Mrs. Ella Gibson will have a food sale Saturday, at 9 a. m. at the Gould & Gould store.

Chas. E. Baxter was in Marshfield Wednesday night attending the Elks' celebration there.

Of eight births reported by the Bandon World last week, eight were boys. That looks warlike.

A. K. Peck came over on legal business Wednesday morning and made the Sentinel a call.

Judge Coke went out Wednesday to attend a meeting of the regents of the State Normal School.

J. N. Agee was visiting our merchants Wednesday in the interest of the Pacific Paper company.

Mrs. E. J. Wright has returned this week from Emmett, Idaho, where she has been for several months past.

Mrs. Alex Sandon, whose husband is millwright at the Sitka mill here is visiting at Newberg and Corvallis.

The Bandon school meeting Monday was a decided contrast to ours, only nineteen voters being in attendance.

Last Monday Miss Marvel Skeels returned from Eugene where she has been attending the State University.

Merton Tyrrell came home ten days ago from southern California, where he had just been discharged from the navy.

Bank deposits at Marshfield now reach $1,899,826.78 according to the report of the state superintendent of banks.

Mrs. R. H. Sweet returned Wednesday from Marshfield, where she had been visiting for a few days with Mrs. Fred Niles.

Cecil Elwood is back on the job at the Collier Warehouse this week after a two weeks' tussle with a severe case of the "flu."

V. R. Wilson, "Optometrist," Coquille, Oregon. Eyes Tested, glasses fitted. Optical repairs of all kinds. Broken lenses duplicated.

Miss Katherine Hersey, who has been attending school at St. Helen's Hall at Portland, returned home Tuesday for the summer vacation.

Rev. Rex Dallas came in last Saturday from Eugene accompanied by Mrs. Dallas and is now at home here as pastor of the Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith and Miss Minnie Kalbus left last Saturday afternoon by auto for Corvallis, expecting to be gone about ten days.

H. M. Axtell, forman of the Whiskey Run mines at Bandon, is installing a donkey engine at the Booth Shingle mill at Fishtrap this week.

Miss Inez Bunch returned Wednesday from Mercy Hospital at North Bend, and expects to resume her work at the County Clerk's office next week.

J. Bagley, of Eureka, who is trying to promote a plan to secure the settlement of our recently cleared valley lands, was here the first of the week.

Juvenile officer Hark Dunham was on the Bay Wednesday, having been called to Empire to look into trouble alleged to have been caused by young boys there.

Mrs. F. E. Hull, of Riverton, died at the Surgical Hospital at Portland. She came to Oregon in 1888, we state by way of correction of the account given us last week.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson and Mary Esther returned last Sunday from their visit at Eugene and Portland. Philip returned last Saturday from Eugene where he attended the high school.

Mrs. Pilra Clinkinbeard was elected school director in the District No. 36 at the election held this morning. This district is known best as the Coos River consolidated school.—Coos Bay Times

District Attorney Hall informs Judge Wade that a total of 39 cases in which Coos County is a party are now pending in the Circuit Court. There are 15 civil cases and 24 criminal.

County Treasurer Dimnick makes another call for general fund warrants this week which will clean up the slate to January 1, 1918, and stop interest on all issued before that time.

Editor Felsheim, of the Bandon World, says the story we got from the Record of his having taken over California daily at El Centro is news to him. He is anxious to learn when his salary will begin.

Orris Knapp, of Port Orford, who has just been discharged from the U. S. Navy after over a year's service on the New York, stopped over here for a short visit with his cousin, Mrs. Ida Owen. He left for home Tuesday afternoon.

Victor E. Black, of Ferndale, was fined $50 and had 24 quarts of booze confiscated in Justice Derbyshire's court at North Bend, because he had the poor judgment to get on board a jitney in which Constable Goodman was riding.

Miss Amy Cardiff, who has so faithfully and satisfactorily performed the duties of Public Health Nurse in this county for the past six months, was here on Tuesday introducing her successor, Miss Cecil Schreyer, who comes from Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. M. F. Campbell, of Los Angeles, came in Sunday afternoon for a visit with her son, A. B. Campbell. She has many friends in this section, having formerly lived at the Bay. While en route she visited friends at Roseburg and a son at Corvallis.

Ben Currie informs us that the Elks are over the top in their Salvation Army drive, having secured $880 where the quota for this district was $800. Now let's do something for the Armenians, who are among the greatest sufferers from the World War.

Tomorrow (Saturday) the new County Court will meet, first as a district bonding board to settle some school questions, and then to take up any other business that comes up. Judge Wade was here Monday and Tuesday to attend to business in the Probate and Juvenile Courts.

J. S. Houck, who was formerly a resident here, having an interest in the Fox Myrtle Wood factory, was a caller Tuesday, coming up the coast with J. S. Burnell, a Eureka attorney in the latter's car. Mr. Houck has been almost an invalid with rheumatism since leaving here but is better now.

Our supply of extra papers last week was very soon taken and there have been calls for a great many since that we have been unable to fill. Our edition this week will, we hope, be large enough to supply all demands. The number of new subscribers who are enrolling now on our list is very gratifying.

Geo. Henninger, of Fishtrap, directs that his Sentinel be sent to Milton, Ore., in the future. He has rented his farm and may go into fruit culture at Milton. His reasons for going away from the Coquille valley are his wife's health and the better schools at Milton, though his interests here will probably bring him back.

R. J. Petty, who used to work in the Herald office here but who now runs a printing office in the Seattle section, was a caller the first of the week. He and a friend were making a trip to California in their autos and found the roads so bad in Curry county that they were compelled to return and go over to Roseburg.

Mrs. J. A. Stanninger started Tuesday morning for Michigan to visit relatives expecting to spend the summer there with her father and other relatives. Her brother, Howard Rice, has just returned from Germany, where he was one of the soldiers of the A. E. F. Mrs. Stanninger was accompanied by her daughters Cora, Mildred and Margaret.

Mrs. E. B. Finley is in receipt of a letter from her son, Guy, who has been in the service over a year and is stationed at Washington, D. C., stating that he would start for the Pacific coast about the 12th of this month, and would receive his discharge either at Camp Lewis or at Sacramento. He is expected home in the next two or three weeks.

Guy Finley returned to Coquille, Wednesday after a year spent in the military training camps of the United States. His last five months was at Washington, D. C., and previous to that he was at Camp Meade, Virginia, where the men died off like flies from the "flu" last winter. He says that only two western men in his regiment died from that cause.

Ben S. Worsley, of Clatsop county, president of the state Horticultural Society and also representing the State Fair board and the Land Products Show at Portland is trying to secure a representation from every county in the state in these shows, and was down here boosting for them Tuesday. The Land Products Show will be held at Portland Sept. 15 to 21 and the State Fair at Salem, Sept. 23d to 28th. So they can both be taken in on one trip.

Record Prices For Jerseys

At a Jersey sale at Carlton, Oregon, last Monday thirty-four head of cattle of that breed sold for $37,000, or at an average of more than $1,000 a head.

Record prices were reached in the sale of the Jersey cow, St. Mawes Boise Rosarta, three years and three months old, which was bought for the Hood farm at Lowell, Mass., for $5100. This cow's calf, 10 days old, was bought by Frank Loughery, of Monmouth, Ore., for $2100.

A 10 months' calf brought $1300 from Morton E. Deguire, a banker of Silverton, who also purchased a 21-months' old calf for $10. D. C. Howard, of Clatskanie, Ore., county agent of Columbia, paid $1500 for one Jersey of 7 years, 4 months; $1200 for one 4 years, 10 months.

S. O. Leaseholders Meet Here

Wednesday the leaseholders of Southern Oregon lands met at the court house here to the number of thirty or forty to discuss their common interests and decide what course of action it would be best for them to pursue to get preferred claims to the lands they occupy. The act providing for the purchase of these lands by the government gives some of them preference rights in the sale of the land.

J. O. Stemmler, of Myrtle Point, attorney for a number of these leaseholders told them that no action they could take now would do any good, and that to wait until the government had classified the lands so as to be able to open them for settlement was the only thing to do.

Reedsport Coming to the Front

W. B. Clark came down Sunday evening from Reedsport where he is employed in the Johnson mill, returning the next morning. He says that Reedsport has a $50,000 monthly payroll this summer and that the town is going ahead rapidly. The new electric light plant will be in operation by the first of July, their third lumber mill will be ready for business this summer, and that the cannery is shipping an express carload of fish to eastern markets every morning, besides the large local shipments to Portland. He tells a pretty big fish story of a flounder fifteen feet long by ten across and eighteen inches thick which was brought into the cannery by the deep sea fishing fleet.

Reedsport will celebrate the Fourth this year and a big time is being arranged for.

Archie Buys a Ranch

Since he had to quit the County Court Archie Philip, with his wife and son, Mike, have bought a ranch on Larson inlet containing 169 acres of land and assessed at $9,000, though the price paid was only about two-thirds that amount. There are twelve cows on the ranch now and they expect to increase the herd. There are excellent buildings on the ranch and they are going to pipe water 1,000 feet to install a modern water system. Every one will wish Archie good luck in this new venture, and those who voted to oust him from the commissioner's job won't be sorry if it results in something much better for him.

Another Honor Guard Dance

The Honor Guard will give another of their always-enjoyable dances at the Machon Hall tomorrow (Saturday) evening. The Coquille Orchestra of five pieces, with their recent addition, will furnish the music. The admission will be $1.10 including the war tax. The ladies of the Honor Guard are in need of funds for patriotic relief work which they are still performing, and they also made a $25 pledge to the Salvation Army fund.

Those who have attended the Honor Guard affairs in the past know what an enjoyable time they can expect, and all others will have to learn by attending this dance.

Dr. Boyd Goes to Portland

Dr. C. R. Boyd will leave Sunday for Portland, intending to be gone until July 8. Two events take him to his former home. One is the marriage of his daughter on the 28th and the other is the return of his son, who has just come home following his discharge from the navy. The young man made about 30 trips across the Atlantic in the Hampton which was engaged in transporting troops to Europe and later in bringing them home. Dr. Boyd expects his wife to accompany him on his return to Coquille.

For Music Pupils

Mrs. A. J. Hoover will take a limited number of advanced music pupils. Those interested may call at Mrs. H. S. Tuttle's residence, (the H. O. Anderson property), next Tuesday afternoon from 2:30 till 4 o'clock. She will teach Tuesdays and Fridays of each week in town.

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.00.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S SCHOOL HOUSE PARADE

The parade prepared by the Women's Club in the interest of a new school building at 8 o'clock last Saturday night was in many respects the finest street display ever staged in Coquille.

The sixteen cars that took part were all beautifully decorated with flowers, flags, banners, pennants and greenery and with all the grades represented in their own distinctive colors and both the high school at the front and the little tots who are to be the pupils of the future bringing up the rear, and the numerous skits and mottos, there was nothing lacking to make it a most impressive spectacle for the purpose in view—arousing the interest of all our people and the taxpayers especially in the school question and impressing upon them the imperative need of more and better school accommodations.

On Monday night when nearly half a thousand voters attended the school meeting we heard plenty of unfavorable comment as to our only school building which is not only antiquated but very poorly lighted and in need of a thorough remodeling to fit it for the purpose for which it was intended.

But to return to the parade. It was headed by the Band whose music was inspiring, following whom came Mayor Johnson and Superintendent Baker on foot.

The patriotic car was driven by J. W. Miller and carried the Goddess of Liberty, Uncle Sam and a Red Cross nurse. It was draped in flags and was a most fitting head for the pageant.

Then came the High School Color car driven by Helen Sherwood and gay with the colors, red and white, prominent in umbrellas carried by four girls of the high school as well as in the decorations of the car.

For the charming decoration of the Color Car Mrs. C. W. Endicott, whose own car appeared as the Gym car, was largely responsible.

The Manual Training car was one of Fred Slagle's Chevrolet trucks decorated with evergreens and flowers, with boys sawing and working as if they were preparing kindling and a table dangling from the roof which looks as if it had been built by candlelight out of scraps from the woodpile. The fact that "We Need Manual Training" was also emphasized by a banner with that device.

Aaron Wilson's truck formed the Domestic Science display, a Kitchen and the girls who were doing the cooking all in white.

Then came the Preps and other cars for the various grades from the Seventh down to the First in distinctive colors, yellow, green, purple, orange, etc., with the pupils of those grades following on foot and carrying pennants and numerous pertinent mottos, such as:

"We Need More Light."
"Only Fools Hinder Schools."
"Rickety, Rickety, Ricks,
We Want More Room for the Sixth."
"Don't Be Cruel to School Children"
"More Light, Better Sight."
"It Pays the State to Educate."

After the grades came the five-year-olds on tricycles, kiddie cars and coasters or with doll carriages, all bright with colors, while some of the little folks were fairies and butterflies.

Then came the three baby cars cars driven by John Aasen, Mrs. Dunham and J. E. Paulson, each filled with little tots three and four years old, all wearing pink and blue paper caps and carrying pennants of the same colors, the cars also appropriately decorated—the prettiest sight in the whole parade. The first car bore the words, "We Want a"; the next carried on the legend in baby lingo, "New Kool House;" the third finishing it with, "So Do We."

After these came the Woman's Club on foot, headed by its president Mrs. L. P. Brannetter. In a car driven by Irving Lamb rode members of the parade committee. In a large measure the success of this parade was due to the untiring efforts of the chairman of the school committee, Mrs. Edwin Ellingsen.

The Calathumpians were the next feature with comic banners a bunch of ladies dressed in the antiquated costumes of the days when our school building was new, and making a spectacle of themselves to show how far behind the times we are in our schools.

By the time this parade had gone west from the Federated church to the Liberty Temple and around by the Baxter Hotel up to the Sentinel office again it was almost treading on its own trail.

Here it circled the traffic guide returning to the speaking stand at the Baxter where the program was given, including "The Star Spangled Banner," and other music, class yells and addresses in the interest of a new school home by Mrs. Brannetter, Superintendent Baker, Principal Tuttle and Mr. Hammer, of Portland, who promised to return and talk to our
