Gas Situation Easier.

The Standard Oil company will have a tanker here within a few days and this vessel will pump a million gallons of gasoline into the tanks of the Standard Oil company at the bay station, says Tuesday's Marshfield Record. This may, for the time being be denied, but the fact remains the tanker is coming and it will have the gasoline mentioned. At the same time the disposal of this gasoline will be restricted as much as possible, but everyone will be enabled to moderately operate his or her car.

This is certainly good news, which everybody hopes will prove true.

Weird Dance on Ship in Far North.

One of the weird scenes in "Back to God's Country," by James Oliver Curwood, is a midnight dance on board a ship frozen in the ice. The women were Eskimaux squaws, who were brought down from a trading post to dance with the sailors. Their clumsy, grotesque antics in their native dances are thoroughly amusing. This picture will be shown at the Liberty Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, June 14 and 15.

Don't forget that you may have your pictures finished the day after you leave them at Knowlton's.
