Commissioner Yoakam is unable to attend County Court today on account of the illness of his son who is suffering from an attack of the "flu".

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hill have just come here from Portland. Mrs. Hill used to keep the Travellers' Rest here when her name was Crockett.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hughes leave tomorrow for Long Branch, New York, he having several his connection with the Sitka Spruce Co. here.

Judge Coke came over here Monday afternoon to open and adjourn the Circuit Court, so that the June term might not lapse. He heard no cases.

Mrs. Iris Elrod came over from the Bay yesterday for a short visit with her father, A. M. Woodford, before his departure for Medford the first of the week.

F. R. Darnison is going to conduct a series of gospel meetings in a tent which he will pitch here next week. The precise location has not yet been decided upon.

Mrs. Dimmick, the librarian, says that there will be a cooked food sale Saturday, June 7, at 10 a. m. at the former Lyons' grocery, for the benefit of the city library.

Miss Mabel Bay is waiting here since the close of school for her folks who are coming soon and whom she will join in their proposed auto tour through California.

Miss Winifred Spencer, who declined a reappointment to her former position in our city schools, has returned to her home at Ashland, where she will teach next year.

There were a great many people from Myrtle Point down for the final session of our Chautauqua Monday evening, and some from there at nearly every session.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Baxter and children were down from Garliner, where he publishes the Index, last week to spend Decoration Day with friends and relatives here.

The official canvass of the votes in Tuesday's elections will be made tomorrow, Saturday, and the new County Judge and Commissioner will then immediately take their places.

J. C. Savage has quit work in the shipyards at North Bend and moved back to Coquille. His family will be here for the summer, but where he will be he does not yet know.

Rev. James E. Conder returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to Eugene, Salem and Portland. Irving Lamb, who accompanied him, spent yesterday in Eugene visiting Chester Howard.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson, who has been at Eugene on account of Philip's illness, and Mary Esther are now visiting in Portland. Philip is fully recovered and all expect to be home the middle of next week.

Merton Tyrrell came up from San Francisco last Thursday, having a two weeks' furlough from his ship at San Diego, on account of the illness of his father, H. N. Tyrrell, whom he reports as a little better.

J. W. Noblet, who used to be principal of our High School, was down from Reedsport on Decoration Day. Having quit the teaching profession and blossomed out as a banker, he looks unusually prosperous.

Mrs. Verna Mast has given up her position as private secretary to A. L. Martin, manager of the Mountain States Power Company, at Marshfield to assist at The Ladies Bazaar. Mrs. Mast will also act as public stenographer.

Dr. G. O. Wilhite recently received his commission as captain in the Medical Reserve Corps. He was recommended for the promotion before being mustered out of service, but action was delayed until a couple of weeks ago.

Miss Gladys Treadgold left for her home at Bandon last Monday afternoon and after resting for a few weeks she intends to go to Eugene for a summer course at the University. She also plans to spend a portion of her vacation in Idaho.

Stanley Bartlett has been in town this week, having come up on the Elizabeth from San Francisco Sunday. His was a man dead anxious to get into the game who was kept on the side lines, for, of the year or more he spent on the other side of the Atlantic, all but ten days of that time was in England. He intends to remain around Coquille for the present.

Superintendent Baker and Mr. Tuttle, of our city schools, were planning a camping excursion for next week but have been forced to abandon it on account of sickness in their families. One of Mr. Tuttle's daughters has just come down with chicken pox and Mr. Baker's young son has manifested such symptoms of croup that home is evidently the best place for him.

Those Dairy Picnics

At the Dairy Picnics on Bandon Beach June 13 and at Norway Grove June 14, the line up on the reception committee will be like this: The Coos County Jersey Breeders' Association with the following men in the front rank: General J. D. Carl and the following officers of his staff: Theo L. Clinton, W. C. Cutler, F. C. True, C. D. Jarman, Henry Hervey, I. Nordstrom, Ed. Detlefsen and H. B. Sanders. These are to be backed up also by all other members of the Jersey Breeders' Association, The Cow Testing Association, the Grange, and Farmers' Union. We will be greatly disappointed if there are not present at each of these picnics 1,000 people and at least 300 automobiles and 39 Fords.

First Game Preserve

Ten thousand acres are already assured for the game preserve in Coos county in the Myrtle Point vicinity, states Game Warden J. M. Thomas. The deeds from R. C. Dement of Myrtle Point for 4,380 acres and from Taylor Dement of Myrtle Point for 2,600 acres, making these areas a game refuge for a period of five years are already in the hands of Mr. Thomas, and Max and Ray Dement are ready to make similar arrangements he states.

The district, which extends fully 15 miles from the south fork to Edison butte in Curry county became a game preserve on May 21st, says Mr. Thomas, who adds that five patrols are on duty to make arrests of any who would hunt in the district.

There have been small game preserves in the country before, states Mr. Thomas, but this is the first of a size to be of real importance in the protection of game. He expects to enlarge the area by securing five year deeds from other residents, so that 27,000 acres will be included in the preserve. Only hunting rights lapse under the terms of the state's five year hold on the area.

The Dements had used the districts for cattle ranges and had lost so many cattle by hunters, it is said, that they were willing to have the state make a preserve of the district.—Times.

The Commencement Exercises

The last public appearance of the Coquille High School class of 1919 occurred at Goulds' Hall last Friday evening when the fifteen graduates appeared in their becoming grey caps and gowns and listened to a splendid address by Carl Gregg Doney, president of Willamette University. At least 500 people were in attendance and every available seat was taken. The stage had been beautifully decorated by the undergraduates and the edge in front of the footlights was covered with bouquets and a table nearby piled high with packages from admiring friends.

The music for the occasion was furnished by "The Fighting Yanks," who responded twice to encores, and the large high school chorus, which under the able direction of Miss Bay, sang "Away to the Fields," and "Over the Summer Sea," in a manner reflecting credit not only upon themselves but also upon their instructor.

Miss Genevieve Chase rendered a piano solo, "Hungarian Concert Polka," with a skill and touch that captivated her auditors.

Mr. Doney's address was calculated to stimulate the ambitions of every person present, whether young or old, although addressed principally to the graduates. The accumulated knowledge of the ages is theirs for the learning, and it is up to them to say whether the literature, science and politics of the future are to be bettered and improved by their having lived—whether they shall add to the world's learning.

The young man who seeks pleasure or material success alone is missing the great things of life and securing what can never satisfy. "It takes a big man to love truth," and the world doesn't want truth, only that part of truth which the individual desires to accept. In religion and politics we accept as truth only that portion taught by our creed or party.

Mr. Doney's charge to the class was that they continue to be students—to toil. There is no luck in success nor lack of it in failure; attainment is the result of strenuous toil, or as Edison puts it, "Genius is 98 per cent perspiration and two per cent sweat." Work saves us from ourselves. Some of our devils may be driven out by prayer, but work is the great exorciser.

The speaker pointed out the wonderful opportunities awaiting the intelligent application of the great minds of the world to the satisfying of the world's needs and closed with the injunction that we must care for our neighbors to save ourselves. We are no longer isolated from the world. China is nearer to Coquille than Idaho was one hundred years ago, and unless we help stamp out the menace of Bolshevism the disease of our neighbors will surely find lodgment in our national life.

The evening closed with the presentation of the diplomas to the class, and of the scholarships. Miss Genevieve Chase received the $200 scholarship which Dr. Jas. Richmond has made an annual affair, while Miss Mildred Neely was awarded the scholarship in Willamette University.

Simpson Sends Congratulations

The following is the congratulatory telegram sent by Louis Simpson on receipt of the news that the Roosevelt Highway measure had carried:

North Bend, June 4
Roosevelt Highway Association,
Imperial Hotel, Portland, Ore.

Congratulations upon the success of the Roosevelt highway measure and the splendid campaign which you have conducted for it. I understand that California has funds to complete its coast highway from the Mexican line to the Oregon line to connect with the Roosevelt highway in Oregon, and Washington either has or will provide funds to construct a coast highway from some point on the Columbia river north through Willapa and Grays Harbor, along the coast of the Olympic peninsula, following the shores of Puget Sound to Port Townsend, thence north to the Canadian line. Suggest immediate request be made to the states of California and Washington to give the same name to their coast highways which we have given ours in Oregon. Favorable action upon their part would give a continuous coast military highway from Mexico to Canada and would be a fitting memorial to that great American statesman Roosevelt, who during his life so ardently advocated preparedness and strenuous Americanism. The assistance of senators and congressmen from California and Washington will greatly help Oregon in securing federal aid for the Roosevelt memorial highway.

L. J. Simpson.

Last Session of Present Court

This week the present county court has been holding its final session and its business is about concluded and everything ready to turn over to the new court.

Beides auditing the monthly bills, comparatively little business has been transacted this week. W. U. Douglas presented a petition for a new road up the south side of Larsen Slough. The court, it will be remembered passed a resolution for a road up the north side to connect with the Coos Bay north section of the coast highway, at its May meeting. No action was taken on Mr. Douglas' petition.

Neither was any action taken on the petition for the removal of Ferryman Richardson here.

The term Widow's pensions has been changed to Dependant Mother's assistance. There were several requests for aid in this class, none of which were allowed.

Mrs. Virginia Lester McCormick's request was not granted. She has one child but has just received $2,000 insurance on her husband's life and is receiving $30 a month from the State Accident Commission.

Mrs. Hilda Blair, of Bandon, and Mrs. Laura June George, of Marshfield, had neither of them been in the county or state long enough to be eligible for a pension. In the case of Mrs. Alice J. King the certificate of her husband's death was lacking. The case of Mrs. Ollie Read, of Powers, was dismissed because she had left the county; that of Mrs. Grace Frances Childers, of Marshfield, was continued for lack of certificates, and $40 a month was allowed her from the indigent fund.

The contract with the state to borrow $20,000 for the work on the Marshfield-Coquille road was completed.
