"A TEMPERAMENTAL WIFE"

A Peppy Play About Wives and Stenogs

There's nothing like calling in a doctor to bring hubby to his senses

The sad, sweet story of a maid who would wed a man who would gaze upon no feminine charms but her own. She sollices forth into the wide world in pursuit of him, finds him, captures him and then—oh then! she begins to find out things about men, the wretches! and her own man in particular.

GOULD & GOULD

A Happy and Prosperous New Year

for one and all is the sincere wish we want to express at this time. We also want to express our thanks for the favors of the past year.

Coquille Hardware Co.

Were Afraid to Taste It.
All sympathetic persons will be saddened by the plight of the city of Bend, where four alleged bootleggers have escaped conviction because peace officers have the wood alcohol scare and are afraid to "test" the liquor to prove its alcoholic content. Apparently the job of city tester in the good old days before wood alcohol was not entirely a labor of love.—Oregonian.

American Legion Notes

The local post can boast of a lady member. Miss Ida Habeger, a nurse of the A. E. F., who served over eighteen months overseas, was initiated into the Legion Tuesday evening.

This post believes it has the distinction of having the only lady member in the county. And no one is more entitled to wear the Legion button than the gritty little nurse, who risked her life over there during the great conflict. Miss Habeger is the sister of Mrs. E. E. Fraedrick, of this city.

The mask ball, which the Legion gave Wednesday evening, was largely attended and was one of the most successful, both from a pleasure and a financial standpoint, of any of the past year which the local post has given. The orchestra was kept busy until one a. m.

There were many maskers present. Those receiving prizes were as follows:

Miss Alta Hatcher and Mrs. Stephen Dey were awarded the prizes for the most handsome, as gypsy characters. While the most comic character was aptly carried out by Miss Alpha Ackenbach as a Bowery girl. The prize for the best sustained character was awarded to Miss Pearl McDuffee, representing Charlie Chaplin.

The judges' decisions met with the unanimous approval of all present. The judges were Miss Edna Jamison and Miss Ida Habeger.

Masons and Star Install

The joint installation of the Eastern Star and Masons last Saturday evening, St. John's Day, was a most enjoyable affair, and was witnessed by nearly 150 members of the two orders and relatives.

After the ceremonies a splendid supper was served in the banquet hall to which all did ample justice.

Mrs. Ora X. Maury was installing officer for the Star, and Mrs. Virginia Lamb marshal. The following is the full roster of officers, all but two of whom were installed Saturday evening:

- W. M.—Annie Von Pegert.
- W. P.—C. L. Willey.

Attempted Assault at Bay

The Marshfield City Council has offered a reward of $250 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the scoundrel who attempted to assault Miss Ruth Anderson last Saturday. She was seized from behind, thrown down and an attempt made to choke her. The girl freed herself, however, but when she began to scream her assailant drew a knife. Fortunately two men appeared on the scene at this time and the villain fled. This is the third attack of the kind within a year on the streets of that city and Mayor Ferguson says: "We will leave nothing undone to bring these offenders to justice. We will see that women and children in Marshfield are safe to walk the streets."

Sunset and the Sentinel $3 for a year. The regular price of $4.
