

BATH ROOM NEEDS

Add Comfort to Your Bath

Nothing is more invigorating, health-giving, and refreshing, than a massage and shower in your bath. A Klenss Bath Spray will help you overcome the discomfort of the hot weather, if you start the day with a Klenss Massage and Shower. Use in conjunction with Klenss Bath Tablets, a soap that is specially made for bath room use. Either the hard soiled kind, or the transparent glycerine. These soaps are entirely free from injurious chemicals and as a special inducement this week only, you can buy 12 cakes for the price of 11. As a finish to your bath, sprinkle yourself over with Violet Dulce Toilet Powder. It will add to your comfort. This week you will find displayed in our store everything that will add comfort to your bath. Brushes, Sponges, Soaps, Shampoos, and so forth, all moderately priced.

C. S. Conner, R. G. Aikman and wife, of Eugene, were in this city visiting Tuesday.

H. G. Morrison, of Bandon, was in this city Tuesday.

Gertrude Mae Backman, whose death occurred July 24th, carried an insurance of $1000 in the Royal Neighbors of America at Myrtle Point. She had belonged to this order 12 years, four months and four days and paid into the benefit funds $59.90. About one month after the claim was sent to Supreme Camp at Rock Island, Ill., her husband received a check for the amount named.

The heavy rain Saturday and Sunday laid the dust nicely for the people who are attending the Fair. Many exhibits are being brought in and a large crowd was in attendance Wednesday, the opening day.

School closed Wednesday evening and will not open again until next Monday.

Big Cranberry Crop

Prospects are bright for an immense crop of cranberries around Bandon this season, according to J. N. Langlois, one of the local growers. He has 2 1/2 acres in bearing and expects to harvest about 1000 bushels. I. Nordstrom, of Two Mile, this year has 3 1/4 acres with medium crop.

It is expected that picking will commence about September 25th. Some difficulty in securing sufficient help is anticipated, and an effort is already being made to engage them.

The growers hope for better marketing conditions this year. Mr. Langlois lost money on his venture last year because of the inability to get his berries on the market before the holidays. The delay was due to the longshoremen's strike.—Bandon Western World.

Fined $10 or Spanking

At Indiana Harbor, just south of Chicago, they had a trial of a woman by a jury of 12 women Tuesday, which was rather a novel event. The case was a novel one, too, the prosecuting witness and the defendant being women. It seems Mrs. Anna Machis thought her husband was altogether too attentive to Mrs. Anna Mirman and womanlike thought the other woman ought to be the one to be punished. So she proceeded to administer a public spanking to Mrs. Mirman in a local soda parlor. Mrs. Mirman brought Mrs. Machis into Justice George E. Relland's court and he summoned a jury of women to try the case. The jury found Mrs. Machis guilty of assault and she was fined $10.00.

Misleading Head Lines

Under a double column scare head we find in one of our daily exchanges an article telling how gambling has increased since prohibition went into effect. It says in its head in big black type: "Throughout the Country There Has Been More Actual Card Playing and African Golf Indulged in Since Boaze Departed Than in the Days When it was Wet." Reading the reports under this head we find that they come from 18 localities, and that while 9 of them say there has been an increase in gambling the other 9 say that there has been as decided a decrease. Why then such a head? The reason is to be sought in the psychology of the head line writer and not in the news itself.

Archie Nearly Shipwrecked

Archie Philip started Monday morning from his ranch on Kentuck inlet with a fine bull for exhibition at the county fair at Myrtle Point. The animal was on a scow he was towing across the bay and he came near going ashore several times in the gale that prevailed that day and did not reach Marshfield until 8 o'clock that night.

Coos & Curry Airplane Co.

Articles of incorporation of the Coos & Curry Airplane company have been drawn up. The incorporators are Dr. L. G. Johnson, Ted Evans, Dr. J. L. Masson and William Emeryon. The idea is to begin operations in the spring, when an airplane and a hydroplane are to be brought here and operated. L. M. Briggs, now with the Washington, Oregon & Idaho Airplane company, will also have stock in the company and will be general manager. Dr. L. J. Johnson is president and Ted Evans will be secretary-treasurer. Where possible the company will endeavor to get mail contracts and a general passenger business will be engaged in.—Marshfield Record.

From Independence, Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. George Tame and son, Cecil, have arrived from Independence, Kansas, says the Marshfield Record. The party drove in a machine and did not encounter any delay, except of a minor character, until they got to Roseburg. Being informed of the frightful condition of the roads between Douglas county's metropolis and the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Tame decided to come here by train, as they wished to visit their son, L. W. Tame, the accountant at the Mountain States Power company. It is not improbable the family may decide to remain here, if they find things suitable to their desires.

Buehner Camps Reopen

A Marshfield item states that the Buehner Lumber company of North Bend has announced that the Eel lake camp of the company will open again for logging operations, employing 90 men, and that as soon as repairs can be made the Allegany camp will be open with 125 men employed. This will add $1400 a day to the payroll of the locality.

The camps were closed down when the company had an over supply of logs but it is the intention to keep up operations so the logging was resumed. It was further announced that there would be no cut in the wage scale.

Gasoline "Economizers"
