WANT ALL TRADE

Marshfield Progress to Take All Valley Business When Road is Finished

Looking ahead the Marshfield Record foresees the following results from the completion of the state road between Coquille and Marshfield:

"When the highway is hard surfaced the bulk of the shopping of all of the county through which the highway runs will be done here. People who own cars will drive here and those who do not will patronize the jitney lines which will operate. Goods will be ordered by telephone and delivered by jitneys. People will gradually begin to build homes along the highway, as the section is delightfully seclusive and away from the trade winds. Outsiders can run into town, pass the evening and get back again in good season and without a great deal of effort.

"The bulk of the larger shopping of the Coquille valley will be done here when the highway is finished.

"With the demands which trade will make upon them the stores here will have to enlarge and with the bulk of business growing more people will have to be employed. Visitors spend their money in various ways—every business house here will be patronized and little ranchers and small dairymen will be able to send in whatever they have to offer on the express and jitney lines which do not now operate and which make the life of the smaller rancher much harder than it ordinarily should be.

"The news has come from Roseburg the state highway commissioners have decided to hard surface the Myrtle Point-Roseburg road. When this is done it will mean more than another railroad to Coos Bay. We will then be able to get into touch with the Willamette valley and we will do a great deal of business with the people there. The residents of the Willamette swelter in the mid-summer days and they will come here by hundreds when the highway is finished. The drive is through the most scenic country along the coast and the distance is less than 100 miles.

"The business which is created by tourist travel is one of almost unlimited possibilities and the amount of money left by those who come and go in machines is stupendous when it is striven for as it should be.

"Marshfield is now possessed of the best chamber of commerce it has ever had and with Secretary Reid's aggressive and comprehensive method of acquainting the country with the beauties and resources of Coos Bay few seasons will go by before this part of Oregon will become the mecca of autoists and investors."

Conditions are changing so rapidly and in so many ways now that it is hard to tell how far the rosy anticipations of the Marshfield merchants and newspapers may be warranted. Perhaps they will find a pot of gold at the end of that rainbow and perhaps not.

Unless some of our business men wake out of their Rip Van Winkle sleep and begin to do something to retain the local trade these rosy dreams of the Record may be measurably realized. People who are making goods thousands of miles away spend a good deal of money advertising them in the Sentinel. They would not do it unless it paid. But it will pay any Coquille merchant a good deal more for each dollar spent to advertise in the Sentinel than it does men in Portland, Philadelphia and New York. As we have before said the merchants who are not living up to their opportunities by advertising in the Sentinel are losing more than this paper is by their neglect to do so.

Of course, when 300 cars cross the Coquille river here now in a single day with only a ferry for the transfer and without a hard surfaced road in any direction from this city, it is plainly to be seen what the completion of a paved road from here to Roseburg and down the coast to the south will eventually do for Coquille. The benefits we, as well as Marshfield, are going to receive from tourist travel when we get connection with the main arteries can hardly be overdrawn.

Buying Stock in Curry

A large shipment of hogs, purchased by J. E. Ford for Coos Bay markets from Whitworth Bros. and Porterfield of the Euchre creek district in northern Curry county, arrived in Bandon, via auto trucks the first of the week and was taken up the river on steamers to the cars at Cedar Point. Mr. Ford has just completed driving 800 head of cattle from the Rogue river section to the railroad. A Washington man has also been in Curry buying sheep and is driving 900 head out to Roseburg for shipment.—Bandon World.

East Fork News

Ray Wire Davis, the lumber jack sky pilot, assisted by Messrs. Sessena and Campbell, of Marshfield, held preaching services in the Brewster Valley school house Sunday. Mr. Sacchi led the singing and he surely brought the sing out of the people, and there was a houseful. The writer first heard him sing in '96. He could sing then, he can sing more now. Mr. Davis can hand out illustrations that make clear what he is saying and he delivers the goods with a force that knocks out the nap habit.

Mrs. Langworthy, of Marshfield, who is visiting the Weavers, gave a recitation. Mrs. Walter Laird was organist. She and Berta sang a duet accompanied by Bonnie at the organ. Miss McIntosh, of Marshfield, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Weaver.

Grandma Laird was at the meeting, also her daughters, her sons, her grandchildren and her great grand children.

Grant Harry is still on crutches due to being kicked by a horse about three weeks ago.

Harry Russel and Mrs. Russel, of Catching Slough, and his brother and Mrs. Russel, of the Bay, with their children, were enjoying the East Fork and Brewster valley country for a few days last week.

Mrs. Terry, a sister of Charles Shepherd, her daughter, Mrs. Kinney, and son, Chester Terry, are visiting relatives on the East Fork and at McKinley.

Oscar Bunch went to Roseburg to see his mother, who is sick.

Mr. Gates, of Yuma, Arizona, who is now living in Camas valley, has been taking a look at Coos county. He was a horse-back. Someway he sits on a horse differently from any man we have seen go over the road and his blankets are carried behind his saddle in a different shaped roll. It is interesting to hear him talk about Arizona.

Fred Baker and family moved to Coquille Sunday. Fred did lots of hauling for us. He never over-charged and was accommodating. We will miss him from the road. Elmer King, of McKinley, the new owner of Fred's truck and cream route, is on the job to make good and give every body a square deal. When we want a square deal, it is a good plan not to forget to give a square deal.

Last fall when we wanted to buy a pure bred Red Poll bull, we did not have the money, I wrote to the First National of Coquille that I needed money to buy a Red Poll bull. They wrote me, "you may have it." We have the bull.

Successful Farming for July says that Escher & Ryan, of Manning, Iowa, sold 171 head of Aberdeen Angus cattle at an average of $2,200 per head and that "the world's record sale for purebred cattle was broken" at that sale. R. A. Easton.

Church of Christ Notes

The services on last Sunday morning and evening were well attended and all appreciated hearing Dr. Eaton speak. Come to the Bible Study every Thursday evening, you will find them interesting and growing in number.

The Endeavor topic, "Speech, Wise and Unwise," was very interesting with Mr. Kelley as leader. Watch the contest which is causing the Endeavor to grow in interest and number and don't forget the Kiddie social Friday night.

Don't fail to hear the DeMoss family of entertainers next Wednesday night at Gould & Gould hall.

Dr. Eaton will speak for us again next Lord's Day, morning and evening. Come hear Dr. Eaton.—Church Correspondent.

Another Auto Accident

Jake King, auto mechanic for the Central Transfer Co., is laid up with fractured ribs and a broken collar bone at the Myrtle Point hospital as a result of going over the grade in the Myrtle Point vicinity Monday. Mr. Cotter was in the car with him but was uninjured. King was driving a Studebaker.—Bandon World.

Cure for Dysentery.

"While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

County Herd Inspector

W. V. Glaisyer, of Moscow, Idaho, has been appointed by the Court of Coos County as County Herd and Meat Inspector.

This is in accordance with a bill passed at the last session of the state legislature for the purpose of preventing the spread of tuberculosis and other contagious diseases in the livestock of the county.

The County Herd Inspector will probably be busy most of the time in testing the herds of the county for tuberculosis, but when not occupied on official work for the county, he expects to conduct a regular veterinary practice.

When on county work, such as tuberculosis testing, the Herd Inspector will be paid not to exceed $10 per day by the County Court but the charge to each owner of stock for testing his herd will be thirty-five cents per head. This is to be paid to the Herd Inspector and all such money collected shall be turned over by him to the county for the purpose of creating a fund to provide for such work.

Dr. Glaisyer is recommended by the State Veterinarian and he expects to be on the job as soon as possible after Aug. 1.

All applications for tuberculosis testing should be addressed to Dr. W. V. Glaisyer at Coquille.

This work is going to be of great benefit in keeping the dairy herds clean of such disease especially and in promoting better health and sanitation in general throughout the county and it is expected that every farmer will co-operate to the fullest extent with the County Herd Inspector in this most important service to which he has been assigned.

Tell your friends that if they want to take the Sentinel they can get it at a bargain rate by subscribing now. The price will soon go up to $2 per year.

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.00.
