More About Christmas Boxes

All Red Cross members will be delighted to know that definite provision has at least been made for caring for soldiers who have no friends or relatives to whom Christmas Parcel Labels can be sent.

An army order issued overseas directs such soldiers to mail their Christmas parcel labels to the American Red Cross at Washington, D. C. As rapidly as these labels are received at National Headquarters they will be sent to the Division Office, and the Division Office will distribute them among the Chapters, giving each Chapter as nearly as possible its appropriate share.

It would, of course, be fine if every Chapter could receive the Christmas parcel labels of the boys without friends or relatives who have gone into service from its Chapter jurisdiction. Owing to the short time remaining in this impossible, as National Headquarters must send the first labels received to the western Division. Under this arrangement we shall be certain that labels received from western boys without friends or relatives will be taken care of by the western Division even if they arrive on the very last date of mailing.

Your Chapter should arrange to send a cartons suitably filled to each boy whose label is thus sent to you. Chapter funds should not be used for the purchase of the contents to go in these parcels. Of course, there will be many people who will be anxious to furnish the filling for these cartons or to contribute the money with which the contents may be purchased. It would not be well to solicit any considerable sum for this purpose until you have some idea of how many cartons you must fill as the number may be very small, or none at all, particularly in the smaller Chapters. If extra cartons are necessary for this purpose, we shall see that they are furnished.

Christmas parcel labels have been given out to all men embarking too late to receive them in France. This information may help you to assure some anxious relative.

Clothes Without Limit

Every Red Cross worker who had anything to do with collecting clothing in the recent drive for Belgian Relief will feel proud of the showing made by the Northwest Division.

It will be remembered that our quota during the first drive was 200 tons and we had reasons to believe that closets were fairly well combed in order to meet this allotment. The second drive added 50 per cent to our quota, or 300 tons, and last reports show that over 460 tons have been sent forward with more coming in.

A letter recently received at National Headquarters from Mr. A. Arrowsmith, Manager of the Clothing Campaign for the Commission, indicated that much more clothing was collected than the Commission anticipated. As there is need for all the garments that can be collected, Chapter workers can be proud that the minimum quota set for Chapters has been exceeded.

Extracts from Mr. Arrowsmith's letter follow:

"The results of your assistance are overwhelming, and are taxing our resources greatly. The large majority of Chapters report passing much beyond their assigned quota, and the clothing is being received in such quantities that we are working until ten o'clock each night even to take care of it. Today I have been obliged to lease another building to accommodate the flood. It is a most remarkable manifestation."

W. E. Best, manager of the Fyfe-Wilson Lumber Company interests in this county, says that company has quit operations at Fort Ord for the present and is now getting logs at Remote on the middle fork of the Coquille. The logs will be driven down the river at high water.

Why Two Classification Cards?

So that registrants may know the reason they receive two classification cards and thus save the trouble of telephoning or writing to the Local Board for an explanation, the following is published:

The District Board passes on all Industrial and Agricultural claims. The Local Board passes on all Dependency and other claims. If a registrant makes a claim for deferred classification on grounds of dependency and a claim on the grounds of being employed in a necessary Industrial and Agricultural enterprise, he is classified by the Local Board and mailed a classification card which shows the class given him. His questionnaire is then sent to the District Board and his Industrial or Agricultural classification is determined by them. On return of the questionnaire a second classification card is mailed showing the classification given by the District Board. After the five day period has passed, the time allowed in which to make appeal, the final classification card is mailed, which is the card that takes the place of the Registration Certificate, given at the time of registration, and should be carried on the person at all times.

If a registrant's only claim is on the ground of Industrial or Agricultural occupation, he would go automatically in Class One A as far as the Local Board is concerned, and the card mailed to that effect. His questionnaire is then sent to the District Board to be passed on for his Industrial or Agricultural claim, on return a classification card is mailed showing the classification given by them. The registrant should wait until he receives his classification given by the District Board before making a kick about not receiving a deferred classification. On the second line the card will show which Board the classification is from by having either the Local Board or District Board crossed out as the case may be.

A great many registrants with dependents on their labor for support, for patriotic reasons are not having their dependents sign and execute the supporting affidavit to their claim, leaving the matter up to the Board to grant the deferred classification.

We wish to say that the Selective Regulations specifically state that the supporting affidavit must be secured before the claim can be considered. So if you desire to have our claim given consideration either on dependency or industrial or agricultural, be sure and have the supporting affidavits duly executed, as required by the regulations.

Mr. Cleaves at Pocatello.

The following are extracts from a letter just received by the Sentinel from Rev. C. H. Cleaves, of Pocatello, Idaho. Mr. Cleaves was for five years pastor of the M. E. Church, South, in Coquille:

"We are getting along fine here, and are having a highly successful work. We have been here thirteen months, and we have received 61 into the church; congregations have grown greatly; the finances are all on a business basis; the organizations of the church working fine, the interest fine. The church was eleven months without a pastor when we came here. The people have increased our salary to $1800, and a parsonage which rented for $45 per month, and there is a prospect of the salary going to $1800 before long. The church has made our call indefinite. We are pleased with the church, the building, and the splendid pipe organ. We are making plans for fine work this winter. The work is very pleasant indeed, and we like Pocatello fine. It has as fine a climate as I ever saw.

"We are all just now recovering from the influenza."

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.00.

From Our Town to Town

The national letter in regard to the influenza letter from Harry H. Coaling, who is supposed to be with the first American army northwest of Verdun. It is dated Sept. 19:

I should get him word all about the movement. Well, I am at one of those places that the Germans were unable to hold and we sure have a time looking things over, also trying to make out all the different German signs that are hanging around. The whole gang including the Kaiser is yelling for peace, but the only reply he will get is a name war; he knows the kind of peace we came over here for, so let him worry. Everyone over here in the A. E. F. is willing to fight it out and that is what the outfit across the way does not like. A German in Holland is quoted as saying that the Germans won half the world by blood and iron and now they are going to win the other half through begging and tears.

Today makes exactly seven months that I have been at the front and during that time I have had several good runs to dugout holes or anything that looked like a hole. The other day they were dropping shells about a hundred yards from us that made holes in the ground eleven feet deep and twenty-five feet across. We call them G. I. cans, named after our big water cans.

I have sent you several packages and hope you get them O. K. Every one of them is absolutely safe, so when you get them do not be afraid.

I signed a paper yesterday requesting the U. S. government to send my Liberty bond to you for safe keeping. Do not worry about me, I am getting along fine and also getting all I can get.

Mike is as good as ever and sends his regards.

On the same date, he writes his sister, Mrs. H. B. Warren, as follows: I don't know whether you believe it or not but we are having the time of our life, everything is going fine. We are now tramping on what used to be Germany and expect to get farther. We sure fix our dugouts and billets up when we have a chance, sometimes we even have a piano, upholstered chairs and dining room tables, nothing is too good for the Yanks. Don't tell any body but at present I am sleeping on a feather mattress—guf sed.

The A. E. F. could not expect to have things any better than they are. Every little thing is taken care of, and one thing that is noticeable that where you see the Americans it is as a rule about the cleanest part of the front.

Don't be surprised if you wake up some morning and hear that "Old Bill" had enough. He is starting to cry a little already but we came over here to fight it out with him. That is what is worrying him at present.

Employment Organization

As a means of establishing a closer relationship between all cities in this part of the country with regard to employment of men in essential non-essential industries, and various other labor conditions, the Community Labor Board, of Marshfield, at its meeting on Saturday passed a resolution providing for the appointment of a representative or adviser in each of the cities of the district.

These advisers who receive no salary, are to be chosen at a public meeting called for that purpose. Hugh McLain, who was given charge of these meetings will send out notices of their date to some public officer in each town.

The duty of such adviser will be to keep the district labor board in this city, in touch with the labor conditions of their immediate vicinity. Men engaged in such non-essential business as driving pleasure cars for hire, running soft drink establishments, etc., will be reported to the district board, which after due consideration, will report such persons to the draft board, which has the authority to change the classification of such persons.

After the war is over the labor board will be effective in placing the men who return from abroad, in their former positions, and finding occupation for those whose places they will take.

Mr. McLain will be present at each of the local meetings to explain the purposes and work of the community labor board. Towns which are to have advisers are: Powers, North Bend, Gardiner, Florence, Reedsport, Bandon, Coquille, Myrtle Point, and Mapleton.

Marking Sample Ballots

Attorney Pollock marked some of the sample ballots at the City Hall Tuesday, simply making a mark at the point where no name could be printed of any candidate to succeed Justice Moore, and where so many of us wrote in the name of Judge Cole. Here the board unanimously consented to permit the marking of the sample ballots. At the court house, however, Mr. Kern who was one of the judges, demurred and the matter was finally settled by a vote of the board which also permitted the marking of the sample ballots by a four to one vote. Just how any harm could be done by making this mark was not evident, and yet we can easily see how it might lead in a few years to something entirely reprehensible and in conflict with both the spirit and letter of our ballot law. Suppose for instance somebody with a hand stamp should place on all sample ballots at the polls a big fat with a finger pointing straight to the name of the candidate who employed him. That would certainly be "electioneering at the polls" with a vengeance.

On the other hand something to call attention to the vacancy in the supreme court to be filled at this election might have seemed both desirable and necessary, and so long as nothing was done to indicate how the vacancy should be filled, no harm could have resulted.

That the point of irregularity should have been noted shows how deeply interested people are in preserving the integrity of the ballot and frowning upon anything that squints towards disregard of the corrupt practices act.

More About Corn Show

(From J. L. Smith's County Bulletin) We had intended holding the annual corn show here at Coquille about the middle of November but on account of the influenza it is, of course, necessary to put it off a little while, but as there are already some indications that the disease is subsiding, it has finally been decided to arrange for it on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13 and 14.

The Coquille Commercial Club is co-operating with the County Agent's office as usual in putting on the show, and we are planning to make it better than ever.

This issue of the Bulletin has been unavoidably delayed, but it is the intention to get out the next number about the last of November and in it will be announced the complete program and particulars of the whole show.

The exhibit will be held in the Laird building opposite the post office. This building is hardly large enough for all the business houses to each put on a display booth so they are planning to each one to fix up a booth or an exhibit in his own store window and let the farmers make individual farm and community display booths on one side of the hall and have the county Corn and Potato exhibits on the other side.

Some of the Corn Show Prizes

(From J. L. Smith's County Bulletin) The influenza has prevented our committee from completing the prize list for exhibits and sports at the Corn Show, but it will be printed in the next issue of the Bulletin and all the County newspapers. Be sure and watch for it. It will be something worth working for. 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes will be given for the following exhibits:

- Best 10 ears any variety Yellow Dent
- Best 100 ears any variety Yellow Dent
- Best 10 ears any variety White Dent
- Best 100 ears any variety White Dent
- Best 10 ears any variety Flint
- Best 10 ears any variety Smoky Dent
- Best 10 ears any variety Sweet Corn
- Best 10 ears any variety Pop Corn
- Best single ear making highest shelling test.
- Best one Farm Exhibit.
- Best Community Exhibit.
- Best peck of Potatoes any variety.
- Sweepstakes Prizes
- Best 10 ears any variety.
- Best 100 ears any variety.

There Will Be a Shelling Test

(From J. L. Smith's County Bulletin) A shelling test will be a new stunt at the corn show this year. A dandy prize will be given for the ear of corn, which makes the highest shelling test, which means the greatest percentage of shelled corn. This test will be made by the judges at the Corn Show, who will first weigh the ear of corn, then shell the ear and weigh the shelled corn, next divide the weight of the shelled corn by the weight of the whole ear, which will give the proportion of corn, subtract that figure from 100 and the difference will be the proportion of cob to corn. This is the real test of a good ear of corn.

Now let's see who can find this best ear, and when you think you have it put it up very close to the stove with the rest of your show corn so that you can get every bit of moisture dried out of the cob. Then be sure

UNITED WAR FUND SURE TO BE NEEDED

Even End of Hostilities Would Not Change This.

Though the war should cease immediately it is said that every cent of the $170,000,000 sought in the United War Work campaign in the United States, for the seven approved organizations maintaining the American fighters, will be needed just the same.

This is the word of leaders of the fund-raising campaign and their explanation is easily comprehended. In the first place, it has been officially estimated that 18 months to two years must elapse before all the American boys can be returned from foreign soil. There are the men of many other countries to be transported home when the war ends, so the number of boats for use of the Yankees will be limited. Then there is also the fact that thousands must remain so long as the great properties and stores of the United States have not been disposed of or returned.

Immediate cessation of war activities in Europe would plainly create grave problems connected with the care of the men. Remove the great motive which actuates every man at the front today and throw him into dull inactivity, with nothing much to do but await his chance to return to home and loved ones, and the work of keeping him cheerful increases in magnitude. The soldier welfare organizations foresee all phases of this grave contingency. They foresee how great would be the need for reading matter, entertainments, amusements, recreation and the cheery personal touch.

PERSHING WARMS OF GERMAN PUBLICITY

Germany's efforts to involve the United States and her Allies into a consideration of peace terms and an armistice did not impress James F. Pershing, brother of General Pershing, as being sincere and designed to give the world what it is praying for. Mr. Pershing, who was in Oregon recently in the interest of the United War Work drive, which opens November 11, cautioned the American people against the too-common tendency to become apathetic under the idea that peace and the cessation of hostilities are at hand.

"When heaven is ready to negotiate with hell," he declared, "then will America be ready to make peace with Germany." He told of the great work being done in Europe by the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and other agencies, and called on Americans to respond liberally in supporting the campaign about to open for raising money with which to carry on these activities.

GENERAL PERSHING MODEST MAN

"All that General Pershing wants now is the success of the American boys in France, and to avoid, so far as possible, any glory for himself," declared James F. Pershing, brother of America's leader in the field, in an address delivered in Portland recently in behalf of the United War Work drive, which opens November 11. The speaker paid a tribute to the men in the ranks, and gave his audience an idea of the high esteem in which the boys are held by their commander. He showed the importance of war work in this country as an imperative necessity to the victory of the Allies in the battles for Democracy, and urged that no diminution in speed be allowed to result through recent peace proposals. Unqualified indorsement of the United War Work drive was voiced by Mr. Pershing who is one of the leading authorities on conditions now existing along the battlefront, and he was especially zealous that there be no relaxation of efforts in behalf of the several war work funds.
