All advertisements intended for the Sentinel should be in on Thursday. The change in time of the afternoon mail train up the valley to Myrtle Point and Powers still farther reduces the amount of work we can do on Friday and renders it necessary for us to go to press at noon on that day. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman and son left yesterday for a month's visit with his parents at Malone, Wis. Rehkopf Going South

J. H. Rehkopf, who was assistant postmaster here a few years ago under A. F. Linnegar, came in Tuesday for a visit with his family. He has been for some time in the employ of the government at Camp Lewis in the supply department, but has just been transferred to Camp Kearny in Southern California, being on his way thither now. He says there about 20,000 troops at Camp Lewis now and so certain is it that a permanent camp will be maintained there that the Salvation Army has a hotel of 150 rooms under construction now. Indeed, the 1,000 acres which the government secured for a site at Camp Lewis was donated by the people of Tacoma, on condition that the government should hold it only so long as they kept 15,000 men there.

Still Buying Cattle Etc.

H. W. Miller, who recently sold his Sanitary Market here, is still in business as a buyer of cattle and meat. He proposes to handle cattle, sheep, and hogs, either alive or dressed, including veal. He is in the market for poultry, too; and will pay the highest market price for hides, saving the farmers some money in that line. We are glad to see more buyers along these lines and expect to see Mr. Miller receive a liberal share of the public patronage. He has offers from both San Francisco and Portland parties for what he proposes to buy, but has not yet decided which to tie up with.

SOME SMALL FASHION FACTS

Trench Helmets Made of Tin Are Worn at Summer Resorts—High-Necked Frocks.

The trench helmets made of tin are not becoming, but American women have followed the British in using them at summer resorts.

London and Paris have designed curfew hats and America will soon make use of the name and the design. It would not be amiss for us to keep our own picturesque Puritan fashions of New England. We know as much of the curfew as Great Britain, and more than Paris. We do not have the signal for "lights out" in this country, but we can go in for curfew clothes just the same. The pointed hat, the square-toed shoes with the silver buckle and the long, rippling capes fit in with the silhouette of the hour.

Daylight-saving dinners have brought out a vast amount of transparent but high-necked frocks. These are made of tulle usually combined with some glittering metallic cloth. The whole upper part of the body is covered with the tulle, and long sleeves have suddenly acquired a place of power.

It is no longer smart in the belligerent countries to wear white gloves. They are taboo in England and France, and American women are beginning to see the wisdom and economy of this fashion.

Tan, brown and any shade of beige are considered the proper thing. Even white wash gloves are not considered as fashionable as the others. Economy is creating a style of its own in every land. By common consent, evening gloves have practically disappeared in the belligerent countries. France has always hated them, England can't afford them, and soon America will abandon them. It may be that long, wrinkled sleeves will take their place entirely.

METHODISTS WILL CELEBRATE WITH BIG EXPOSITION

$105,000,000 Centenary Drive Cause For Rejoicing.

NATIVES ARE TO TAKE PART

World's Greatest Picture Show to be Presented on Mammoth Screen at Columbus, Ohio, June 20-July 7. Many to Go From Northwest By Auto.

What it is planned to make the greatest world exhibition ever conceived will be held at Columbus, Ohio, June 20-July 7.

Known as the Centenary Celebration, and celebrating jointly the completion of the Methodist centenary's $105,000,000 campaign for the purpose of rebuilding the world and the centennial of American missions, that is, the 100th anniversary of the establishment of Methodist missions in America, plans are being made to entertain at least 100,000 Methodists a day.

Every phase of mission work in every country in which Methodism is at work will be presented.

There will be erected a complete Chinese city with its great walls and gates; a pagoda, temples, shops, schools, hospital, theater, restaurant, homes, peopled by many native Chinese. In like manner will be shown villages from India, Korea, Africa and the Philippines, peopled by groups of natives from those cities which have been brought to America by the Methodist Centenary.

Motion pictures will be shown in a gigantic oval, where 100,000 people can sit at one time. The picture screen will be the largest in the world, being 125 feet high.

Thousands of Natives Take Part. The work of Christianity at home and abroad will be shown in every phase. There will be gigantic pageants participated in by thousands of natives.

General Leonard Wood will command a regiment of 1,000 Centenary cadets, whose duty will be to guard the exhibits. These young men are now being recruited from every state in the union. High school boys are desired, who have had sufficient military training so they can participate in military drill. Applications should be sent to Centenary cadets, 111 Fifth avenue, New York.

Arrangements have been made for parking 40,000 automobiles for it is believed that great squadrons of Methodist automobiles will travel to the celebration. One great caravan of 1,000 automobiles has been already fully made up from Illinois while Iowa will send another train of 200 cars in one batch. Hundreds of cars are expected to make the trip from the Pacific northwest, leaving as soon as the centenary campaign is completed.

Beds For 100,000 People. By means of a tent city to care for 60,000 persons and the general accommodations of Columbus, 100,000 persons per night will be cared for during the celebration. The tent city will be equipped with post office, restaurants, sewerage and all the accommodations of a modern city. It will stand on a beautiful tract of 200 acres.

One of the most novel features will be a gigantic liquorless saloon and a prize is offered by the Centenary celebration committee at Columbus for the best snappy, short word to describe such an institution. Not only will all kinds of refreshments be served but there will be other forms of entertainment not to be found in the original saloon.

Motion pictures, directed by D. W. Griffith will be taken of the celebration. Mr. Griffith will also assist in the pageants. Speakers of world-wide renown will be heard at the celebration gatherings.

The Methodist centenary celebration will be by all odds the greatest religious enterprise ever presented. It is expected to defray its own costs. Immediately after its conclusion the tribes of natives from different lands will be sent to their homes by the Methodist centenary.

CENTENARY MOVE HAS BIG FEATURES

The gigantic centennial of the establishment of Methodist missions in America, under the form of the Methodist centenary, has a number of remarkable features.

In the first case, it is planned to raise, beginning May 18, a fund of $105,000,000 to be used on a gigantic world program of reconstruction, perhaps the most comprehensive program ever devised.

By that date Methodism will have enrolled also 1,000,000 intercessors, that is, persons pledged to daily prayer; 1,000,000 others, pledged to devote one-tenth of their income to the work of Christianity; 53,000 persons who will pledge themselves to devote the balance of their lives to the work of the church, whether in America or in the foreign field. Seventy-five thousand Methodist minute men, lay church members who present the comprehensive church program at Sunday services, have been appointed and form the greatest body of organized speakers in America at this time.

They have spoken for the Liberty loan and for the United States employment service, as well as for other governmental activities.
