FUHRMAN'S PHARMACY The Coquille Store COQUILLE, OREGON

Leave Beaver Hill Today.

Soldiers stationed in the Beaver Hill district for the past two months doing government construction work are leaving today for the Vancouver barracks where they will probably be mustered out. They will go out by a special train this afternoon, says the Coos Bay Times.

There are 376 soldiers stationed at Beaver Hill and all will go away about 20 men who will remain for a few days to clean up the last bit of equipment.

A. W. Callow, district supervisor for the government, and J. P. Van Orsdal, manager for the Portland Lumber company, which was doing the work for the government, arrived last night from Portland and will remain until business details are closed, for approximately two weeks. Complete abandonment of the Beaver Hill project with removal of the rails for return to the firm from which they are leased and junking of all other material which would not be profitable to move, is the plan.

It was stated at Vancouver according to Mr. Callow, that it would be impossible to muster out the men before the lapse of 30 days. Owing to limited barracks room at Vancouver, it is probable most of the men will be left in their present quarters throughout the country, until the present Vancouver barracks have been partly emptied. The Beaver Hill soldiers have their own tents and equipment so that their quartering at Vancouver is no problem. But other soldiers stationed in this district may remain here for some weeks yet.

By application it is possible for enlisted men in the mills and camps to secure transfer now it is stated, but the fact that they are receiving good wages and having something to do as well as adequate quarters and supplies prevents their moving.

Mr. Callow has recovered from his experience with influenza. He was taken ill on his way to Portland from Coos Bay about ten days ago. He attempted to get hospital room in Portland but nothing was available, so, ill as he was, he was forced to go on to his home at Hoquiam, Washington, where he has since been under treatment.

The Beaver Hill project is not the only one which is being abandoned. In Washington there are more than 100 miles of railroad laid down by the government to open up spruce and a big cut-up plant built, all of which will be left. Not a log has been cut. The railroad and cut-up plant in the Toledo district will be affected in the same way. The Vancouver cut-up plant equipment is now being stored.

Punished for Aiding Desertion.

According to Portland papers, Wilho Koskela, who was arrested in the Gardiner neighborhood by Federal authorities several weeks ago, charged with aiding Oscar Anzama to desert from the army, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by Judge Bean in Portland last week. Anselm Koskela, Lillian Koskela, John Anzama and Hannah Anzama, the last two parents of young Anzama, were fined $50 each.—Gardiner Index.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

When you are troubled with indigestion or constipation, take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Indigestion is usually accompanied by constipation and is aggravated by it. Chamberlain's Tablets cause a gentle movement of the bowels, relieving the congested condition.

Bad Luck Remains.

Last week Thursday afternoon we had the big wind and rain storm of the season with a continued performance at night. Quite a number of trees and snags were blown down.

News Harry said thirty-seven head of sheep to John Youken. He reserved twenty head.

Bennie Laird came home from George Hospital Monday.

Julius Bushman is at the Grays hospital in Coquille. He was operated on for appendicitis Sunday.

Miss Abell, of Coquille, was visiting at Walter Laird's lately.

Charles Collier caught a coyote in a bear trap Tuesday. This one and the three that Jacob Mater caught last year on Rock creek are the only ones known to have been in this part of the country.

When anyone thinks that the German barbarians are entitled to sympathy he should think of the Lusitania, of Lorraine, of Dinant, a small place where the Germans murdered 600 to 800 of its citizens, of the murder of Edith Capell, of the raping and murdering of women and children, of all the horrible, unspeakable deeds which they did. He should not forget that the German female and her offspring applauded, rejoiced and celebrated with her male kinsmen the sinking of the Lusitania, and all the other heinous acts of Bill Hobensollers, alias Billie 2 and all his gang of thugs, thieves, liars, rapists, and murderers. The armistice is written evidence of the vengeance of the Almighty and of man that is come upon them. And when the German barbarians are given the peace that is coming to them, may their fangs be drawn, so that hereafter and for evermore they will not be able to poison drinking fountains or human flesh; for today the German barbarians are a blotch on the landscape, polluters of the atmosphere.

Long ago there was an outfit that thought they could build a tower and get above the Almighty and it became their tower of babel, in other words it became a place of childish babble. The German barbarians thought they could build a tower of "kultur" and "frightfulness" and be bigger than the Almighty. They built it, and built their own damnation at the same time. The German barbarian today is not interested so much in his "empire" as he is in his empire. R. A. Easton.

The Sentinel lacked a good deal of getting all the "copy" on hand set last week, when that high tide at the Bay shut off our juice; but here is the part of R. A. Easton's letter from East Fork we had to hold over:

The full text of the armistice is surely great reading. Billie 2, who is now Mr. Billie Hobensollers, or Billie 0, tried to make folks believe there was no such word as "surrender" for the Germans. The armistice has written it into their language in capital letters, and the generations to come will know it. It will catch on to the French or English language for the German language is a dead language and will not get them anywhere that is worth while, for there is too much stench to the German.

At the supper table Wednesday the one who pours the chocolate said, "Billie 2 must be wondering what has become of 'Gott.'" Another said, "Billie 2 must be running to look for the next war."

If the treacherous, traitorous Germans think getting the fadderland up into little republics will save them from paying the price, they will have another think coming.

These are the biggest and best days the world ever saw.

"For right is right and God is God. And right the day must win, To doubt would be disloyalty, To falter would be sin."

"Praise the Lord. Oh my soul and all that is within me praise his holy name."

"He rules the world through truth and grace and makes the nations prove the glories of his saving grace and the wonders of his love."

It is written, "If thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink." Sure Germany is asking for bread and the United States of America will give her bread and not a stone, and we will know that we are feeding a sneaking, treacherous, traitorous enemy just the same.

The divine right of kings is a thing of the past.

They shall come from the north and from the south, from the east and from the west and shall sit down in the great conventions of the republic of the world.

McKinley Notes.

Mason Wilcox and wife visited at the Bethliffe Lawhorn home Sunday. Leonard Hartley had business at McCarthy's camp Sunday.

Elton Robbins, who has been suffering from blood poisoning in his right hand is better again.

The Red Cross ladies resumed their work again Thursday. They finished four garments and cut seven more. Mrs. Lawhorn was sick and unable to be there, but the work progressed very nicely under the inspection of Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. Lee Mast. The day being so stormy only ten were present. They were: Mesdames Nellie Brown, Anna Wilcox, Bea Lawhorn, W. H. Bunch, Chas. King, Arthur Brown, Lee Mast, Geo. Glenn, and Mabel Wilcox and Mildred Mast.

McKinley was somewhat shocked last Friday afternoon. Arthur Brown and Mason Wilcox were repairing the telephone line at this time when a heavy bolt of thunder and flash of lightning made them speechless for a few minutes. Carleton and Ted Brown, Elton Robbins, Lloyd Shepherd and Claude Waters were working with a line at the McCarthy camp and felt quite a hard shock. It was the hardest thunder storm Coos has had for several years.

Dorothy Meiden was taken very sick with appendicitis Saturday. They took her to Dr. Hamilton's hospital for treatment. It may be necessary for an operation.

Arthur Brown's family visited with L. A. Lawhorn's Sunday.

Bethliffe Lawhorn had business in Coquille Monday. It was necessary for him to go by the way of Fairview as the Norway road is almost impassable for cars.

Powers Moonshiners Arrested.

Acting on a Federal bench warrant Deputy United States Marshal F. B. Tichenor last Monday arrested O. W. Moore, C. E. Moore and Charles Zimmerman, of Powers. The arrests came about through investigations which followed the finding of a still near Powers.

The men were taken before Justice of the Peace Dodge, at Myrtle Point, and later held under bond of $1,000. Bondsman in the persons of A. H. Powers and Charles Fensler were secured and the accused men were afterwards released.

Just what the alleged connection of Mr. Zimmerman with the case is cannot be ascertained. He is the justice of peace at Powers and has been acting as timekeeper for the Smith-Powers Logging Co. for some time.

Chet Moore is alleged to have reported some abuses which were rumored to have prevailed when the Loyal Legion men were first sent to work at Powers, and at the trial of Chet Moore in the district court it was claimed by his attorney that Mr. Moore had been persecuted thereafter for having informed Colonel Disque of conditions.—Marshfield Record.

Oregonian's Fake News.

Supt. Gates, of the Coos and Curry Telephone Company, denies very emphatically the truth of the statements made in the following article which appeared in the Oregonian the first of the week under a Coquille date line:

"A feud exists between the telephone operators of Coquille and Myrtle Point, and for that reason Coquille operators refuse to give Myrtle Point people proper service, according to an answer filed by Myrtle Point with the Public Service of the Coos & Curry County Telephone company for increased rates. The answer also avers that this feud is the main cause for poor service rather than poor equipment. It is charged that the company wishes to use the money received from increased rates to extend its line rather than to better its service.

In an answer filed by the city of Coquille to the same application the city states that the increases will cause a reduction in the volume of business which will defeat the end which the company is seeking to attain."

Help Solicited for Hospital.

Mercy Hospital in North Bend, but serving the county and other adjacent counties, on terms within reach of everyone in need of hospital care, does not receive the consideration that it deserves.

Those who live nearest the hospital, in these and trying days of epidemic, have opportunity to know of the faithful services rendered at Mercy hospital and the meager returns in fees that constitute the sole income of the institution.

Not only are fees reasonable but the hospital does a great deal of charity work. The high cost of everything to eat now and the quality of food served, the price of eggs and milk especially, make it hard for the management to keep up its high standard of efficiency.

Everyone who has been a patient or had friends who have been patients at Mercy Hospital, knows how every effort is put forth there in the interest of those seeking health. The medical services rendered at the little hospital are equal to the medical services rendered in any hospital in the country. Our leading physicians all practice there and all give much free service to persons unable to pay for medical help.

A county-wide Thanksgiving offering to the hospital is being arranged. Vegetables, fruit, poultry, eggs, canned goods, sheets, pillow cases, towels, napkins, all are needed and will be gratefully accepted.

A can of fruit, a glass of jelly, a napkin, a towel is a very little thing but a big help when multiplied by the population of a county and delivered where the need is great as it now is, at Mercy Hospital.

This movement is heartily endorsed by the Red Cross committee for civilian relief that sees in it an opportunity for us to do "our bit" in Red Cross service right here at home. So many soldiers have been cared for at the hospital the past month the institution has the atmosphere of a military hospital.

Soldiers and civilians alike will welcome a chance to help this good work here in our midst. And our weary doctors and nurses will feel a new impulse when they know their labors are being shared by a whole community.

We will be pleased to receive any donation for the Hospital that you may care to make.

Please leave at Lyons' grocery store any time before Nov. 28th. Mary E. Cary, local chairman.

Portland Market Report.

Portland, Ore. Nov. 18, 1918.—Another rather liberal run of cattle came forward for today's market, 1700 head being in the pen this morning. The market opened fairly active especially on cow stuff which all cleaned up at steady to strong prices compared to a week ago, as far as steers the market was not very brisk, practically all buyers showing very little eagerness to take on many steers. The demand for light weight feeders as well as the good heavy kind continues excellent at steady to strong prices. Thin, off grade cows and light steers all found a ready sale to both butchers and packers. The extreme top of the steer market was $12.75, one bunch of choice 1250 lb steers getting this figure, two other loads sold at $12.50 with a scattering of the strictly good steers from $12.00 up. A very good kind of steer sold on a $11.00 to 12.00 range with fairly good killers getting from $10.25 to 10.75; strictly good quality heavy feeders are selling from $9.50 to 10.25 to both killers and to all country orders, choice kind of off grade stuff sold on a $9.50 to 8.00 range, one load of extra choice light weight heifers sold at $9.50 with a load of weighty 110 lb cows bringing $9.25. The general run of the strictly good cows sold from $8.00 to $8.50 with a fairly good kind bringing from $7.50 up, medium classes sold on a $6.50 to 7.25 range with common and ordinary stuff getting from $4.00 to 5.00. Strictly good heavy bulls sold up to $7.00 with a pretty good kind getting $6.50; strictly fat veal calves sold at $11.00 and $11.50 with heavy veals bringing from $7.50 to $9.00.

Around 3200 head of hogs were on the market today, demand was fairly good and we had an active market at steady prices. Strictly good hogs sold up to $17.25 which was the day's top. The bulk of the sales ranged from $17.00 to 17.15. Pigs are finding a good outlet at steady prices selling mostly two cwt under top.

There were 1700 head of sheep all sold here today including 500 direct to Packers. The demand for both sheep and lambs continues slow although there is a marked improvement over two weeks ago. Strictly good lambs are selling around $12.50 with heavy stuff getting from $9.00 to 10.00. Yearlings are selling from $10.00 to 11.00 with a fairly good mill, while ewes are bringing from $8.50 to 9.00.

Got to Front in Record Time.

Mrs. A. C. Kern says the family has just received a letter from her brother, Lee Ray, written "Somewhere in France," on Oct. 18, and informing them that he had just got back from 15 days' service at the front where he had captured two German prisoners. As he joined the colors only last June, going out to Camp Lewis on the 24th of that month, and was subsequently sent to Camp Kearney at San Diego, and did not go to Europe until September, he seems to have had little time after he got over in getting into the thick of things. His baptism of fire was not deferred for overmuch training certainly.

Mrs. Kern's other brother, Glenn, who worked in the shoe factory here last summer joined the Marines and left home joined the 9th of October this year, going to Quantico, Virginia. He arrived there only a few days before the armistice was signed, but whether he had machine started for Europe, they have not heard.
