

MINOR MENTION.

Telling About People and Events in the City and County.

C. J. Fuhrman spent last Sunday at the Bay.

L. A. Liljeqvist was over from the Bay yesterday.

Mrs. M. O. Hawkins was a Marshfield visitor over Sunday.

Father H. J. McDewitt was in the city the first of the week.

J. W. Laird is building a garage at his place on Coulter street.

Miss Edna Harlocker was visiting in Marshfield the first of the week.

E. N. Smith has returned from California and was in Coquille Tuesday.

The Coos & Curry Fair will be held at Myrtle Point October 1, 2, 3 and 4.

One more elegant room for rent at the Hersey Home. Inquire of Mrs. Hersey.

Mrs. Fred Hollister came over from North Bend Tuesday for a visit with friends here.

Judge James Watson went over to Marshfield Sunday to attend the Easter services of the Knights Templar.

Miss Winnie Currie is back on the switchboard at central after a two weeks' visit at various points in the county.

M. J. Krantz, of Reedsport, was a caller Monday afternoon. He is one of the enthusiastic boosters for the Pacific highway.

A. M. Woodford, better known as "Dad" is preparing to move to Medford, where all his property interest are, about May first.

H. M. Shaw M. D., Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat specialist, will be at Baxter Hotel, Coquille, on Saturday, May 3rd. Glasses Fitted. 1413

Sheriff W. W. Gage got out again Wednesday after having been confined to the house for several days with an attack of grip.

Robert J. Watson, an uncle of Judge James Watson, died last week at Creswell and the funeral was held at Junction City on Monday.

V. R. Wilson, "Optometrist," Coquille, Oregon. Eyes Tested, glasses fitted. Optical repairs of all kinds. Broken lenses duplicated. 1318

Miss Frances Medley entertained fifteen friends with a theatre party at the Liberty last Saturday evening. They had a good time and enjoyed the show.

County Commissioner Archie Phillip came home from Portland last week from Portland last week with a severe attack of influenza and has since been in bed.

Albert B. Bidley, who is to superintend the paving of the Coquille-Marshfield road this summer was in the city yesterday interviewing Judge Watson.

Mrs. O. C. Sanford and her sister, Miss Ella Walstrom, returned last evening from Ashland where they spent the winter for the benefit of Mrs. Sanford's health.

Geo. Aker was over from North Bend last Friday visiting his parents. He was still walking on air due to the advent of a little son in the family the Saturday preceding.

J. A. Meyers, of Remote, was in town Monday and called to add his name to the Sentinel list. He has just leased the Hannon place up there, coming west from Nebraska last October.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Robinson intend leaving Sunday morning for a tour of California, going as far south as San Diego, and possibly into the Imperial valley. They will be gone a month or more.

From May 1 until October 1, the Coquille Library will not be open on Sunday. Mrs. Dimmick informs us, because the attendance is not sufficient that day to warrant the time required to keep it open.

Mrs. H. A. Isensee informs us that Earle is due to land in New York tomorrow. He was on the Rhine when he wrote the last letter we published from him, but very hopeful of securing a speedy discharge.

Rev. Louis M. Anderson, of the Myrtle Point Presbyterian church, was a caller Tuesday in company with Rev. Mr. Amos, of Portland, who is looking after the interests of that denomination in this section.

At your service. Tailoring, Cleaning and Pressing. Phone 1193. R. H. Sweet.

Notwithstanding the dust being raised by the Coos Bay Times, we understand that crushed rock from the Dean & Brown quarry on Coos river will be used for the concrete on the Coquille-Marshfield road.

H. E. Shelley and Marc Shelley announced this week the contracting and construction firm of Shelley & Son, and that they are ready at any time to furnish plans, specifications and estimates on buildings of any kind.

Two autoloads of Japanese went down from Bandon recently to work in the MacLeay Cannery at Wedderburn and a couple of days later a party of Chinamen followed them who are to work in the Seaborg cannery.

This week the Coos & Curry Telephone Co. installed a telephone in the council chamber at the city hall and now wives who want to get their husbands home from the Commercial Club in a hurry can call them there. The number is 653.

The Sentinel needs another hand in its mechanical department, in fact it is a good deal handicapped for lack of help. If the reader knows of any one with or without experience who would like a place in this office, we shall be glad to hear about it.

At the Liberty Theatre tonight Nina Kitts, daughter of the proprietor of the Ladies Shop at Marshfield, will appear in her great Toe Dance specialty. At Powers last night she carried the house by storm. She will appear in a beautiful Liberty costume.

Tuesday-afternoon Mrs. J. A. Collier entertained the "500" club and a number of other invited guests in her elegant and spacious new home on Third street, the occasion being in the nature of a house warming. A dainty and appetizing lunch was served.

W. H. Lyons has accepted a position with the Nosler Cash & Carry Store where he started to work the first of the week. Keith Leslie will remain there until the middle of May when he will take charge of the books for the ice, fish and ice cream business of T. B. Currie.

Mrs. Fred Slagle and Mrs. L. P. Branstetter are receiving this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Slagle, from 3 to 5, in honor of Mrs. Jennie Williams, who with her father, A. M. Woodford, is leaving the city in the near future to make their home in Medford, Ore.

A letter just received from Capt. G. Earl Low written in France, says he expects to be home by July, but he does not state whether he is returning to Coquille to resume his practice or not. He sends us a copy of his hospital paper, "La Gossipe," and one of the "Stars and Stripes."

Referring to an item in a Bay paper telling about the probable removal of his clothing store to Reedsport, F. C. Pursley says there is nothing to it and he hasn't the slightest idea of leaving Coquille, though he had been looking over the field at Reedsport with some idea of starting a branch store there.

In our Circuit Court Gertrude A. Despot has just been granted a divorce from Thomas M. Despot with the custody of her 14-months old baby and the privilege of resuming her maiden name of Pundt. Two despots in the family seem to have been too many, especially with another despot coming on.

Judge Coke went down to Gold Beach Tuesday accompanied by Mrs. Nellie B. Scott, court reporter. Court will open there this week, the principal case being the trial of George Chenoweth for the murder of George Sydnam. Probably the biggest array of legal current ever seen in a Curry case will take part in that event.

D. F. Dean is carrying his left hand in a sling and will be without the use of it for a month or more as a result of getting it caught in the conveyor at the Johnson mill. The forefinger was split down each side and required a number of stitches to sew it up, while the bone in the second was broken and the whole hand was badly lacerated and torn.

In the Fifth Victory Liberty Loan advertisement elsewhere in this issue, Leo J. Cary has enrolled the name of every man from the Coquille district, who went overseas for the great war, as far as he could learn them, and states that if anyone has been overlooked the omission was not intentional, and he will be glad to have any such names reported to him at once.

William Cody, the Marshfield painter, who so mysteriously disappeared while out crab fishing a few weeks ago and was thought to have been drowned, has been seen in Yakima, Wash. There is said to be a woman in the case, who left Marshfield for Yakima about the same time Cody disappeared. The reward offered for Cody "dead or alive" has been withdrawn.

P. J. Michels and F. E. McKenna were over from Marshfield yesterday greeting friends "Mike" has been over on the Bay for the past week but will return to Coquille Monday to resume his old position with the Mount State Power Co. He had a front seat at the big show across the water and enough experience to fill a large book, but like all the rest is glad to be back home.

T. Weekly informs us that his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Crosby underwent a double operation at Mercy Hospital last week, one of them being for appendicitis. Her condition was very critical for a time but she is now thought to be on the high road to recovery. For several days Mr. Weekly received two messages a day as to her condition. Mr. and Mrs. Crosby formerly lived at Gravel Ford.

A Pommelling Affair

Tuesday morning Jim Davis, colored, appeared before Recorder Lawrence and paid a fine of $10 for fighting. The trouble started over an Alaskan dog of his, which the boys from the Johnson mill were speaking to as they came from work about 5 o'clock. Jim called several of them down for it and finally made the mistake of getting personal and talked pretty rough to Robert Irvine, Sam W. Johnson, who was standing there, made some remark and Davis hit him. They clinched and the colored man fell on top. The crowd pulled him off and when they went at it again Sam was on top. Little damage was done, Johnson having a cut over the left eye. Davis acknowledged to the recorder that he had made a bad break, and we trust he has had a lesson. The dog is a wild and savage beast which he should never have brought in here. He claims it cost him $80 to get the dog laid down in Coquille.

Do it Without Delay

Mothers of soldier boys, have you filled out that questionnaire telling about your boy's service for Uncle Sam? You know the schools of Oregon are gathering material for Oregon's part in the war. This material is to be made a permanent record and every boy who has seen service in any branch of the army or navy is entitled to have his name in this hall of fame. The only way your boys will ever get into the History of Oregon's Part in the War is by filling out this questionnaire.

A Shortage of Teachers

County Superintendent Mulkey states that Coos county confronts a shortage of teachers that is almost as serious as a crop failure. There are only 19 summer schools in Coos county and nine of that number are now without teachers. Supt. Goetz, of North Bend schools, has been empowered with the authority to hire the best teachers obtainable and will leave at once for a swing about the state for that purpose. The minimum salary law, recently enacted which provides the lowest compensations shall be $75 per month helps some, but other vocations appeal to the teachers with the result that many are giving up the profession.—Coos Bay Harbor.

Gets Expert Sausage Maker

O. T. Nelson has secured the services of an expert sausage maker, Carl Graten, and as long as the trade justifies it there will be three of them in the shop. Mr. Graten is an expert in any part of the butcher business and Mr. Nelson considers himself fortunate in having Mr. Graten with him. Next week he intends to fill his ice box and from that time on will be able to keep meat for several days after killing before cutting it up, thereby furnishing a better quality to his customers.

Start Plumbing Shop

Chas. L. Willey and son, Chas. L. Jr., who returned a couple of weeks ago after serving in the U. S. marines for the past year, have formed a partnership and rented the Figg building opposite the city hall, where they will immediately open a modern plumbing shop. They will specialize in hot water and steam heating plants, but will be prepared to do all kinds of plumbing. They have the shop equipment and expect to be ready for business next week.

Sanitary Market Sold

H. W. Miller this week sold his meat market fixtures to Geo. Hermann, who moved the stock to Myrtle Point. Mr. Miller transferred the lease on the building to Dock Bock, who intends to open a market there as soon as the equipment he has ordered arrives. Mr. Miller intends to buy veal, hogs and poultry for the Portland market as he elsewhere advertises in this issue.

Piano Teaching

Any student of the Primary Grades in music who desire to take the course I shall offer can see me at my home and arrange for the work. The price will be seventy-five cents per lesson. Your patronage is earnestly solicited. Mrs. W. H. Lyons.

At Bandon Last Friday

Speaking of the County Oratorical and Declamatory contest at Bandon last Friday evening, the Western World says:

All five schools of the county had representatives in both contests, all of whom made a creditable showing. The Declamatory contest was particularly close, making the judge's task of selecting the winners most difficult. His final ranking gave first place to the declamation, "The Light from over the Range," by Miss Stella Parker, of Myrtle Point; second place to "The Wild Olive Wreath," by Miss Florence Laird, of North Bend; and third place to "The Fighting Father" by Miss Carol Rahakopf, of Coquille. Bandon was represented in this contest by Miss Josephine Croxall whose selection was, "The Spanish Duel," a most difficult poem which she rendered well.

The MacCarmick cup in Oratory was won for Bandon by George Chatburn, his selection being a speech in Congress by Representative Hicks of New York, entitled "Spirit of America."

Death of Mrs. John Peart

A. B. Dean yesterday received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. John Peart, at Phoenix, Arizona, last Saturday. Her husband and her father, R. F. Dean were both with her there. She was ill when she left here and moved to Oakdale, California, but improved in that climate. Growing worse again she was taken to Arizona last October, where she succumbed to the "flu" after a two month's illness.

Mrs. Peart was born in Phelps county, Missouri, June 7, 1880, and moved to Texas in her infancy. She came to Coquille in September, 1884, and on July 4, 1897, was married to John Peart. Six children were born to them, four of whom are living: Margaret aged 18, Lester aged 16, Cecil three and Lenore one year. Mrs. Peart was a niece of D. F. Dean, so long the publisher of the Herald here. She was a member of the Methodist church of this city.

Popular Music Teacher

Mrs. W. H. Lyons has decided to take a limited number of pupils in the primary grades. She expects to take a special course in this particular grade of music beginning in June. Special advantages will be offered at that time by one of the best conservatories in Portland and Mrs. Lyons will take advantage of this splendid opportunity to become more proficient in teaching these grades.

Do Your Eyes Trouble You?

If they tire easily—if reading or writing causes headaches—if your eyes smart or burp, you probably need glasses, and every day's delay works further injury. It would be best for you to take a day off and consult a specialist on the eye.

Wear a pair of my perfect fitting glasses and enjoy ease and comfort of vision.

Coquille Oregon

Cyrus Madden, who returned to his home at Sixes recently from spending the winter in Coquille, is getting quite feeble and the county has employed a man to help care for him. Mr. Madden is one of the pioneer settlers of northern Curry, being 87 years of age.—Fort Orford Tribune.
