

For Walls and Ceilings

A Painted Finish is Best

A lustreless oil paint finish is ideal for walls and ceilings. It is artistic and sanitary. It is economical because its durability renders frequent re-decoration unnecessary.

ACME QUALITY
NO-LUSTRE FINISH

is a sanitary, lustreless, oil paint made especially for walls and ceilings. It can be applied over plaster, wall board, metal, canvas, wood, or any surface upon which paint can be used.

Indians Still Claim Country

Indians of the Coos, Siuslaw and Umpqua tribes met at Empire last Saturday in the annual powwow, says a Marshfield dispatch. Many of the old Indians from Southwestern Oregon sections were present. Tribal songs were sung and a big clam bake was served on the beach.

The chief purpose was to discuss the claims which the Indians allege to hold on most of the property along the coast from the Siuslaw river south to the California line. They base their claim on an old treaty which they assert the government never settled with them, and seek payment which amounts in the millions of dollars. The tribes have had a representative in Washington working at the National capital for months in support of their claims.

J. E. Montgomery Made Captain
