

Events in the City and County

Fred Single went over to Marshfield Wednesday.

E. M. Neeler made a business trip to the Bay yesterday.

Mrs. J. E. Norton and daughter, Mildred, went over to the Bay Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary E. Stauff has been over from the Bay visiting Mrs. Walter Sinclair.

Dressmaking at reasonable prices at Maybelle Ford's.

Walter Asplund and his sister, Miss Esther Asplund, were Coquille visitors Wednesday.

Over at the Bay the pickers are getting six cents a pound for evergreen blackberries.

Fred L. Minard is now running the store at Bufo, one of the new towns on the line to Eugene.

Miss Minnie Kalbus, the home demonstration agent for this county, has been over at the Bay this week.

Mrs. H. C. Getz and children returned last Friday afternoon from a visit with her parents at Newberg.

County Judge Wade went over to Marshfield Wednesday evening to hear the Ward insanity case from Sumner.

Special attention given to children. Yours for good sight. Dr. Eaton.

M. O. Filcroft and family have moved in from Fairview to take advantage of our city schools during the coming year.

Joe Broad, a brother of Mrs. Frank Langey, came over from Jackson county last week, intending to spend the winter here.

August Trison, of Marshfield, has retired from the county valuation board, his own business requiring his entire attention.

Miss Laura Watson, who recently graduated from the California Normal School at San Jose, will teach at Powers this winter.

Miss Lucy Lewis and Mrs. Hammond, of Corvallis, are in the city now as guests of Miss Minnie Kalbus, the county home demonstration agent.

Spectacles and Eye glasses repaired while you wait. Broken lenses duplicated. Satisfaction guaranteed, by V. E. Wilson, the Optometrist, Coquille, Oregon.

More rain means more grass and more grass means more butter and cheese in Coos county now—and Coos county is a cow country as all our readers know.

Game Warden J. M. Thomas is in this end of the county this week, so hunters will have to take heed of their steps. Thomas usually goes those he goes after.

Tomorrow will be "Park Day" at North Bend, and tags will be sold to raise funds to improve that magnificent tract of big trees L. J. Simpson presented to that city.

Remember that the time in which to secure the Sentinel in connection with the Sentinel for 75 cents will soon expire. After Oct. 1st the rate for the two will be $3.00 instead of $2.25.

Dr. A. C. Eaton has removed his office from upstairs in the Sentinel building to the second story in the First National Bank building where he will have rooms with Dr. Boyd.

We are glad to note that Jack Jusa is again on the job as editor of the Gold Beach Reporter, after spending several weeks in bed as the aftermath of a severe attack of the "flu" last winter.

Mrs. L. P. Branstetter and son, Prescott, left last Monday morning for Mt. Angel, where Prescott will enter the Catholic college. Mrs. Branstetter is expected home next Monday.

Verma Chandler and Dorothy McGermick are the two young ladies from North Dakota who have come to Coos county to teach the Summer school. They are each to receive $112.50 salary.

In the Coquille Valley, which the A. Rupert Company regards as "the best berry section in the State of Oregon," this is comparatively easy. Almost any of our land is natural loganberry ground.

Superintendent Baker, of our city schools, says six of the new school books have not yet arrived and that the beginning of work in the branches they cover will be delayed for about a month on that account.

TEAMS WANTED—Wages $8.00 per day, "8 hours." Hay $30.00, grain $72.00 per ton. Address or phone Moon & Co., Port Orford, Ore., 363.

Miss Minnie Kalbus, the home demonstration agent for this county, has been over at the Bay this week.

Fred Van Pelt went over to the Bay this morning to meet his wife, who is expected home today from San Francisco, where she underwent an operation a month ago. She has been steadily improving since the operation.

J. F. Nichols, Harry Oerding and E. E. McDuffie left last Thursday for Curry county, where they joined the Hamilton-Culler-Lewis hunting party, the whole crowd returning Sunday evening, with a bag of seven deer.

The Missionary Tea to be given by the ladies of the Federated church will be served at Mrs. Jsa. Richmond's home next Thursday, Sept. 18. The program will be given at the home of Mrs. A. T. Morrison next door.

Red currants are wanted by the A. Rupert company of Portland, which will build a cannery here to take care of all next season's crop of berries and stands ready to contract for them for years ahead at very attractive prices.

Don't overlook the advertisement of the Coos-Curry fair in this issue. Many new and interesting features are to be on the program at Myrtle Point next week. The fair opens Wednesday and will last until Saturday night.

J. C. Swenge has been employed to collect the delinquent personal taxes in this county as an assistant to L. A. Liljeqvist with whom the County Court some time ago made a contract to do that work on a ten per cent commission basis.

George M. Lowe, of Granada, Ore., is expected here tomorrow for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Paul T. Ramsey. He was "over there" in the second division of the Marines and was seriously wounded in one of the earlier battles.

F. E. McKenna was over here from Marshfield Wednesday for a farewell visit before taking up his new duties at Corvallis. Mrs. McKenna and daughter will make a visit of several weeks with her mother here before going to Corvallis.

J. B. Sawyer and family returned last Sunday from a trip out to Jacksonville to visit relatives. He says that the Douglas-Coos county line is very apparent on the Roseburg-Myrtle Point road, the Coos end being in the better condition.

Considerable rain fell here yesterday morning, and the indications are that there will be no further lack of moisture this year. The ban on irrigating has not been lifted yet, but the ground is thoroughly saturated and no one wants to irrigate any way.

A quiet wedding took place in Eugene last week when Miss Stella Birkiow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Barklow, of Eugene, but formerly of this city, and Mr. Seba Devorell, of Nevada, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Spangler.—Myrtle Point American.

Dr. A. F. Kirshman, who has been so long in the dental business here, removed the first of the week to Sutherlin, Oregon, where he will open an office. He goes, as N. E. Landreth did, to take advantage of the excellent school facilities the Adventists are offering there.

J. D. Benham was in from Fairview Monday. He says much of the grain there is still in the shock and needed dry weather. On the other hand the dairymen on the river were as delighted with abundant rains in early September, promising as they did fine fall pasture.

Owing to the war the government has started against profiteering in food supplies of all kinds, the prices paid for evergreen blackberries by the Eugene canneries has dropped from 8 1/2 to 7 1/4 cents this week. The five cent rate paid in this county need not be affected, however.

Mrs. O. B. Hughes, who left here early in the summer with Mr. Hughes to make their home again in Long Branch, N. J., came in for a visit last Sunday, after a week spent in Curry county, as the guest of Mrs. Fred Single. Mr. Hughes is expected here this afternoon on a business trip.

Ans. A. Enns came up from Granada, Calif., last Sunday for a short visit with friends and relatives. In addition to his farm down there he is managing a lumber company at that point. He expects to return home tomorrow accompanied by Mrs. Enns, who has been here several weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shilley.

Coquille has a week behind it in the matter of school books purchased by our dealers. E. E. Kowles got in a stock of considerably over a ton in preparation for the school opening, besides having about 200 pounds of books back ordered. He reports one of the largest sales of books in his business career here of over a quarter of a century.

A. E. Tiffany, of Eugene, representing the Koko-Tiffany Printing Company, formerly the Yoran Printing House, was a Coquille visitor yesterday. He informs us that they have recently installed a second Miller Self Feeder on their job presses and are well pleased with the work of these human machines, each of which releases a hand from the monotonous work of putting sheets into and taking them out of a platen press.

Rev. James E. Conder, the former pastor of the Federated church here, came in Wednesday evening and went out the next morning. He had been to North Dakota since leaving here for conference to look after his and Mrs. Conder's wheat ranches. He says the crop was only six bushels per acre and that for the five feet he had sown into the ground with a post sower, it was as dry as powder—and it hadn't rained there for three years. However, the rain began the day he left and continued without intermission until he reached Eugene, so that the prospects for next year's crop in those Montana and Dakota sections are better. Mr. Conder is located at Roseburg now.

Classes All Too Large

Thirty pupils in high school and 20 in the grades are considered enough for any teacher to do justice to. How largely in excess of that the classes are running here may be seen in the school report elsewhere published.

First Catch Your Loganberry

Prepare the ground, set out the plants and care for them according to printed directions which will be furnished you and the result is sure. Your berries will bring in so much money that you can afford to buy your loganberry juice. The "bought-on" kind is lots better, anyway. Bradley, Berry Booster. Plant Berries for Profit.
