The Unreturning

For us, the dead, the young,
For us, who fought and bled,
Let a last song be sung,
And a last word be said!

Dreams, hopes, and high desires,
That heaven and uplift,
On sacrificial fires
We offered as a gift.

We gave, and gave our all,
In gladness, tho' in pain;
Let not a whisper fall
That we have died in vain!

ARMY TO GET TALKS IN THRIFT CAMPAIGN

To teach thrift through subscriptions to the Victory Loan and War Savings Stamps, three lectures on wise buying will be delivered to 1,500,000 soldiers now in the service. The talks will be made under the approval of Brigadier General Edward L. Munson, General Staff, U. S. A., and will be given under the direction of the Y. M. C. A.

OUR SOUL WILL PAY

There was very little to find fault with in the spirit which the American people showed when the war was brought home to them daily by deeds of heroism sent back from the fields of France. In those days, beneath the selfishness of commercialism, was laid bare the soul of our people. It was the same true, untarnished soul which built the country through nearly a century and a half of struggles which tested every fiber of our being as a nation.

It is this spirit and soul of our nation which makes possible the achievement by the American people of any task which they set themselves to do from the bottom of their heart. Our nation never went into anything with a more determined will than it did to defeat the abominable militarism which had been the lone star of the German people. The American people won that battle.

The government is now making an appeal to the same spirit which won that victory. The only work that remains to be done to make sure of an oversubscription to the fifth loan is to bring home to the American spirit which won the war the realization that there is another great task which it is right to be done. That is paying the bill of the war. The American people know the bill is just and will pay it.

McKinley Notes.
Mrs. H. Hansen had business in Marshfield Saturday.
Mrs. Grace Kenny left Saturday for her home in Oakland. Jas. Laird took her to Marshfield in his car.
Miss Anna Dean, teacher in the Lee school, visited Saturday and Sunday with the Arthur Brown family.
Roy Lawhorn, of Marshfield, came over Saturday for a visit with his wife, who is staying a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Holmstrom.
Mrs. Hugh Lawhorn arrived in Coquille Thursday from Cambridge, Minnesota. They expect to make their home on the Lawhorn ranch above McKinley. Hugh reached here about a month ago, on his discharge from the army.
At our Red Cross meeting Thursday there were only six. Every one is so busy at this season of the year that it seems to be hard to get much interest aroused.
Mrs. L. A. Lawhorne went to Gravel Ford Sunday to help nurse little Jessie, who is very sick with intestinal poisoning, caused by indigestion.
Mrs. Wilcox, Mabel and Margaret, spent Sunday with Arthur Brown's family.
Grant Harry had business in Myrtle Point Sunday and Monday.
Ralph Lasswell is visiting friends here at McKinley this week.
Several carloads of Coquille people motored to Brewster Valley Sunday. Among them we noticed the Sherwoods, Hazards, Goulds and Pursleys.
Every third Thursday the young people's Liberty Club meets at the hall.
Jas. Laird passed through McKinley Sunday with a brand new Ford.

Arnold Buys Auto

The most daring case of apparent bonehead deals was that of a young man known here as Fred Arnold, who drew his check on a Marshfield bank for $650 in payment of an Overland car which he bought of Milas Richardson, a member of the firm of Gorst & King. He then invited Arthur Oleason and Harry Ingeman to accompany him to California and started out. They were intercepted at Gold Beach and held in jail until Constable Veatch was sent from here to get them. They were brought here at once. Every effort to trace down funds belonging to Mr. Arnold have failed and it is evident he is a deliberate forger. No particular charge has been filed against the two boys with him, but it is certain they are in bad company.—North Bend Harbor.

How the pursuit of Arnold resulted is thus told in Wednesday's Times: Milas Richardson, who made the dash into Curry county to bring back Archie Arnold who got away with the Richardson car, giving a bad check for it, says the roads were in fair condition as far as Port Orford, but beyond that were fearful. He says Arnold was just making out another check at Gold Beach when Sheriff Tolman received the information that he was wanted and went out to make the arrest. Arnold had purchased more gasoline and had borrowed a Gold Beach check which he had made over into a Scandinavian American Bank of Marshfield check. He had started to sign his own name.

Drowned and Rescued

After falling overboard, struggling and sinking to the bottom of the river, Howard Alters, late Saturday night was seen through the clear waters of the river, which at that spot were less than 10 feet in depth and after being gotten out with a pike pole was with much effort revived.

The man was on a small covered fishing boat. Dropping something in the water he bent over the railing to get it, and the railing giving way, he fell overboard. He was unable to swim and seemingly through the fright sustained, expelled the air from his lungs, and almost immediately sank, said onlookers.

Wes Brown, J. A. Blatt and Joe Larson, being on the Rainbow, rescued Mr. Alters. With them on the same boat was Mrs. Ed Rothwell. The man was immediately taken to the E. L. Bessey home which they were passing and after a half hour's hard work Mrs. Rothwell succeeded in resuscitating the nearly drowned man. He was unconscious for some time after the water had been pumped from his lungs.—Marshfield Record.

GEN. PERSHING COMMENDS AID RENDERED ARMY

Post Exchanges Overseas Are Taken Over by the Military Authorities

Asserting that the valuable aid rendered by the war service of the Y. M. C. A. had been a large factor in the final great accomplishments of the American army, General Pershing, in a communication to E. C. Carter, in charge of association operations with the American Expeditionary Forces, pays a splendid tribute to the work which this agency accomplished under extreme difficulties and handicaps. "The Y. M. C. A. served the army better than could have been expected," says General Pershing.

At its own request the American Y. M. C. A. has been relieved from maintaining post exchanges with the Expeditionary forces overseas, the need for such service having been relieved with the signing of the armistice. Correspondence exchanged between General Pershing and E. C. Carter, in charge of the Y. M. C. A. with the army, resulted in this decision. Carter wrote to General Pershing January 29th as follows:

Dear General Pershing: A year and a half ago you requested the Y. M. C. A. to undertake operations for post exchanges for the American Expeditionary Forces in order that "officers and enlisted men may not be taken away for that purpose from their paramount military functions of training and fighting."

As soon as hostilities ceased we raised with you the question whether time had not come for the Y. M. C. A. to be relieved of the operation of post exchanges in view of the fact that there was no longer the same pressing demand on man power of the army for training and fighting. When we first raised the question with you it did not appear to you that it was feasible in the best interests of maximum service to the army that a change be made. Now the situation is materially altered.

Recent general orders from main headquarters and requests from commanding officers have laid on the Y. M. C. A. increased responsibilities in promoting educational, athletic and entertainment activities in the American Expeditionary Force. This is placing a rapidly increasing burden upon our personnel. The army is also now preparing for the delivery of all supplies for post exchanges which heretofore have been imported, manufactured and delivered by the Y. M. C. A.

In view of the changed situation I wish to know whether you do not think it would be possible for the army at a very early date to assume full responsibility for the maintenance of post exchanges throughout the American Expeditionary Force?

Very cordially yours,
(Signed) E. C. CARTER.
General Pershing immediately acted upon the suggestion made by Carter and relieved the Y. M. C. A. of its task of maintaining the post exchanges. He said:

My Dear Mr. Carter: I have received your letter of January 29th asking whether, in view of present changed situation, it would be possible for the army to assume full responsibility for maintenance of post exchanges throughout American Expeditionary Force.

As you correctly state, the Y. M. C. A. undertook the management of post exchanges at my request at a time when it was of greatest importance that no available soldier should be taken away from vital military functions of training and fighting. As reasons which impelled me at that time to request you to undertake this work no longer exist, I am glad to approve your suggestion in reaching this conclusion. Consideration has been given to new burdens in connection with entertainment, athletic activities and education that you have assumed. I have accordingly given directions that army units themselves take over and operate their own post exchanges.

In making this change permit me to thank you for the very valuable services and assistance which the Y. M. C. A. has rendered to the American Expeditionary Force in handling these exchanges. Handicapped by shortage of tonnage and land transportation the Y. M. C. A. has, by extra exertion, served the army better than could have been expected, and you may be assured that its aid has been a large factor in the final great accomplishments of the American army.

Very cordially yours,
(Signed) JOHN J. PERSHING.

CHICAGO DAILIES HIT AT LOAN SWINDLERS

Chicago newspapers have made an agreement not to accept advertising of financial pirates offering to trade "glit edge" securities for Liberty bonds and have started a campaign to educate the public against this swindle, through which it is estimated the public has been cheated out of more than $600,000,000 a year.

Beware of small expenses. Stop them with War Savings Stamps.

"TOYS OF FATE"

Thursday and Friday
May 15th and 16th

"Toys of Fate!" What are any of us, except toys of fate? That's what a man says when he is "blue,"—when destiny itself seems to balk him in every effort. But, as Browning says, "Sometimes the worst turns the best to the brave— The black moment's at end."

Well, that is the way it is with Azah, the fascinating gypsy princess in "Toys of Fate," in which the great Russian artiste, Nazimova, stars. When there seems to be no way out,—when misery has taken possession of her soul,—then comfort with its healing power revives and refreshes, and love gladdens her.

"Toys of Fate" is vivid, vital, dramatic. It is the story of a child of nature, brought into contact with the ways of civilization. Azah suffers, rejoices and in the end finds happiness and the heart's desire. The great star is at her best in "Toys of Fate," a brilliant companion piece to "Revelation."
