An Appeal For the Children.

I have recently received letters from Mr. W. G. McLaren, superintendent of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective Society. The society has four homes in this state, all in or near Portland, of which the Louise Home is the most widely known.

In the care of the society are men and women who need help as much as the man who lay by the wayside between Jerusalem and Jericho; girls dragged from the mire, whose feet may be setting firmly in the right path; and babies whom nobody can possibly blame for being where they are. Like all babies—like every body, old or young—they are entitled to a fair show. There are hundreds of these hungry mouths to feed and the cost of living what it is. We helped them last year. Cannot we do something now?

You, Mr. Farmer, have apples going to waste, and possibly vegetables to spare. Can you not send them some? Direct to W. G. McLaren, 195 Burnside street, Portland, Ore. If you send between Thanksgiving and New Year's there will be no freight to pay. In that case write several weeks beforehand to the address just given and they will send you the charity tags, to be affixed to the boxes and barrels. And you, Mrs. Housewife, can't you spare a jar of fruit or vegetables? If you live in Coquille you may leave it with me or with Mrs. H. L. Johnson. If you live in the country, or in another town and will get up an offering in your own locality, read again the instructions given Mr. Farmer. The fruit may be sweetened or unsweetened. They offer to furnish jars—but let us save them the expense.

Now, to answer some questions: Yes, there's lots of stuff raised near Portland. However, it doesn't follow that everyone raising it will give of it. Donations will come from all over the state. But don't be afraid that the giving will be overdone. About six thousand quarts of fruit are needed.

"What is the denominationalism of these homes?" They are strictly non-sectarian. No one is ever turned away. Mr. McLaren himself is an ordained minister of the Free Methodist church. But why under these circumstances should we trouble ourselves about creeds? When we prosecute, it is natural and it is right to spread our own beliefs, but feeding the hungry is a different matter. I have never read or heard that Jesus ever asked to see a certificate of membership.

"Don't I think that this sort of thing encourages vice?" No, I don't. People, when yielding to temptation, always think they will never be found out, and will go scot free. There was never one who figured on landing in an institution and being fed on charity. "Isn't it a good deal like pouring water on a duck's back?" Well, I am short of statistics, but eighty-five per cent of the girls turn out well. Remember, "Ours, the duties—God's, the consequences."

And remember the babies—"Cursed from the very beginning with deeds that others have done." Will you let them suffer and die? Do you know that in the Louise Home there are girls of eleven and many in their earliest teens? Do you know that Judge Ben Lindsay and others of experience in dealing with youthful delinquents, say that in nine-tenths of the cases the causes of delinquency are improper training and bad environment? Suppose that you with your good home and careful training and many advantages had done something wrong when you were eleven, or we will say, even as old as fourteen. I for one, have known well brought up persons to do wrong after the age of fourteen and perhaps you can recall instances. And suppose people had said, "You have brought it on yourself. You may starve for all of us."

Yes, it is a hard year on us all. We must "give until it hurts," for our country, for our dear boys, and for the famishing and freezing and dying of other lands, but let us not forget the "down and out," and the helpless at our doors. "Not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare." After all we are not so poverty-stricken that we each can't easily part with a jar of berries or string beans. To us, it is little more than a cup of cold water, all around. Multiplied by hundreds, it means to them life and hope. What are you going to do about it?—Frances E. Epperson.

The Junior Endeavor is progressing nicely with Miss Alice Cunningham as leader. The children each one seem to feel a responsibility in making the meeting what is, and ought to be.

The Senior Endeavor expects a large attendance at the bonfire social Saturday night. A good time is insured.

The superintendent in behalf of the Sunday School through these items wishes the soldier boys to know that we appreciate their attendance, and help in our Sunday School and other meetings. With six of them in Class 8 again Sunday morning and nine in the morning service we can but feel proud of and honor them.

Services on last Sunday both morning and evening were well attended and Rev. W. L. Straub quite excelled himself on both subjects.

Subject for next Sunday morning will be, "Weekly Observance of the Lord's Supper." This is published in outline in tract form, and is used by ministers throughout the northwest. In the evening, "The Origin and Works of the Devil and Why Doesn't God Kill Him?"

Don't forget Rally Day, Oct. 6th. A picture of the crowd who attend on that day will be taken and sent to the Lookout. Every body invited.—Church Correspondent.

Institute at North Bend

Teachers institute will be held in North Bend this year convening October 23 and lasting through October 25. About 20 teachers are expected to attend and the Chandler Hotel will be their headquarters.

Special instructors in war work will be brought from the University of Oregon and from the Oregon Agricultural college to speak at the meetings.

A clinic for the study of abnormal and defective children will be conducted under the direction of Dr. Busk of the education department of the University of Oregon.—Times.

Military Drill in City Schools.

Superintendent R. E. Baker has been contemplating for a month past the introduction of military training in the public schools of Coquille, giving the boys of the High School and of the seventh and eighth grades an opportunity to get the drill, which will count for credits in their school work.

Yesterday afternoon Lieut. Getz and Capt. Young, of the Coquille Coast Guard, on Mr. Baker's invitation, addressed the boys of the grades mentioned on the subject of military training and found them enthusiastically in favor of forming a corps of High School Cadets.

Everyone of the 60 boys present voted to affiliate himself with such an organization and today a paper is being circulated by which they obligate themselves to attend drills.

The plan is to have drill periods twice a week, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening, thus accommodating those who could not attend at one time or the other. Officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the Guard will be detailed as instructors for these drills.

Must Report Influenza Cases.

County Health Officer James Richmond is just in receipt of a letter from the state Board of Health inclosing a copy of a letter that has just been received from the Surgeon General of the United States requesting them to wire reports of all cases of influenza. So Dr. Richmond is asked to report any cases occurring in this county and to urge all the physicians in the county to report cases of their knowledge in order that it may be possible to take steps to prevent epidemics. In case of general outbreaks Dr. Richmond is asked to wire the state board at once.

Butter Prices Here and There.

There isn't much difference in the price of butter the country over. While we are paying 62½ cents a pound here at retail the jobbing prices in New York and other eastern cities range from 54 cents for "fair" to 64 for the best. Of course, the consumer in the east pays several cents more than those figures, however.

Will Support French Child.

It is said that $3 a month is sufficient to support a child in France and Belgium, and the Fifth grade in the Coquille city schools has undertaken the support of Alice Jonanin, a six-year old girl, living in the Rue Broun Sequard in Paris. Geo. Leno is the class treasurer, who will see that the fund is collected. Other classes may conclude to go and do likewise.

Sitka Club Met Last Saturday.

The Sitka Club enjoyed a fine meeting last Saturday night, with music, recitations, speeches, etc., with a race to wind up the affair. A unique feature of the program was the presentation of a $50 liberty bond to W. P. Hart. Every one present had a chance for the bond but he held the lucky number.

Honor Guard Notes.

Many fruit pits, plum, prune and peach are being received at the Salvage Shop. More can be taken care of by the girls. Leave them at the shop, Robinson's Store or at the Sentinel office. These pits supply and essential material in the manufacture of gas masks.

The following names have been added to the list for stars on the service flag. If any one knows of more please notify Miss De Long or the Sentinel immediately:

Belloni, Tom; Belloni, George; Cook, Grant; Cook, Ray; Easton, Theodore; Goodrich, Chas.; Heller, Wm.; Harry, Alva; Harry, Joe; Harry, Hubert; Krawson, Thos.; Krawson, Chester; King, Lyman; Lawhorne, Hugh; Ocheltree, Andrew; Ocheltree, Jack; Ocheltree, Bert; Shepherd, Harold; Shepherd, Archie; Tozier, Harry; Wright, Jess.

Greater interest is being shown in the sewing on the Belgian layettes. Sufficient money has been raised to pay for all material needed, but there is a great deal of work to be done yet. It is imperative that five full layettes be completed within the next three weeks. Every member is urged to be present and, if possible, bring a friend, both Tuesday and Friday evenings at the Liberty Temple.

Saturday Night's Dance.

The Honor Guard dance at Anderson's Hall last Saturday evening was one of the prettiest ever held in Coquille. The decorations of crepe paper streamers, Japanese lanterns, flags, flowers and greenery were artistic and effective and helped make the occasion one to be remembered.

There was an unusually large crowd present, many visitors being here from Powers, Myrtle Point, Bandon, Marshfield and other points in the country. In fact the floor was almost too well filled at times. But it should effectually silence those who have been expressing fear as to the safety of the building.

The girls cleared about $150 as a result of their enterprise in giving the dance, which will be used in furthering war activities.

Living on Goat's Milk.

The spruce men at the Sitka barracks have been living on goat milk this week—since Sunday morning. "Deac" Merchant, who is the owner of the source of supply, does not expect to furnish the squadron with milk indefinitely but will turn "Rosie" over to the Red Cross at Asen's Camp, who will give a dance in her honor.

If the date of your wrapper or label is before Oct. 1918, it will be necessary to change it to get the Sentinel any more.

Saved His Life.

A bunch of Sitka people were in the Sentinel office yesterday noon and told us that a few days ago Neva Harry found Joe Albina by the side of the road choking to death and pulled an Elk's wishbone out of his throat and saved his life; also that a day or two later Jo, on the authority of the sheriff's office here, deputized a couple of men there to arrest Harry for hunting deer illegally, though there was no foundation whatever for the latter story except that Harry had gone out into the woods with some timber cruisers and remained longer than was expected. As to the wishbone story, the Sitka people are sure it will be clear to our East Fork readers.

If the date of your wrapper or label is before Oct. 1918, it will be necessary to change it to get the Sentinel any more.

Seeing Sad Sights.

One phase of the war has not been brought home to us yet. On this coast we rarely see men who have lost their limbs or suffered mutilation on the battle front. How sights of this sort in the east affect a Coquille woman we learn from the following extracts from a letter just received from Mrs. Harriet A. Longston by one of the Sentinel family:

I will close Register No. 2 this coming week. For July it carried almost $62,000,000.

We see men in here from Walter Reed Hospital. Some with both arms gone. One man picked up a fountain pen (?) left in the abandoned trenches by the Germans—looked down and both hands were gone—not a pen but a bomb. Some have half their face gone; others no legs, etc. I don't go on the street much for it unnerves me; and to think that this will be a common sight all over the United States when the war closes. I think I shall hunt an isolated island for my home. It is, indeed, heartbreaking.

Experience the Best Teacher.

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J.
