Obituary

Isaac Taylor Weekly was born in Benton county, Missouri, August 1, 1850. He removed to Douglas county, Oregon, in 1882, with his parents, William E. and Irene Jane Weekly. In 1872 he moved to Coos county where he resided until his death. July 1st, 1874 he was united in marriage to Miss Queen Victoria Krantz. He died Oct. 10, 1918, aged 69 years, and ten days.

He leaves to mourn his departure his beloved wife, Queen Victoria Weekly; his sons, Isaac Matson Weekly, of Gravel Ford; and Vance G. Weekly, of Coquille; and daughters, Ona M. Crosby, of Marshfield; Maud I. Brockman, of Coquille; Josie M. Bennett, of Dora. His brothers were John and Jefferson D., deceased. The living ones are Ed Weekly, Lee Weekly and William Weekly; his sisters were Mary J. Stephens, of Portland; and Ursula Rose, of Myrtle Point, deceased. He also left twelve grandchildren and one great grand child, Ellis Melvin Crosby.

Mr. Weekly was a man of worth to his country, being continuously connected with various enterprises for the upbuilding of our country; a devoted husband and father, a loyal citizen and friend to all with whom he came in touch. He helped build the old Coos Bay wagon road from Roseburg to Coos Bay, undergoing many hardships in the early seventies in helping to hew out roads through the forests of Coos county; also clearing up his home, commonly known as the Old Elk Creek homestead on the East Fork of the Coquille, where he spent 38 years of his life. The last six years of his life were passed at his beautiful home near Coquille. Mr. Weekly served his county two years as deputy assessor and four years as county commissioner. The present county courthouse here was built during his incumbency. Of recent years he has performed the duties of bailiff for the Circuit Court.

We can only add that if we had more men like Mr. Weekly our country would move forward morally and prosperously. His funeral services occurred at Dora and he was laid to rest in the cemetery there.—Communicated.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors, and the Masons, for their kind and timely aid in the sickness and burial of our beloved husband and father.

Mrs. I. T. Weekly, I. M. Weekly, Ona M. Crosby, Maud I. Brockman, Vance G. Weekly, Josie M. Bennett.

Woman's Club Meeting

Two interesting papers were given at the Woman's Club last Tuesday evening. One was concerning the establishment of the Albertina Kerr Nursery. Committees were formed to make a campaign for this purpose, campaign beginning Oct. 20 and closing the 30. This is a worthy cause and one in which Coquille has shown interest before. "Be a brick and buy a brick" will be the slogan during the campaign. Mrs. Nellie Scott, of Marshfield, asked for co-operation in the enforcement of the curfew law. The ladies took no action as the curfew at present is fairly well observed in Coquille. A large attendance is desired at the next regular meeting of the club, the fourth Tuesday of the month, October 23, as there is some important business to be attended to.

Ernest A. White Electrocuted

J. S. Lawrence received a paper from Hayward, Calif., Wednesday containing notice of the death of Ernest A. White, son of Chas. W. White, by electrocution, while working a power line. The elder White was a prominent Coquille citizen in former years, having left here about 20 years ago. The unfortunate young man, who was 22 years of age, was born in Coquille. He had just been discharged from naval service. His father lives in Oakland, where burial was made.

An Unfortunate Family

Hark Dunham brought over here from the Bay yesterday and took out to the county farm an unfortunate woman with two small children. They had been living at Lakeside but the husband and father deserted them and they were left without resources. They are Poles and the mother is unable to speak English.

See the program of the Liberty Theatre for the coming week on page 7 of this issue.

The work of digging the drainage ditches in the Fat Elk district began ten years ago last Sunday.

Sincere Gratitude

Mrs. William Bell, Logansport, Ind., writes: "I deem it my duty to express my gratitude for the good Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy did me when I had a severe attack of diarrhoea three years ago. It was the only medicine that relieved me."

IN FAVOR OF A BIG ROAD BOND ISSUE

farmer's home in the county, vote bonds to the limit and then go to the legislature and get the privilege of voting as much more, was Mr. Shields' sentiment, and something very much like it seemed to be the prevailing sentiment of those who can't reach the trunk lines we are now building.

It was pointed out, too, that most of the trunk lines were now provided for and would be finished by the state, though some seemed to think that the state had already undertaken as much road work as could be done with the money now in sight. Chas. Hall pointed out that this was not the case, and that while the projects already undertaken by the state required 20 million, the bond issue, the aid to be received from the general government and the amount to come from automobile and gasoline taxes during the next five years would aggregate not less than 35 million. This in answer to suggestions that it was useless for us to expect more state aid than had already been given use or would be required to finish the projects the state had already taken over.

L. A. Lawham, of McKinley, said there were no roads in the county when he came here to help build the Coos Bay Wagon road and we haven't got much yet. "We want roads all over the county," he added. "All my neighbors in my district want market roads and I think they are all willing to be taxed for them. We have almost given it up but still have hopes of roads."

J. D. Laird said, "I'm here to represent the people of Sitkum. We know what we want but we don't know how to get it."

J. H. Shields said even if there were only a few people now living along the road they asked to have improved more would come as soon as they got the roads.

Mr. Harnish said to get money for roads tax every man in Coos county $100 and tax me $200. After that he was willing to pay a ten mill tax on all his property.

The proposition that bonds be voted to the limit and that the money be divided proportionately among all the road districts in the county was advocated by the representatives of the county districts, but Charles Hall declared the cities would have none of it; that they wouldn't take county road bond money to use on their streets, that Marshfield didn't want the $175,000 she would get, nor Coquille $50,000, nor Bandon $80,000.

Of course, any plan for the voting of a million dollars and over for road bonds in Coos county will have to be studied from a good many angles and the way it shall be spent, if it should be voted will need to be decided with great care. The one outstanding fact, though, appears to be that there is as strong a sentiment now in favor of bonds for the rural communities of the county as there ever was against them in the past, and that the county court is going to be urged to call a bond election in the near future.

K. P. Grand Lodge to Coos

W. C. Chase returned yesterday from attending the K. P. grand lodge at Portland this week, where he assisted in securing the next session of the grand lodge for Coos county. Tillamook was making a bid for the meeting but Coos had too much of a lead and the meeting voted unanimously for Marshfield next year. The supreme chancellor and the grand chancellor of Washington were both in attendance, and a most interesting meeting was held.

Mrs. Mabel Roberts, formerly of Myrtle Point, was elected Supreme Representative of the Pythian Sisters, a position for which Mrs. Chase was next in line had she been able to be present. Miss Pauline accompanied her father as far as Eugene where she visited her sister, Genevieve, for a couple of days.

Over From Bay

Among those who came over from Marshfield Monday morning to attend the session of the grand jury and the adjourned term of the Circuit Court were Judge John S. Coke, District Attorney John Hall, Justice E. H. Joehnk, A. K. Peck, A. S. Hammond, C. F. McKnight, J. C. Kendall, John D. Goss, Tom T. Bennett, Bennett Swanton, and Mrs. N. B. Scott, court reporter.

Fifty-Eight Divorce Cases

Fifty-eight divorce cases appear on the bar docket of the Circuit Court this term, which is certainly a record. How much matrimonial infelicity and discord that represents. Just multiply 15 hours in the day by 365 days in the year and that by the 58 times two; and you begin to understand how much woe there is in Coos county this year on this one account.

Producing Better Brick

There has been a great improvement in the character of the brick made at the Arago yard this year, as is evident to every one who notices them in the walls of the Machon hotel and the Graham Garage. The only trouble is that people can't get them half as fast as they want them. More production, indeed, is the demand along almost all lines now.

There are a number of extra good attractions coming to the Liberty Theatre this next week. See the program on page 7.
