J. P. Michels says Matt Kerrigan is taking a year's post graduate in law at one of England's famous universities. This is the opportunity offered all men in the Expeditionary Forces who had completed four years' college work in the U. S. They had the choice of either French or English colleges, and Matt took the English naturally.

In writing from Petrolia, Calif., to renew for the Sentinel, S. A. Gouthier, formerly of Fishtrap, says that they are having a fine spring down there, crops are looking well and stock are in good shape. He also adds, though modestly almost forbids our quoting him, that he couldn't get along without the Sentinel and that every issue is better than the previous one.

Our Chautauqua Program

A glimpse of what is in store for us and of the nature of the program of the Chautauqua which is coming the last of the month, is afforded in a recent interview by W. L. Radcliffe. All worthy Chautauquas are educational in their purpose. But the Chautauqua that bears his name has conceived its mission not merely to be educational, but to conduct a deliberate crusade of Education. Mr. Radcliffe is quoted as saying:

"Now that I have an opportunity to address 3,000,000 people through the 12,800 audiences of the South and the Southwest on our Chautauqua circuits in 1919, I am determined, through our lecturers to carry on a nation-wide drive for Education and more Education."

"The draft showed that 750,000 Americans of army age could not read or write. Of these 165,000 were sent to France, good Americans, who could not read or write their own names. Democracy is not safe when vast numbers are uneducated."

"Among us are 5,500,000 illiterates. We cannot contemplate the backward condition of the rural schools, the out-of-dateness of the 'little red school house,' and the failure of existing methods to bear fruit in mental efficiency and in morale, without deep concern."

"Every American is charged with the responsibility of removing this situation, so that each American child may have an equal chance. The big-ness of the opportunity should make us eager to get at this task. Our after-the-war crusade is to write that word, 'Education' across the map, as America's only guarantee against the spread of bolshevism."

Bolshevism Defined

Our East Fork correspondent send us the following definition of Bolshevism he has just received from Dr. I. M. Casanowicz, Assistant Curator of Old World Archeology in the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. It will doubtless interest many of our readers.

"Bolshevik" is derived or formed from the Russian bolshevik or bolshevik—greater, more; menshevik, from menshiv or menshiv—smaller, less. The first, therefore, stands for the majority, viz. of the Socialist or Revolutionary party, the second, for the minority. The terms are equivalent to maximalist and minimalist, respectively. By a natural process of the signification of party names, Bolshevism implies the demand for a maximum of changes in the present political, social and economic organization of society, while the Menshevik would be content with more moderate concessions."

Mother's Day Services

Special services at Church of God chapel Sunday evening, May 11th.

An appropriate sermon will be given in connection with songs in memory of mother. Everybody is invited but especially mothers. Let us bless mother while she is with us, but if she is gone from the home circle, let us commemorate this day together in memory of mother.

PEACE MISSION ASKS SUPPORT OF FIFTH LOAN

Urges American People to Finish the Job by Taking the Victory Loan

Four members of the American peace mission in France, Secretary of State Robert Lansing, Col. E. M. House, General Tasker N. Bliss and Henry White, have sent this message to the American people urging support of the Victory Loan:

"TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE: We have had the opportunity here in France to see and realize the magnitude of the accomplishment of our country in this war and the magnificent spirit with which this great task has been carried through to a triumphant issue."

"What has been done and what remains to be done before normal conditions are restored demand your continued and united support with the same spirit of self sacrifice and of determination as that which was manifested by the nation while the German armies faced our men at the Marne, and in the Champagne, at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. We must not relax our efforts until every soldier of the republic is landed on the soil of America."

"To finish this mighty task imposes upon the government of the United States a great financial burden. The Victory Liberty Loan must thrive. If it should fail it would indicate that the Nation is willing to leave its task uncompleted."

"To secure the ideals for which Americans fought and died this great demand on national patriotism and united effort should meet a generous and universal response. Let us do our duty to the end."

NAVY BANDS WILL SPUR PATRIOTISM IN VICTORY DRIVE

Mare Island Commandant Offers Marines and Jackies to Aid Fifth Loan

Captain Edward L. Beach, commandant of Mare Island Navy Yard, Mare Island, Cal., who was in command of the United States dreadnaught New York in the North Sea at the time the German navy was turned over under the terms of the armistice, has offered three of the crack service bands stationed at Mare Island for use during the Victory drive.

One of the bands will travel on the trophy train which will tour all of the seven states in the Twelfth District and the other two bands will be used in cities within a day's journey of Mare Island. One of these bands is the famous sixty-piece Marine Band and the other is the forty-piece Jackie Band.

Paymaster Ralph Phelps, U. S. N., has been placed in charge of the itinerary to be mapped out for the two bands which will not travel on the train and any local committee desiring to make use of either of these two bands during the drive should communicate with him.

ROOSEVELT SAID

"Don't let Wall Street monopolize the financing of the war, but if you do, then do not blame Wall Street. Simply admit that it is more patriotic and far-sighted than you are."

—Theodore Roosevelt.
Theodore Roosevelt was a great American because he saw through to the heart of things and because he had courage enough to tell what he saw. He said something in that quotation above that every American ought to con over.

Roosevelt practiced what he preached. He bought Liberty Bonds to his limit. He wanted to keep the securities of the United States out of Wall Street. He felt that they belonged in his house and the house of every plain American for the good of the nation.

"There should be Liberty Bonds in every home in America," he declared another time. Like all great men, Roosevelt knew that the future of America is the future of the millions of humble homes dotting her hills and valleys, her plains and cities. He knew, too, that a Liberty Bond in those humble homes assured America's future.

You know it even as did Roosevelt. Help mould America with the Victory Liberty Loan.

PERSHING TO TELL HUNS ABOUT LOAN

The Victory Liberty Loan is going to be advertised in all German territory occupied by American forces, according to announcement made by the Treasury Department.

Thousands of posters, buttons and other campaign materials have been shipped to General Pershing for distribution in this territory; so that the German people will know that America is carrying on the fifth great Liberty Loan.
