

IN THE SCHOOLS

Notes About the Thrift Stamp Campaign by Superintendent R. E. Baker.

Mr. A. L. Powers has promised to donate a baby bond each month to the pupil of the Powers school who sells the most war savings stamps during the month. This will not interfere with their chance to win the Simpson prize, but will be an assurance that the best worker there will receive at least a baby bond as recompense for the patriotic service rendered.

Patriotic citizens of Coquille have agreed to award the best campaigner in the Thrift Stamp Drive each month with a baby bond whether or not the winner captures the Simpson prize. Myrtle Point, Bandon, Marshfield and North Bend have all promised to make similar awards, so it may be definitely stated that the child who makes the best record in the sale of stamps each month in any of the six larger towns will receive a baby bond presented by citizens or commercial clubs. This will in no way interfere with the competition for the Simpson prizes. The pupil who sells the most stamps in the group of six town schools will thus receive two baby bonds as prizes. Bandon will also give 2nd and 3rd prizes.

The Fourth grade of the Coquille school with 39 pupils enrolled now own 71 baby bonds, and have an average of $8.11 in war savings stamps per pupil. Miss Joan Fitzgerald is teacher.

Recent members added to the Second Rainbow Regiment through having sold $50.00 or more of war savings stamps are as follows:

Willard East, Flagstaff school; Oswald Bergland and Herbert Lewis, Marshfield; George Hall, Twin Oaks; Avis Hartson, Coquille; Ruth Beasey and Erma Emmerson, Coos River Consolidated; Edith Weekly, Wilda Barker, Eugene Laird, Bridge; Susie Wirth, Evelyn Piper, Erma Hodson, Coos River Consolidated; Helen Lyons, Coquille; Charlotte McMullen, Empire; Rose Smith and Stian Smith, Coos River; Raymond Ford, Myrtle Point; Elvina Alrola, Francis Sacchi, Eugene Crostwaite, Marshfield; Laurence Ferguson, William Sullivan, Ruth Ahstrom, Donald Gidley, Central school, Marshfield; Lois Morrison, Mary Esther Johnson, Maxine Paulson, Coquille; Jeanette Nowlin, Coos River Consolidated; Paul Cox, Englewood school, Marshfield; Mabel Grush and Grace Richmond, Coquille; Lucile Kern, Chester Johnson, Bessie Christensen and Louis Anderson, North Bend.

George Hall, of the Twin Oaks school, made all the money with which he bought $50 worth of War Savings stamps by trapping. Mrs. Minnie M. Hermann, the teacher in this district, sold $109 of stamps in one day recently.

The seventy-five pupils and five teachers of the Coos River Consolidated school own $533 worth of War Savings stamps. They sold $537.75 worth of war stamps in the big drive last week.

The Bunker Hill school of 134 averages over $5.00 per pupil. Flagstaff pupils sold $375 worth last week.

People of the Arago district purchased $199.85 in war stamps last week.

The Sitkum school candidate for the Simpson prize for one-room schools was out most of the time on account of sickness this month, so they will make their big drive for the prize and record in April.

The following are the total holdings in war stamps reported up to March 27; the investments of teachers and pupils both being counted:

The Coquille High School has organized what is probably the first War Savings Society in Coos county. They had their first meeting Friday with a program and four-minute talks. There are 45 members. All the high school students will probably join.

The Sitkum school is one of the live rural schools that has taken up the matter of serving hot lunches. They have found that their patent heater can be used for baking the famous "Brewster Valley potatoes," and so the children every day have all they want and save other food while dining on the best there is to be found anywhere.

Inspecting the New Bridges.

County Commissioners Archie Philip and G. J. Armstrong and County Roadmaster J. S. Sawyer made a trip of inspection Tuesday by launch to the bridges across Haynes Inlet, North Inlet, and Larson Inlet. Construction has been completed by the contracting firm Ladd & Harris.

The bridges were begun last August and are part of the extensive north-bay road project which has been temporarily suspended by war activities.

Changes in the bridge over Larson Inlet which has bottled up the big dredge of Julius Larson and caused his objection to the county court will be made only at the order of the federal government officers, who accepted the present bridge and approved of its specifications says Mr. Philip. Accordingly nothing whatever has been done about it beyond reference to Col. Zinn, of Portland.—Times.

Celebrates 80th Birthday.

Mrs. L. E. McBride, known to her many friends as Grandma McBride, is recovering from an illness that a few days ago was feared would result fatally. Not long since Mrs. McBride celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary, and last week when she developed a cold that threatened to turn into pneumonia it caused so much uneasiness that her relatives were sent for. Her daughters, Mrs. E. R. Miller, of Gold Beach; Mrs. W. E. Miller, of Powers; Mrs. Dave Carey, of Coquille, and her son, W. H. McBride, of Bandon, also two of her grand daughters, Mrs. Milton Brown, of Langlois, and Mrs. Earl Brown, of Gold Beach, have been at her bedside. However, under the care of Dr. Schmidt Mrs. McBride is able to sit up again and is convalescing nicely.—Port Orford Tribune.

About Coos County's Work.

The Extension News of O. A. C. has the following about the extension work in Coos county:

The successful reorganization and supervision of five cow-testing association represents one of the most successful accomplishments of county agent work in Coos county. The cheese manufacturers of Coos and Curry counties were organized and incorporated to standardize, inspect, and grade the cheese output. The organization was effected too late to handle last year's output, but the machinery has been perfected ready to perform important service this year. A bull association was formed, and six registered Jersey bulls were imported. This will have a far-reaching effect in improving the dairy stock of the district.

He Has Proved His Patriotism.

Baron Clement Horst, who owns 42 ranches in different parts of the world, including several in the Willamette Valley and others in California, has turned the ranches into vegetable producers and is personally superintending work at his holdings near Sacramento. Baron Horst was under arrest in Paris at the outset of the war as a German spy, but was exonerated and returned to America later and has since been engaged in patriotic work in the land of his adoption. His instance points the logical way for other Germans who enjoy the benefits attaching to residence in America. And the significance of his policy in abandoning the growing of hops as a commercial proposition is also appealing.

Constipation and Indigestion.

These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.

Home From Arago.

Easter Sunday was observed by a sermon from Rev. Robert and a program by the Sunday School at the M. E. Church South. Floyd Krantz began working at the Arago cheese factory Sunday. Little Clara Bean, eight years old, has finished the pair of socks she was knitting and was much pleased to receive a letter from the soldier in France who is wearing them, thanking her and saying they are very nice and warm.

T. R. Schroeder was summoned from Powers last Wednesday and also a doctor to attend the baby of Mr. Schroeder, who had pulled a pail of hot water which had been placed on the table over on to itself, being scalded quite badly, but it is getting along nicely now.

The Arago Sunday School had a short program for Easter after which a basket dinner was served at the hall. Quite a number enjoyed the sociability the occasion offered.

Mrs. Lillie, who has been quite ill, has regained her health again. Nang Aasen, who has been down with grip, is now sick with pleurisy. Two doctors were with him one night recently.

A Red Cross lady went one day to see her friend, not far away. The home was perfectly clean and bright.

Her friend came all dressed in white, and after a few words of friendly greeting, she was asked to help at the Red Cross meeting.

Oh, I have no time said she, for my work must be done, you'll agree.

It's laundering Monday, Tuesday ironing and mending.

Wednesday baking, scrubbing and other duties attending.

Thursday the silver is to be made clean and bright.

Friday the sweeping and dusting must be done right.

Wait, my friend, said the Red Cross lady.

Would you attend to all these daily if you realized the boy who stands fighting,

Before your home in the storm and lightning, With the fierce shriek of the shells flying

Like demons all about him lying His life he is giving your home to save,

And can you not say he is surely brave, Although his feet may be freezing and sore,

While you are too busy inside your door, Sweeping, dusting and working within.

I know you have not thought it a sin, And will willingly come and see If there is something for you to do may be.

A big party and dance was held at the barn of Jess Bright Saturday night and a big time was reported.

Miss Christie Ward, who has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Summerlin, this winter and going to school at the Academy, left for her home on Catching creek near Myrtle Point.

Mr. Christenson, and Miss Crystal Colvin were visitors at the home of Mrs. Scott last Friday.

Mrs. Scott and her daughter will leave for Eugene where they will meet Mr. Scott who is working near there. They expect to stop at Bandon and visit some friends on their way to Eugene.

Meldon Baker, of Bandon, was a caller at the home of Mrs. Scott Saturday.

Mr. Colvin was in Coquille on a business trip Friday.

Steven Culbertson is down with the measles this week and has been very sick.

Mr. Merren was a business caller in Myrtle Point this week.

R. Cotton threw his wrist out of joint last week.

Some Good Advice.

"Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other people's ways and learn from them." This is good advice, especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.
