Hemstitching done at Maybelle Ford's Millinery.

First class Vulcanizing Works have just been opened at Bandon.

J. E. Paulson is building a neat garage at his place on First street.

For vulcanizing send your work to Bandon Vulcanizing Works.

Mrs. L. H. Hazard went out to Portland last Saturday for a short stay.

Mrs. M. L. Custer and son have been visiting with Grandpa and Grandma Custer here.

You can get your Vulcanizing done at Bandon now with less expense than to send farther away.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Nosler and George T. Moulton returned yesterday from a ten days' visit to Portland.

We furnish the Daily and Sunday Oregonian for one year in connection with the Sentinel for $3.50.

F. C. Parsley returned this morning from a commercial trip to Bandon and other points in the county.

County general fund warrants issued before July 1, 1918, are now ripe. Interest ceased on them Jan. 16.

You are invited to spend these long rainy evenings at the Club Billard Hall, clean, warm, comfortable. Follow the crowd.

The Mercy Hospital Association is going to build a new hospital in Marshfield, the city furnishing the site.

Geo. N. Batten suffered a fall at the County Infirmary the first of the week which will keep him laid up for several days.

O. S. Toney, the father of Coos county Moose, was over from the Bay yesterday to attend lodge here last night.

Marshfield is making every restaurant cut out all private boxes so that all patrons will have to eat in full view of the public.

Jim Davis' dog has a litter of wolf puppies. Beware of them for they will certainly get you if you don't give them a wide berth.

Dr. G. W. Leslie, Osteopathic Physician of Marshfield, will be at Baxter Hotel, Coquille, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, each week, 2:00 p. m. to 4 p. m.

J. C. Ross has purchased of Nels Osmundson his bungalow residence near the east end of First street and will make his home there.

Spectacles and Eye glasses repaired while you wait. Broken lenses duplicated. Satisfaction guaranteed, by V. R. Wilson, the Optometrist, Coquille, Oregon.

Arthur Ellingsen has the excavation done on the grounds all ready to build a new residence at his place just east of the First street bridge.

Two considerable business changes are pending now in Coquille—one involving a firm which has been doing business here for a generation.

The rainfall at Marshfield from Saturday noon until Monday noon is said to have amounted to 4 inches. Coquille probably got nearly as much.

From Jan. 13 to Jan. 24 not a marriage license was issued at the county clerk's office here. That was a long time for Dan Cupid to loaf on the job.

Rev. J. Loyd Decell, of Fresno, California, arrived Tuesday to assist Rev. A. B. Barry in the revival meetings at the Federated church this week and next.

Lex Cope came up from Langlois this morning for the second time this week. He came to visit his mother and his uncle, who is seriously ill at Fred Belloni's.

M. J. Hartson has just received from Fred Slagle, the Oldsmobile Sportster, which the Coos Bay Times declared was the prettiest ever seen at the Bay.

One practically new 22 horse power engine, mounted on truck. Terms. See T. A. Walker.

Among the Coquille people in Marshfield the first of the week were R. A. Wernich, Leo J. Cary, Arthur Ellingsen, William Candlin, F. A. Logan and E. N. Shull.

A good many people have told us that the Sentinel is "like a letter from home" to send to absent friends. Is there any one to whom you would like to send the paper?

Fred Von Pegert underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Richmond hospital early this week. He is the third member of the family to have to undergo this ordeal.

Herman Tellefsen, a recent arrival here, left for Coquille Monday where he will visit with his brother and look over the country with plans of locating.—Coos Bay Times.

C. McC. Johnson, of Reedsport, has gone to San Francisco to get a vessel of 400,000 or 500,000 feet of lumber capacity, to handle the output of his mill at Reedsport.

Marshfield is going to adopt a curfew ordinance which will keep boys and girls under sixteen off the streets after nine o'clock in the winter and ten in the summer.

Rev. L. E. Neal, pastor of the Church of God here, returned yesterday from Yakima, Wash., where he attended a meeting of representatives of churches of that denomination.

Rev. J. Edward Blair, a well known Presbyterian preacher, will be up from Curry county and will conduct the services at the Federated church here Sunday evening, Feb. 8.

Bishop DuBois, of the South Methodist church, who was expected here this week, has been obliged to postpone his visit and it will be several weeks before he will be able to be here.

Fred Von Pegert has sold the former Land residence on Spurgeon Hill, which he purchased last year, to C. C. Farr, county agent. Possession, however, will not be given until April.

The long pending suit of Katherine Thimsen vs. Attorney Chas. I. Reigard, of Marshfield, has been decided by the Supreme Court in favor of Miss Thimsen. About $3,000 was involved.

Those subscribers who get their paper this week with a blue cross will know that their subscriptions expire with this issue. They are dated "Feb. 20" which means Feb. 1, 1920.

In work over at Coos Bay the dredge Oregon has just dug up three stills supposed to have been thrown into the bay when there was danger the owners would be caught with the goods.

The statement the Sentinel made last week to the effect that Ed McMullen had settled with Mrs. Bledsoe was at least premature, thought that was the understanding at the Sheriff's office.

Last week Perley Lund sold the lease he had on the tailor shop on Front street to Floyd Brooks, a young man who has been here for some months and has had experience in that line before.

If any of our readers know their names have not yet got into the census rolls it behooves them to get busy. People have telephoned the Sentinel this week from Fairview that they have not been visited by an enumerator.

Lawrence Suckau, a Coos county rancher, who went insane, was brought up here Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Jake White, and placed in jail overnight, being taken out to Salem yesterday morning.

W. C. Bradley, who has been representing the A. Rupert Cannery interest here for several months past, was called to Portland for a conference with the managers of the company by a telegram yesterday and went north this morning.

Arthur Ellingsen was over at Marshfield Monday attending the county meeting and banquet of the Coos and Curry Hardware Retail Dealers Association. He was named as one of the executive committee of the association for the coming year.

J. F. Lee, of Riverton, was a caller this morning. He returned Wednesday from a visit to his son at Colfax, Cal., where he went six months ago for a change of climate on account of his wife's health. Mrs. Lee returns wonderfully improved.

Dr. V. L. Hamilton this week purchased of Fred Slagle the Appercon Jack rabbit, that high class car which J. J. Bateman sent over here after trying unsuccessfully to dispose of it at the Bay. It is a beauty and one of the finest cars in Coos county.

Among the Myrtle Point ladies, who went over to North Bend Tuesday to attend the Royal Neighbors convention that afternoon and evening, were Mesdames Henry Schroeder, Gus Hamilton, Annie Tripp, A. A. Schriber, Mary Albee, H. C. Miller, Maude Annin.

Miss Ida Gamble, who was an instructor in the Bandon schools until the first of the year, when she was called to her home in Portland by the illness and death of her niece, has accepted a position in the North Bend schools, teaching in the place of Miss Zola Kirry, who resigned.

It didn't take long after the Sentinel was out last week for T. A. Walker to get the missing bunch of keys, the loss of which had prevented him from getting into his office, nor for John Aasen to retrieve that fine cameo pin which was a Christmas present to his wife. The Sentinel want ads are winners.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Parker and baby, of Lisbon, South Dakota, came in Tuesday for a month's visit with relatives. Mrs. Parker is a sister of Mrs. C. W. Endicott and a daughter of T. J. Walker. They left weather of 36 degrees below zero and were astonished to find it so warm and springlike here.

Heaven Helps Such Men

Apparently the enterprising citizens of the Bullards community have come to the conclusion that the way to get road improvements is to go ahead and make them. Realizing the dire need of some 200 feet of plank on the Fahy hill along the county road leading towards the Seven Devils and finding the county court unprepared to furnish money for the improvement, the men of the community got together and decided to do the job themselves. They got the timber out of the woods, hauled it to the Fahy mill, cut it into 3-inch planks, then put the road to proper grade and put down the planks. On the hill planks were laid crosswise to a width of nine feet. Leading to the hill the plank were placed lengthwise.

The job was done in first class shape, and if done under contract would doubtless have cost between three and four hundred dollars.—Bandon World.

Jan. 27—Edward C. Kransholm and Margaret Overton, both of Marshfield.

Jan. 27—Russell E. Maine and Clemence Wright, both of Marshfield. They were married the same day at the home of the bride by Rev. Donald McKay.

Jan. 29—George Franklin Cox and Agnes Christian Canterbury, both of Bandon.

Probate Court Items

Thursday Attorney Pulford filed a petition in the probate court for the administration of the estate of M. A. Carlson, who died Nov. 4, 1905. The heirs are Carl T. Carlson, of Winchester Bay; Edith Boise, of Bandon; and August W. and Frank W. Carlson, of Sunnyvale, Cal.

Salvaging the Chanslor

Capt. Alex Scott, of Bandon, formerly at the head of the local life saving service, recently visited the wreck of the Chanslor with Chauncey Woodruff and Erwin Grange, of the Sixes. Capt. Scott is 72 years of age, but apparently has not yet lost the adventurous spirit of youth. The condition in which he found things on board that vessel is thus told by the Western World:

A large quantity of new sail cloth, rope, cable and other material, a valuable hoisting wreck and gear were found. All of the material is said to be in excellent shape and worth upward of $10,000 to $12,000 if they are able to get it ashore. The party attached a line to the Chanslor, anchoring the wreckage to shore in accordance with the laws covering salvage, and have made their claim to the bow and all the material on board. They are now devising ways and means of bringing the stuff to land.

A thorough search for bodies was made, but none were found.

Dairymen Meet at Bandon

Between 30 and 40 dairymen from all parts of Coos and northern Curry counties were in Bandon yesterday attending the annual meeting of the Coos and Curry Cheese association.

The meeting was called to order at one o'clock. One of the first items of business was the election of directors. The new directors are: J. D. Carl, Myrtle Point; A. W. Cope, Langlois; J. S. Capps, Denmark; C. Zumwalt, Sixes; B. McCloskey, Norway; Albert Seeling, Coos Bay; Geo. McDonald, Broadbent.

A movement is being talked of to have the dairymen purchase the cheese factory owned by J. D. Carl at Norway and the plant owned by A. Christensen at Gravel Ford. The idea is to conduct them on a cooperative basis as is done in northern Curry county.—Western World.

The Cow Testing Association

At a meeting of the Executive committee of the Myrtle Point Cow Testing Association last Saturday 1546 cows, owned by eighty farmers were accepted into the association. The fee for testing was fixed at $20.00 for a minimum for the first ten cows and $1.50 per head for each cow after that. Two testers were hired to carry on the work. W. C. Cutler was elected president, Leslie Trigg, secretary and Will McNair, vice president.

The Farm Bureau community committee of Dew Valley will hold a meeting in the Four Mile school house Feb. 1st.

Will Soon Move to Portland

L. A. Liljeqvist, who recently was admitted to the firm of Cake & Cake in Portland, and had been there arranging for changing his residence, came back to Coos Bay Sunday and says he cannot get possession of the home he bought until about the middle of February and his moving will be delayed until then. Mr. Liljeqvist said the firm had some big cases on hand and he is anxious to get to Portland to help on the preparation.—Record.

Party Saturday Night

Last Saturday probably the largest party of the season assembled at the spacious and hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sherwood and enjoyed themselves with "500" until the approach of midnight when a delicious lunch was served. The party consisted of fifty people, men and women and there were twelve tables. The Sherwoods are royal entertainers and everyone present enjoyed the occasion immensely.

New Man Sent Here

A. E. Adams, the genial representative of the American Type Founders company's Portland branch, has been visiting the print shops in Coos county this week. We enjoyed a chat with him Wednesday about old friends and present conditions. If he hadn't appeared just when he did in the fall of 1913 to purchase the Woodburn Independent we were then publishing, we should probably have never seen Coquille.

Russ Lands Offered for Sale.

The lands of the Russ Improvement Co. have now all been platted and are offered to the public in tracts of any size desired. L. P. Branstetter.

She Will Yet Walk

Miss Dollie James passed down the coast last week, says the Port Orford Tribune, returning to her home at Gregg's creek from Coquille, at which latter place Dr. Richmond operated on both her feet. When a small child Miss James had the infantile paralysis which left her crippled in both limbs. While the Dr. will not let her bear her weight upon her feet at this time, yet the operations are apparently successful and will at least relieve the young lady of much of her affliction.
