To Wash Out the Gold.

Harold Stutsman arrived at the Bay Tuesday from the Sixes river in Curry county where he has been engaged for seven months with a crew of men developing the C. C. Inman mine project. They are now nearing the completion of the development work and hope to have the mine producing at a good clip by this fall.

To develop the hydraulic project, they had to build a tunnel 3,800 feet long which practically diverts the flow of the South Fork of the Sixes River. In the 3,800-foot tunnel, they get a fall of 140 feet for a 30-inch stream of water.

This will be first used on a gravel bar almost four miles long which is rich in gold and other ores. It will take over three years to work this gravel bed.

Mr. Inman and associates now have entire control of the project, Mr. Charleton having retired.—Coos Bay Times.

Riverton Mine May Be Sold.

L. C. Newlands, general manager of the Oregon Portland Cement Co., has been in the county with another representative of the firm, F. J. Boynton, negotiating for the purchase of the coal mine at Riverton operated by F. J. Patterson, of Portland, and Mr. McGee, of Riverton, under the firm names of the Riverton Fuel Co.

The mine is producing about 25 tons per day and employs about 15 men. It now has a slope tunnel of about 1,300 ft. and there is under consideration a 600 ft. water level tunnel about one-quarter mile below the present tunnel.—Coos Bay Times.

Senior Play.

"At the End of the Rainbow," the new Senior play, to be given May 17th is at present progressing very well. On Monday evening the class had their first practice. This play is an up-to-date college play in three acts and is sure to be an interesting one. It is to include the whole Senior class besides two lower classmen. The following characters have been selected: Robert Preston, a lawyer. Fred Lorenz Douglas Brown, a football player, Herbert Lukens, Dick Preston, the groom. Elmer Neely Stanley Palmer, "Hawkins," the Butler, George Martin Ted Whitney, captain of the Varsity Team, Charles Oeding Jack Austin, Preston's secretary, Leland Peart Marion Dayton, a ward of Preston, Maymie DeLong Nellie Preston, a bride. Marvel Skeels Louisa Ross, known as Miss Grayson, Etta McLeod Phyllis Lane, a football enthusiast, Gladys Noel. Kathleen Knox, chairman of the Rushing committee, Mildred Norton The Imp, a Freshman, Erma Price Emily Elliott, with a conscience, Nellie Johnson Jane, a maid with a taste for literature, Elizabeth Church Mrs. Brown, step mother of Douglas Brown, Doris Tyrrel Of the Theta Phi: Molly Bruce Myrtle Neely Polly Price Catherine Hershey Elsa Ernest Clara Lund Marjorie Arnold Flossie Lund Marie Swift Sylvia Neely

Tuesday morning during the biology period a very inhuman act was committed in the laboratory when an innocent grey and lavender spotted cat from Riverton was killed and dissected for the entertainment of the biology class.

On Thursday evening of last week the trio accompanied by Genevieve Chase and Miss Bay motored to McKinley and Fairview where they furnished music in the interest of the Liberty Loan campaign.

This week has been a week of track work. Monday evening a meeting was held in which Stanley Emery was elected captain.

Alice Cunningham has been forced to stop school on account of her health.

Six new Liberty bond buttons are owned by the high school this week.

The Coos County Round Table meets at Coquille on Saturday.

Mrs. Lorenz entertained the basket ball boys Wednesday evening at a dinner at her home. Those present were John Stanley, William Oeding, Fred Lorenz, Mr. Douglas, Charles Oeding, Gordon Nelson and Mr. Noble.

Mr. Douglas left Friday for Eugene where he intends to take up training in the Ordnance department.

Thursday morning at Assembly Mr. Douglas was presented with a trench wrist watch by the faculty and student body as a token of appreciation of his work here.

Live Wire Class Meeting.

The regular monthly class meeting of the Live Wires was held at the home of Nellie Johnson Thursday evening, April 11, 1918. The meeting was called to order by Myrtle Neely, the president, and many questions of importance to the class were discussed. A light war lunch was served. Those present were Fannie Hayes, Mildred Neely, Chrystal Lafferty, Eula Moore, Myrtle Neely, Doris Tyrrel, Mrs. Boyrie, Mrs. Maury, Audrey Stanniger and Nellie Johnson.

Quaint Priscilla Notes.

At a meeting held Monday, April 15th, 1918, the Quaint Priscillas decided to buy a smilage book and send to Claire Mintonye, a former High School student, and one whom they believe would appreciate it. It was also decided that all would get together next Sunday and go up to Irene Kime's. Irene, who is a member of the Quaint Priscillas, has been seriously ill for the last two or three weeks and will not be able to attend school any more this year.

Last Case of Scarletina.

Dr. Shaw, city physician at Marshfield, says the last case of scarletina will disappear today with the removal of the quarantine from the Chas. Hall home. Their little daughter had a slight attack but it proved to be in a very light form. There is considerable measles in Bunker Hill, he says.

Dealers in fuel here will have to furnish their patrons with blanks on which to make a declaration of the amount of wood and coal they consumed last year and their prospective needs for the year to come. This is what Federal Fuel Administrator Holmes says.

East Fork Items.

Grant Wilcox, of McKinley, is at New London, Conn., a machinist mate in the Navy.

Ham Bunch has bought a milking machine for his farm on Cherry Creek. They are running twenty-two cows. When you see him tell him you have read about the man who filled his silo with bull christie, or sunflowers. He had read of the man who had put bean straw and pods and sunflowers into his silo with his corn and how the cows just licked their chops for more. Mr. Bunch will tell you that his cows did not lick their chops at all. They ate under compulsion of eating unpalatable silage or not eating at all. He said it was a case of the dog climbing the tree, the dog had to climb to get away from the bear, and his cows had to eat the silage stuff or starve.

Ivan Laird says potatoes are poor cow feed.

In "School Notes" in the Sentinel mention is made of the live hot lunches of baked spuds that are turned out on their patent heater at the Brewster Valley school. Brewster Valley potatoes are "famous" and you don't have to sing much of a song to get the famous articles this year. Henry Chaston is selling them at 40c a cwt., taking them as they come. Perley Crowley sold eleven sacks of the "famous" at 50 cents a sack and is to haul them 6 miles.

Everybody in Brewster Valley can eat baked potatoes morning, noon and night and between times, and may be they keep a stock on hand for hand outs. Charles Heller, of McKinley, in speaking of a thing that the educators and near educators extol as a sanitary heater and ventilator, said an eight dollar stove will beat it. Great are the baked potatoes of Brewster Valley, sure thing. Mr. Heller would probably raise the value a bargain counter price of 98 cents if he had even dreamed that a sanitary heater and ventilator could be turned into a sanitary potato baker. Great is the junk pile of the educators and near educators.

I read that the graduating class of a high school in Coos county was considering or debating whether they would wear caps and gowns at their commencement exercises. It puzzles me why they ever wasted such a large amount of brain effort in considering or debating such a thing. For there is just one thing for that graduating class to do in order that their commencement dress might match their intelligence, borrow the robes of the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Fred Mast, of McKinley, went to Brewster Valley Saturday and got of Henry Charlton a wagonload of the "famous" Brewster Valley potatoes at 40c a cwt. He says the spuds are cheap food for stock.

Alva Harry, who has been home from the logging camps three weeks, went back to the job Sunday. Grant Harry was visiting relatives in Brewster Valley. Neva Harry is about half way sick and half way well, the well half will win out.

Be sure and read the articles in the Sentinel by Ephraim Douglas Adams, "Why We Are at War with Germany," World's Work for April tells of fighting Germany's spies by French Strother. We are surely getting acquainted with the Germans. Once in a while we find out that there is a German who is a man instead of a German. Werner Horn is such a one.

Governor Withycombe in his statement concerning the appointment of Major Deich uses the word "efficiency" six times. The educators, near educators and all their kind of wind bubbles have surely gotten that word "efficiency" ground down to a feather edge.

Two years ago I nailed Lloyd Oddy's picture on a stump and voted for Robert Watson. Oddy's picture is still nailed to the stump and while I cannot vote to nominate him at the primaries he gets my vote on Election day, if my residence then is this side of the range.

A man elected to be governor is elected to be governor of the whole state not of one county. Men and women who have been working and yotting for prohibition are not likely to vote a man into the governor's office, whose precept and practice have been wholly at variance with the foundation principles of prohibition. Voters can not afford to vote in any guess work proposition for the governor's office. When we vote for Ben W. Olcott for governor we vote for a man who has made a business of making good. He has made good in the office of secretary of state; he has made that his business; he will make good in the office of governor, for when he is governor he will make it his business to be governor of Oregon. We don't have to do any guessing on Ben W. Olcott, when we vote for him we vote for a man.

Hooverized Candles.

To Hooverize and at the same time furnish candy to the children is the problem which the members of the Washington Parent-Teacher Association, Eugene, Oregon, have been trying to solve. Mrs. T. H. Ellis, the president, and others have made their kitchens into real laboratories from which have come delightfully interesting and delicious sugarless candies. The period of experimentation is now practically passed and they are glad to give the following receipts that others may make the Hoover candies.

1. Divinity Fudge.—Two cups Karo corn syrup, white of one egg. Cook the syrup until it threads and is brittle when dropped into water. Pour the hot syrup into the beaten white of egg and beat it vigorously until stiff. Just before taking from stove, nuts, coconut, or melted chocolate may be added. Pour into oiled tins or drop from spoon onto oiled paper. Nut meats may be pressed into same if it is done immediately. Pieces may be dipped into melted confectionery chocolate. Dates or prunes may be filled with same after stones have been removed. If it seems to harden when syrup is first turned into the egg white, continue to beat and the whole will soften as soon as the hot syrup has all been poured in.

2. Hoover Taffy.—Boil four cups of Karo corn syrup or taffy syrup five minutes; then add crisco or coconut butter the size of a walnut and pinch of salt. Let boil until it threads and is crisp when dropped into cold water. Add desired flavoring extract just before it is taken from the stove. Turn into oiled tins and let stand until just cool enough to handle. Pull until white and hard.

Pink Taffy.—Add strawberry flavoring and red fruit coloring just before syrup is taken from the stove.

Chocolate Taffy.—Melt two squares of Baker's chocolate and add to the syrup when the crisco and salt are added. Finish cooking and pull.

3.—Peanut Brittle.—Three cups Karo corn syrup, one cup chopped peanuts. Boil syrup until it is very crisp when dropped into cold water or almost to the scorching point. Stir in the nuts while it is boiling and working as rapidly as possible turn it into an oiled pan, smoothing with the spoon.

Puffed Rice Brittle is made same as Peanut Brittle except that a heaping cup of puffed rice is used instead of peanuts.

Cocoanut Brittle may be made by cooking three cups of syrup until almost scorching and then adding one cup shredded cocoanut.

4. Peppermint Chews.—Cook four cups of taffy syrup or Karo corn syrup five minutes, then add a level tablespoonful of crisco and a pinch of salt. Let boil until it breaks crisply when dropped into cold water. Add peppermint extract and turn into an oiled pan. When just cool enough to take in the hands begin pulling. If striped chews are desired, the fruit coloring is added just before the pulling is completed. Cut into small pieces with shears and wrap in oiled paper.

5. Chocolate Chips.—Boil three cups of Karo corn syrup until it is very crisp or almost scroched. Turn quickly into an oiled pan and spread thin. When almost cold cut into small rectangular pieces. Melt confectionery chocolate and dip the rectangles after they have become hard and cold. Place these on oiled paper.

6. Pop Corn Balls.—Put four cups of corn syrup in a pan and after it comes to a boil, let it cook five minutes. Then add a dash of salt and a small piece of crisco. Continue the boiling until it is very brittle when dropped into water. Turn quickly over a pan of warm popcorn and mold into balls with the hands.—Jennie Sneider, Art Supervisor, Eugene Public Schools.

THE GREAT WAR HAS MADE CIGARETTES A NECESSITY.

"Our boys must have their smokes. Send them cigarettes!" This is a familiar appeal now to all of us.

Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" cigarette—LUCKY STRIKE. Thousands of this favorite brand have been shipped to France. There is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages with the red circle.

This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Burley tobacco used in making it has been toasted. "It's toasted" was the "slogan" that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year. Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes a day.

A good part of this immense production is making its way across the water to cheer our boys. The Red Cross has distributed thousands of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes.
