft. The Portland Purdy is now serving in the army and has gone across to France. John H. Purdy is working in the shipyards at the Bay and he was put in Class 3.

Card of Thanks

As I do not personally know all those who helped me move my stock at the time of the fire last Sunday morning, I take this means of extending to all who assisted in any way my sincere thanks and appreciation of their services and if they will call on me I will be delighted to pay them for the work they did. Those whom I remember have been personally thanked but there are some who have been overlooked.

Henry Lorenz.

Card of Thanks.

To the men of the fire company and the many citizens who fought the fire so bravely and saved so much of the business section of Coquille, preventing the total destruction of my drug store and express my heartfelt thanks. You did all that it was possible for men to do and have earned our lasting gratitude.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned, hereby take this means of thanking our many friends and neighbors for their untiring efforts in assisting us in removing and then replacing our stock of merchandise on last Sunday during the progress of the fire that wrought such fearful havoc in our little city on that day; and words fail to express the gratitude we feel for the excellent work done in our behalf.

Very respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Robinson.

Thanks to the Workers.

We surely are very grateful and wish to thank the people that worked so hard to help save some of our goods which were carried out and put into houses in every direction. We have found nearly everything that was carried out except a man's light grey coat, (the balance of the suit being found) and a new pair of ladies' brown cloth top shoes. Anyone hearing of same please notify us.

F. B. Phillips.

Card of Thanks.

We wish through the medium of the Sentinel to express our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to all who assisted in removing the contents of our home and in saving both houses from fire last Sunday morning.
