Portland Market Report.

Portland, Jan. 6, 1919—Cattle receipts for the beginning of the week total 2000 head, with a strong market prevailing in the steer division, other lines remaining steady. Quotations: Prime steers $13.00-14.00; good to choice steers $11.50-12.50; medium to good steers $10.50-11.50; fair to medium steers $9.50-10.50; common to fair steers $8.50-9.50; choice hogs and heifers $10.00-11.00; medium to good cows and heifers $9.00-10.00; fair to medium cows and heifers $7.00-8.00; canners $4.00-5.00; bulls $6.00-8.50; calves $9.00-12.50; stockers and feeders $7.00-9.00.

Hog receipts over Sunday total 5000 head, with a good demand and strong prices. Quotations are: Prime mixed $17.25-17.50; medium mixed $16.85-17.00; rough heavies $15.00-16.00; pigs $14.50-15.50; bulk $17.25.

Sheep receipts are not very large with 1500 head coming forward over Sunday. Quotations are: Prime lambs $12.00-13.00; fair to medium lambs $9.00-11.00; yearlings $10.00-11.50; wethers $9.00-10.00; ewes $6.00-8.00.

Passing the Word Along

One of the methods of communicating from one officer to another in the trenches is to give the message to one of the privates and tell him to "pass the word along" the line until it reaches its destination, viz., the officer at the other end. The following story will show how a serious message can be distorted on its journey from mouth to mouth:

Lieutenant A., in charge of one end of the British line, told the private in front to "pass the word along" to Lieutenant B: "We are going to advance. Can you send us reinforcements?"

When Lieutenant B. received the message it was like this: "We are going to a dance. Can you send us three or four pence?"—Strand Magazine.

Cal Harry made a trip to Coquille Monday via the Brewster Valley freight and passenger truck.

Mrs. Cal Harry is improving in health.

Neva Harry was visiting the fore part of the week with his daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mrs. Mason Wilcox, of Middle Creek.

Henry Charlton, of Brewster Valley, who has a contract for felling and bucking timber for Dennis McCarthy on Middle Creek, has so much timber ahead of the hauling that he quit camp Monday and got to work at some other camp. Cold weather is delaying the hauling.

Charles Culbertson has returned from Myrtle Point.

Tuesday morning the mercury stood at 24 degrees.

The following is an extract from a letter dated Dec. 8, 1918, written by Auren Whitney, of Needham, Mass., to his cousin, Mrs. W. D. Beaman, of Westboro, Mass., concerning the death of Francis Whitney, the only son of and child of Auren and Mary Whitney: "We are thankful that we had Francis even for these few fleeting years, and that he was such a manly fellow and a precious son. It is some consolation to feel that Francis did what he could in a glorious cause and that he leaves an honorable record. The first part of verse 27 of Deuteronomy 33 has been much in my mind in these dark days."

The first part of verse 27 of Deut. 33 reads, "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

The words and letters of mothers and fathers as they gave their sons to the fight for the redeeming of the world from the claws of the German barbarian and their words and letters when the "last full measure of devotion" has been paid are witnesses to the fire of righteousness burning in their souls, the making a freewill offering, having counted the probable cost, of those who scented the battle for human rights from afar and were not of the kind that answered aye when the call for volunteers for dangerous duty was sounded. 1918 has been a great and good year. 1919 will be a greater and better year, for we must live up to the price paid for the redemption of the world from the power of might into the force of right.

The garden of Gethsemane has been enlarged and Jesus Christ has not found the watchers sleeping but active fighters that they might cause him who "draweth the sword to perish by the sword."

Got His For Bootlegging

Jack Gaffney, who came to Coquille last April and who has been under suspicion as a bootlegger during the summer, was arrested at Roseburg a few days ago, charged with bringing liquor into dry territory. Nine quarts of liquor were found in his possession. He was fined $50 and being unable to pay was committed to jail. There has been some talk of his having been connected with the late Julius Bracho in the booze business but we have heard nothing definite along that line.

Here is the story the Roseburg Review tells about Gaffney's arrest:

A raid on train No. 16 was made by the officers on Saturday evening, resulting in the taking of two suitcases full of booze and the arrest of J. T. Gaffney, of Coos Bay. The raid proved to be quite exciting. While the officers were searching the train for the booze, Gaffney succeeded in making his escape, knocking down one of the men on the train during the struggle.

A wire was sent to Drain to the officers there and Gaffney was taken from the train at that place. A warrant was sent there for his arrest and he will be brought back to Roseburg to face trial here. He has been in California and was returning to Coos Bay with a supply of liquor. He is a prize fighter by profession and is said to be widely known in the Coos Bay country.

Probate Court Items.

Last Saturday a petition was filed for the administration of the estate of George Hayden, of Marshfield, who died December 16. The estimated value of the property is $300. The heirs are his father, Walter Hayden, his brother, Rhys Hayden, and his two sisters, Nellie Hayden and Dolly Getty.

On Tuesday an order was made appointing A. J. Foster administrator of the estate of Omah McGinnis, of Marshfield. This consists of personal property valued at $200. The heirs are her father and mother, Walter and Juliet Nicklin, a son, Thomas, of 16 years, and two younger daughters, Rose Agnes and Elizabeth Justina.

Letters of administration were granted to Oma K. Sell in the estate of her husband, Joseph J. Sell, who died at Myrtle Point Dec. 26. The estate consists of $2,500 in realty and $1,000 personal property. The appraisers are Charles Sell, John Sperry and Charles Melton. The heirs consist of the widow, who is the administratrix, and four sons, Henry, Vernon, Ernest and Willis, and daughter, Edith.

A petition for letter of administration of the estate of J. D. Tharp, of Allegany, who died Dec. 24, was filed Wednesday. Leona Tharp, his widow, was named as administratrix. The estate is valued at $2,000 and the heirs besides the widow are Millard, Lynn and Kenneth, sons of the deceased.

Marriage Licenses

Jan. 3—Gustav Bjerke, of North Bend, and Hattie Nonh, of Allegany. That is the way the license reads but in the certificate made out by Rev. Henry T. Akinson, of the North Bend M. E. church, the same day, the bridegroom's name appears as Gustaf Sjorgren. The discrepancy is explained by the fact that the name of the person making the affidavit for the license was set down in the record here as that of the bridegroom.

Jan. 9—Ralph James McMaster, and Gertrude Bohan, both of North Bend.

Inman Plant Damaged $20,000.

C. C. Inman, manager of the Inman Mines Company on Sixes river, who was here during the past week told about the damage done to his company's property by lightning during an electric storm on November 14th. Lightning struck four times within a short space of time, one or more of the bolts striking the valves in the dam, wrecking the bulkhead and causing damage to the extent of $20,000. The damage included wrecking of a large sector of trestle carrying the water to the hydraulics, also a part of the trestle that carried the railroad.

The dam and pipe line had just been completed and it was intended to begin operations within a few days. It was a costly blow to the company but the stockholders are not discouraged. Two eastern stockholders were at the mine at the time the damage occurred. The company has voted to begin at once making repairs and more men are now going to the camp. The saw mill has been started up and the work of rebuilding the dam is under way. It is estimated that it will take nearly three months to get the plant up to the point of operation again. About 25 men will be employed during that time.—Bandon World.
