May Use Reedsport Gravel

A. B. Gidley, state deputy engineer for the Coos district, was in Reedsport the first of the week and Sunday made a trip to Brandy Bar for the purpose of getting samples of gravel to have tested, with a view to using this gravel in constructing roads in Coos county. The Umpqua gravel has been pronounced by experts who have used it in concrete work to be of the very best. It was used by the railroad company in the construction of the bridge piers across the Umpqua river. —Courier.

About Rheumatism.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to know that there is a remedy that will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. It is called Chamberlain's Liniment.

LENEVE ITEMS

Pete Tully has returned to Conlogue's camp bringing a bride with him from the east. They will reside in the house formerly occupied by Lieut. Laughry.

Mrs. Violet M. Taylor went to Bandon yesterday on a short visit.

Gilbert Beaugard, who was recently discharged from the army, visited his sister, Mrs. Russ Miller, last week.

John Gaffey went to Bandon Saturday night to attend the Liberty Ball.

One of the ladies from the camp started to Marshfield Saturday, but upon reaching the trestle, where it joins the Beaver Hill track, found it blocked with coal cars. As it was impossible to climb them, she had the pleasure of retracing her steps to the camp, a distance of two miles. It is to be regretted that there is no way of reaching the train except over a track that may be made impassable at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fine Hauser went to Bandon to spend Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lillian Morris is staying with Mrs. Miller for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McGraw have moved down the high line and are now living at the old camp.

Cliff Hibarger, who has been cooking at the camp for several months, is now taking a vacation.

Mrs. Jas. Nygen was a Bandon visitor Saturday.

Harry Rogers went to Marshfield and back last Thursday.

Allen Randleman had a strange experience last Monday. While working on the pipe line that conducts water to his house, he found himself completely surrounded by a swarm of bees. The queen lit on his arm and was quickly followed by too many others to be comfortable. He says he has read about bees and has learned many things about their habits and customs, but he was wholly unprepared to be alighted upon by a swarm and did not know how to act. He brushed them very gently to the ground and covered them with a box, which fortunately was lying near. He points with pride to his "annexation" and says that's like getting money from home without writing for it.—Coos Bay Times.

He Owes All the Doctors

The doctors of Coos county are the principal losers in a bankruptcy case which has just been started at North Bend. O. W. Hughes, a longshoreman, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with Referee A. H. Derbyshire. His debts aggregate $686, and he has no property. Household goods in his home belong to his wife, he states. He names as creditors practically every doctor in North Bend and Marshfield and one physician in Coquille, in addition to most of the grocery stores in the bay cities.

April Report of County Nurse

The demand for the services of the county public health nurse is increasing with every month as people are learning more about the character of the work she does. Occasionally a case has been reported to Miss Cardiff, which she has found impossible to visit on account of the inaccessibility of the family's location. A few cases have been reported that needed a regular nurse instead of a visiting nurse, which are impossible for Miss Cardiff to handle on account of the many demands for other lines of work that come up from day to day. But whenever possible all calls have been responded to as promptly as possible.

In one part of the county a family was reported as being sick, and not having the necessities of life. The home was visited, a physician called and supplies were immediately sent into the home. The next time the nurse called the family were in a better physical condition and the home brighter and happier.

In another part a mother was found ill in bed with only a small child to wait upon her, the mother was at once given nursing care, and made comfortable for a few hours.

In another part of the county a new babe was reported without the proper clothing. The loan closet was at once turned to, and with the help of a member of the nurse committee and the public health nurse the babe was at once supplied with clothing, and the other garments necessary were loaned from our closet. Many a mother has thanked the nurse this past month for garments that were loaned her to make her children or some member of the family comfortable during a time of sickness.

In still another part of the county a young man was sent to the State Tuberculosis Hospital for treatment and to regain his strength once more.

A few of our crippled children were taken before Dr. Akin, of Portland, while he was in the county, at the North Bend hospital. They will be taken to Portland this summer for care and treatment.

Dr. DeBusk, of the University of Oregon, was on the Bay for two and a half days, examining the children in the Marshfield and North Bend schools. He found several of the children retarded because of physical defects such as decayed teeth, diseased tonsils, adenoids, bad eye strain and malnutrition. He said that 50 per cent of our school children were retarded because of bad teeth and tonsils. He congratulated Coos county on having a public health nurse and Marshfield on the school nurse. He believes Coos county to be far ahead of other counties in the state in the care of the school children.

The April report of the work done by Miss Cardiff shows the month to have been a busy one, the regular schedule was carried out. Six towns were visited and one week spent in the country work. The report gives record of 181 visits in all, 5 of which were instructive visits. At the beginning of the month there were 51 patients on the nurse's visiting list, 19 of whom were tubercular cases. During the month five patients were discharged from the nurse's care and there were added eight new cases so that on May first she had 54 cases on file.

The reports of both the Marshfield school nurse and the county school nurse shows the month to have been a busy one. Aside from the Marshfield schools, children were inspected in the following schools: Myrtle Point, Powers, Bandon, Coquille, Pleasant Hill, West Norway, Norway, Randolph, Prosper, Fishtrap, Excelsior and Arago, 762 children undergoing the examination. Of these 528 have had teeth, 352 enlarged tonsils, 142 adenoids, and 281 defective vision.

The public health nurse's office in room 216 Coke Bldg. Marshfield has been open every Saturday afternoon for the convenience of the people who want to consult with the school or county nurse and many have availed themselves of this opportunity during the month.

Entertain Soldier Boys

On Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belloni, Miss Gladys Treadgold gave an informal dancing party in honor of several of the boys recently mustered out of the service. The large living room and hall were cleared of rugs and extra furniture for the convenience of the dancers and were decorated with lilacs and Poet's Narcissus. Those enjoying the evening were: Mesdames Chas. Harlocker, Owen Knowlton, Misses Joan Fitzgerald Edna Harlocker, Geneva Robinson, Winifred Spencer, Ada Witteman, Elizabeth Griffin, Harriet Sweet, Edith Willey; Messrs. Chas. Harlocker, O. H. Knowlton, Walter Oerding, J. P. Michels, R. Watson, L. Kennedy, Geo. Oerding, J. Harrison, F. V. Treadgold, J. Miller, Herbert Lukens, J. Oerding, Chas. Willey and E. Peterson.
