E. E. JOHNSON

THE COSMETIC OF THE INANIMATE.

- ¶I am the savor of surfaces.
- ¶I am the world-old preserver.
- ¶Noah knew me, for he pitched the ark within and without.
- ¶The Pharaohs sought me as an adornment for their tombs—their mummies endure because I conserve.
- ¶I am the woad of the ancient Britons; their blue battle hue.
- ¶Because of me the treasures of the Sistine Chapel defy effacement.
- ¶I am the keeper of the antique.
- ¶I am the servant of progress.
- ¶Columbus found me bedecking the savages who watched him plant Ferdinand's banner on the shores of New Spain; and the very sails of his caravels resisted the elements of the West through my aid.
- ¶The pioneers westward wending their way daubed the prairie schooners with my protection.
- ¶I am the royal robes of civilization's monarchs, Steel and Lumber.
- ¶The taut wings of the airplane gleam under my protective veneer.
- ¶The sullen dreadnaught and the homing transport plow the seas impervious to corrosion because of me.
- ¶I waterproofed your agents of destruction, the bullet and the shell.
- ¶Then I drew the mercy of my concealing camouflage over your hospitals.
- ¶I glisten on the homes, and on the barns, and on the cement surfaces.
- ¶Where life is, I am alive.
- ¶Where death and decay set in my absence hastens them.
- ¶And my mission is to preserve.
- ¶Saver of Surface, I am PAINT!

Mooseheart Children Home

The Trustees and visiting committees, under the leadership of Mrs. W. W. Miller, members of the Ladies Order of Moose, their families and the public will have opportunity to see the films of Mooseheart in Mason Temple, Fourth and Taylor streets. The Portland lodge is bringing the films to this city at considerable expense, and will exhibit them free to the public.

Mooseheart was founded a few years ago, but its work for care and education of children dates up to date lines has attracted attention throughout the civilized world. It is situated on a tract of 3000 acres 25 miles southwest of Chicago, and is training and educating 700 children to be self-reliant, capable, 100 per cent American citizens.

Vocational training is combined with the ordinary common and high school advantages.

The institution bears no resemblance to an orphan asylum. It is a series of farms, gardens, cottage homes, schools, halls and industrial shops. The children are grouped in families of 10 or 12 under competent matrons and given home life. They are taught to govern themselves and corporal punishment is unknown. The view of Mooseheart gives a visitor the impression of a well arranged town with plenty of park and garden space and a surprisingly large population of well dressed, well behaved and intelligent children.

That arrangements are being made to have these films shown at the Liberty Theatre here, we are informed by H. W. Miller, and he says they confidently expect to secure them at an early date.

Heroine Saves His Life

A press dispatch from Medford says that Miss Winifred Mackay, a wealthy society girl from Boston, Mass., was the heroine last Monday in the rescue of Court Hall, proprietor of the Crater Lake stage line, from drowning in Rogue river.

Hall, who is a veteran sportsman and fisherman, took Miss Mackay and her two aunts, Mrs. W. Burcher Fonda and Mrs. Oliver Crocker Stevens, of Boston, to Rogue river after their return from Crater Lake. Recent rains have raised the river several inches, and Hall was swept off his feet and carried down stream several hundred feet. Seeing his predicament, Miss Mackay, who is skilled in sports, seized a rope from the car, tied it to a root on the bank and taking off her shoes, plunged into the stream, attempting to swim to the rescue. She could make little headway, however.

Hall, meanwhile, had been swept into a shallow place and managed to cast his line to the young woman who with the aid of the chauffeur and her companions, tied a rope, reinforced by mud chains, to the line, and Hall was pulled ashore.

"A few minutes more," said Mr. Hall, "and I would have been swept from the shoal. I was completely exhausted and could make no headway with heavy waders on. I cannot praise Miss Mackay too highly. I owe my life to her heroism." In gratitude to Miss Mackay, Hall presented a valuable gold quartz stickpin, which he had worn for many years to the young woman.

Berries in Demand at Bay

So great is the demand for strawberry, raspberry and loganberry plants at the Bay that a paper there says growers of these fruits now have an opportunity to realize from $200 to $500 an acre by selling plants. This is, we fear, an example of the tendency to exaggeration which is one of the besetting sins of the Marshfield dailies, but half or a quarter of that amount would be mostly "velvet" to berry growers.

Industrial Club Members

Twelve boys and girls will go from Coos county to the state fair, with their expenses paid. There will be a livestock judging team of three boys, chosen by competition at the county fair next week; a swimming team of three girls chosen by competition at the county fair; one boy and one girl making the highest standing in club work; a team selected from the cooking clubs and the sewing clubs, to demonstrate in cooking and sewing at the state fair. The last named team has already been chosen and consists of Velma Bigelow, a cooking club member of Myrtle Point; Rachel Brown, a sewing club member of McKinley; Loretta Menon, in both cooking and sewing clubs, Templeton, near Lakeside. A boy, Paul Schuppels, of Lakeside, who has made a miniature logging scene, will go to the state fair to exhibit and demonstrate his outfit. He will also help the county club leader in putting on the club exhibit from Coos county.

It is the aim of County Club Leader Peterson to make the Coos county club exhibit distinctive from the other county exhibits by a few features that are peculiar to Coos county and the coast region. The Marshfield Chamber of Commerce has voted forty dollars to help carry out the plan. The North Bend Chamber of Commerce has been asked for $50. The Sunrise condensary of North Bend has given a case of milk to be used in making clam soup to be served at the state fair.

$6000 Net from 14 Acres

J. G. Swink, of Lebanon, has 14 acres of loganberries and is reported to have made $6,000 net profit from his crop. According to the Albany Democrat, Mr. Swink has recently been offered $1,000 per acre or a total of $14,000 for his 14-acre berry farm. There are thousands of acres in the Willamette Valley that can be made as valuable as the land of Mr. Swink, if the same energy and intelligence is applied. Mr. Swink has sold his berries to the Lebanon cannery and according to report of the officials in charge, will be doubled in capacity next year.

The Lebanon cannery is one of the smaller ones owned by the A. Rupert company and not as large as the one that company is going to build here.

Will See President Wilson

At the drawing at Portland Wednesday to decide who should have a chance to hear President Wilson's address at the municipal auditorium next Monday five of the 26 applications from Coos county were honored. They are: L. C. Marquet, M. Bochara, J. Lee Brown, John C. Mullen and William Murphy.

The Betsy Ross of Suffrage

Woman's suffrage has its Betsy Ross. She is Miss Edith Alingo one of the leaders in the National Women's Party. For every state that ratifies the national suffrage amendment as passed by congress recently Miss Alingo wears a gold star on Purple and White Star. Eleven stars are now in place—Missouri being the last state to act. The others, Wisconsin, Michigan, Kansas, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Texas.
