The teams for the removal of tin cans and rubbish of all kinds that the people of Coquille have gathered up during clean-up week will start out Saturday morning, Mr. Mansell informs us. If there is more that can be handled in one day the rest will be removed the first of next week.

See program for Liberty Theatre and advertisement of "The Heart of Humanity" on seventh page.

Capt. G. E. Low will return to Coquille tomorrow afternoon, after nearly two years' service with Uncle Sam's forces, part of the time in France, and will resume the practice of medicine in this city. He will take the office rooms in the First National Bank building recently vacated by Dr. G. O. Wilkins.

H. A. Isensee started for Portland this morning to settle up his brother's estate, their mother being quite old and all the work devolving upon him. He is acting as the trustee of his brother's properties. Fred Isensee was the name of Mr. Isensee's brother. He had a confectionery in Portland where he had lived for 20 years.

J. F. Plank, of Woodburn, spent last week visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Utter, who is teaching the Roy school this summer. Mrs. Utter was Ruth Plank before her marriage, and taught several years in the Norway and Coquille schools. Mr. Plank took his little grandson, Ivan Rea Utter, home with him for a two-months' visit.

Mrs. Ben F. Lawrence arrived in Coquille Saturday afternoon from Indianapolis, Ind., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Drane, and other relatives. Mrs. Drane, Mrs. E. E. Johnson and the latter's daughter, Mary Esther, met her at Marshfield. Mr. Lawrence expects to come next month for a short visit at his old home.

Paul Lamson, who enlisted in the Navy for four years, got back to Mare Island June 23 from five months in Panama where the hot weather made him long for old Coos. He will shortly go to the Prybyloff Islands up in Alaska on the U. S. Steamer Manchu which will take a load of salt and flu medicine up there for the natives—and there at least he won't suffer from the heat.

Marie Isensee, his mother informs us, is now clerking in Powers & Estes' drug store in the Oregonian building at Portland, and attending night school at the Y. M. C. A. He is enjoying his work and expects to make up all his high school credits this summer and be ready to enter college this fall. He may decide to take a course in pharmacy before preparing himself to become a doctor.

W. H. Weeks, of Antioch, California, who used to live here 27 years ago but had not seen Coquille in the meantime, came in Saturday in his car and went out to Brewster valley. He came by way of Roseburg and says the road through the Rock creek canyon was the worst he found anywhere on the way. He found nothing here looking familiar except the Collier apartment house on Front street.

Jack Jusa Seriously Ill

People recently from Curry county bring the news that John A. Jusa, publisher of the Gold Beach Reporter and formerly a highly esteemed member of the Sentinel force here, was confined to his home by illness following a severe attack of the grip. We have since seen it stated that his condition had become so alarming that his mother, who lives in or near Portland had been summoned to his bedside.

Appearance of River Front

The appearance of the river front at Coquille has been vastly improved during the past year by the rebuilding of the Johnson mill. Another thing that would help it almost as much more would be the removal of the wrecks of the "Favorite" and the "Relief."

Some Social Events

Mrs. M. A. Hartson entertained at cards at her elegant home on East First street yesterday afternoon and served a delicious luncheon. About thirty ladies were present, including several out of town guests.

Mrs. T. B. Currie entertained Wednesday evening at a sewing party in honor of Mrs. Marguerite Neiman, of Eastside, and served an appetizing repast. There were about twenty ladies present including several out of town guests.

Mrs. George Lorenz entertained the senior "500" club at cards Tuesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Edward Lorenz, and served elegant refreshments.

Mrs. J. Allan Collier will entertain the junior "500" club this evening at her spacious new home on East Third street.

Mrs. R. H. Sweet entertained the younger "500" club in a most delightful manner last Thursday afternoon. Following cards she served a delicious luncheon to her guests, who numbered twelve.

Visit to the Phillips Ranch

Last Sunday the Sentinel editor and his better half enjoyed a delightful day at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Phillips down at Beaver Slough. Mr. Phillips was to begin cutting the next day the finest crop of oats and vetch we have yet seen. It stood in some places away over our heads—in fact more than six feet in height—and was so dense that in almost any other region than western Oregon it would have fallen flat. One couldn't see three feet into it. Mr. Phillips is rebuilding and remodeling his residence, which at one time was a popular hotel at the mouth of the slough. It stands on high ground in a beautiful location with a wide view up and down the river, and back of it is a cliff on which we found fuchias—the hot house plants of the east growing wild. His garden on the sandy river bank was one of the finest we have seen this year, and its products proved as appetizing as they looked.

Hold Examination at Marshfield

The State Board of Auto Mechanic Examiners will meet at the Chandler Hotel, Marshfield, Monday, July 21, for conference with men in this district. Examinations will begin there Wednesday, July 23. Those in this district not taking the examination there at that time will have to go to Eugene later, as this is the only time the Board will visit Coos Bay this season.

Senator Chamberlain and President Wilson appear to be on speaking terms again. At any rate the Senator has invited the President to speak at Portland when he makes his western trip.
