W. H. Voss, M. D., specializing on eye, ear, nose and throat and fitting of glasses, announces that he will be in Bandon every Tuesday and Myrtle Point every Friday. Home office, Collier Apartments, Coquille, Phone 861.

Call on us for Stationery.

C. E. Moore, who has been in Coos county for the last two months as a deputy dairy and feed commissioner, marking with the Oregon Dairymen's League, has resigned his position, and went out to Portland Tuesday morning by way of Allegany.

L. P. Branstetter informs us that he has six or eight deals on for the sale of property in the Ross tract, ranging from 40 to 80 acres. One of the recent sales was that of a portion of the old Chase place near the stock landing corral to B. C. Burnett.

As it looks now we shall have to wait until next summer for the completion of the paved road between here and Marshfield. Unless there should be much more fine weather than usual between now and Thanksgiving the work cannot be finished.

Dr. G. E. Low went over the grade between here and Myrtle Point Tuesday when a part of the steering gear of his car broke. Fortunately the decline was not steep and the car remained right side up. E. H. Croager and his son, Rodney, were with him.

N. N. Weisman started for Portland Tuesday where he expects to place orders for a considerable amount of machinery to be used in the Coquille Service Station. Among other things will be a vulcanizing outfit, battery charging equipment and a six-ton press for solid tires.

The Federated Missionary Society will give its monthly program Sept. 23, having been postponed for a week on account of the county fair. The program will be held at the home of Mrs. W. M. Way. The luncheon will be served at the home of Mrs. E. C. Getz. Everybody invited.

C. C. Farr, county agent and chairman of the committee which is getting together the copy for the county booklet, says the material is not yet in shape for the printer. He will be in Marshfield, however, tomorrow and expects to have further information in regard to it next week.

During the next two weeks the Rev. W. E. Cooper will accompany Bishop Sumner and present classes for confirmation in the Episcopal Church Missions of Southwestern Oregon. The Bishop will not visit Coquille during this month's trip down the coast but will be here in December.

Among those who went over to attend the ceremonies on Monday connected with the dedication of the Elks' new $50,000 home in Marshfield, were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harlocker, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Currie, Mrs. G. C. Fuller, Alton Grimes, Hugh Harlocker, Chas. Baxter, Jas. Campbell.

Mrs. E. H. Croager underwent an operation at Dr. Pemberton's hospital in Myrtle Point Monday morning for appendicitis and complications. Drs. G. E. Low and W. L. Pemberton performed the operation. At last account she was doing nicely and recovering as rapidly as it is possible to do.

Mrs. F. C. Taylor and daughter, Harriet, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Young, for the past two weeks left Wednesday morning for Lapwai, Idaho, where they will visit for a short time before starting east for their home in Nevada, Mo., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Sickels.

Butter Wrappers and Trespas Notices for sale at this office.

Leon Parr, of Woodburn, Ore., our new High School principal, came in on Wednesday's isolated train, accompanied by Mrs. Parr. Mrs. Leta Latta, who is an old college chum of theirs, was on the lookout for them, and soon had them safely housed, though the train that should have been here at three did not arrive until 11 p. m.

District Superintendent Fenton, of the M. E. Church/South, came in Tuesday, and he and Mrs. Fenton will be here for several days. Elder Fenton has just returned from his annual vacation which he took in company with M. O. Hawkins, of this city, on one of the fine fishing streams thirty miles northeast of Medford, known as Flat creek.

Henry Greyson, a farm hand in the employ of Ernest L. Clausen, of Norway, was brought in here Thursday suffering from an attack of insanity. He was violent at times and jumped from the car on the way down. He was pronounced insane and committed to the Salem Hospital, an attendant from there taking him out Sunday morning.

J. L. Smith informs us that he is expecting his brother-in-law, R. E. Graves on Sunday or Monday for a visit. Mr. Graves is well known among dairymen, having formerly been head of the dairy department in O. A. C. He is now in charge of all the experimental farms of the U. S. dairy division of the department of agriculture, with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Neal Explains

We take this means to apprise the public of our deep regret of having to hold our revival meeting at the same time as the Methodist church. Had we known they were intending to hold a meeting at this date we would not have had our meeting but the date for our meeting was set for Sept. 12 during the latter part of July and I have been announcing it since the first of August. I want the public to know we did not do what we did with any prejudice or to run in opposition to any one.

But the other meeting was not dated till about Tuesday of this week. I met with a few of the Methodist members with their evangelist in the Methodist church Monday evening and they decided, as there had been no arrangements made, not to hold their meeting. This was the decision of their evangelist. L. E. Neal.

We Get All the Raisins

The entire raisin crop of Malaga, Spain, was imported to the United States in the first six months of this year. Eight million pounds of raisins came to this country in that period. It is more than the aggregate that came from that district in the last seven years. In addition, California is producing raisins as fast as the crops can be grown.

Have the people of the United States become abnormal devotees of the mince pie? Or is the prohibition law working out to the immense satisfaction of the raisin growers of Spain and America?

Wouldn't Help Sentinel

A Toledo paper suggests that we could largely increase our subscription list if we would sell it 75 cent weekly for 40 cents in connection with the Sentinel. We have furnished a great many papers at a reduced rate to our readers in connection with the Sentinel for their benefit but we have yet to know of a case where any one has subscribed for the Sentinel on account of the reduced rate we make on other publications. The demand for Toledo or New York weekly newspapers in this section is not big enough to be noticed.

Rebecca Special on 20th

Owing to a visit of the president of the Rebeccas, Mrs. Ethel Fletcher of Salem, a special meeting of the Rebecca Lodge here will be held Monday, September 20, at 8 p. m. All Rebeccas of Marie Rebecca Lodge who desire to attend a convention at Marshfield, Sept. 28, are requested to communicate with Beatrice Getz.

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.50.

Some Typetting

Oregon Exchange carries this story about the phenomenal record on the linotype made in the office of the Woodburn Independent, which was at one time published by the Sentinel man:

"Herbert L. Gill, editor of the Woodburn Independent, is proud of the skill at the linotype exhibited by his son, Wayne V. Gill, who is one of the best operators to be found anywhere. The young Mr. Gill, says his father, once set 10,000 ems in an hour. Some days ago he set over two galleys in three-quarters of an hour. The father says the younger man turns out work with scarcely an error."

Mr. Gill has frequently visited in Coquille, being a nephew of J. S. Barton of this city. In the old hand setting days it was only the very best compositors who could set as much type in a ten-hour day as Wayne Gill is credited with setting in an hour on the linotype.

Grandma Laird Sees Curry

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Laird and three youngest sons, accompanied by Mr. Laird's mother, Mrs. J. Laird, all of Brewster Valley, Coos county, spent several days last week visiting at Port Orford. The latter named lady is 79 years of age and a pioneer resident of Coos county. Notwithstanding her long abode in Coos this was Mrs. Laird's first visit to Port Orford, a place she said she had often wanted to see because of its historical association with the early settlement of this part of the state, and despite her age she thoroughly enjoyed trips to Battle Rock, Agate Beach, and the light house at Cape Blanco.—Tribune.

Many Properties For Sale

Warren C. Laird, who has decided to locate permanently in the Hawaiian Islands, where he has been for several years past, is this week advertising all his real estate holdings in Coquille. Somebody will probably be able to get just what they have been looking for at a bargain. Read the list on another page.

At Work at Davis Slough

Another concrete mixer and crew were started Wednesday morning on the Marshfield-Coquille highway, being located at Davis Slough. The other crew is working near the Yoakam place. Better progress is now being made, but they are short a few men.—Coos Bay Times.

The Crop is Fine

Manager A. C. Chase of the Myrtle Point cannery, says that the evergreen berries are coming along fine and by the end of the week he is expecting to get between 400 and 500 cases a day. He says that it is estimated that the berry crop this year is fifty per cent better than last year.

In Coos county between January first and July first of the present year there were 1834 motor vehicles registered and $34,830 paid in license fees on them. That means one car or truck to every 12 people.

Many preachers are said to be retiring from the ministry because they find it "impossible to support a seal-skin family on a muskrat income."
