The Stock Judging Contest

Gravel Ford, 1211.
Parkersburg, 1128.
Catching Inlet, 1126.
New Lake, 982.

These are the figures that show that Gravel Ford made highest score in the Livestock judging contest at the County Fair in Myrtle Point Thursday, with Parkersburg second and Catching Inlet third. The high team has the choice of a trip to the State Fair for a contest with teams from other counties of Oregon, or a trip to the Pacific International Livestock Show, where they will participate in an interstate contest. Parkersburg takes the trip not chosen by the first team.

Verla Summerlin, a thirteen-year-old girl of the Gravel Ford team, made the highest individual score, 411. Another girl of the same team, Myrtle Clayton, fifteen, tied her brother, Marion, for second highest, with a score of 400 out of a possible 500 points.

The contest was conducted by J. E. Calavan, of the State Department of Education, and D. Brooks Hogan, herdsman for the Ladd farm at Oswego. Jersey cows, Hereford calves, Poland China hogs and sheep made up the four class judging.

Certain funds for the trip to the Fair Board; but if these funds should air FBoard; but if these funds should prove insufficient to cover all expenses, our County Fair board guarantees to make up the deficit.

The trip to Portland is partly financed by the Pacific International Livestock Association; but the fund is made up mostly by contributions from the Chambers of Commerce of Marshfield and North Bend, the banks of Coos county, the Ford Meat Company and L. J. Simpson. It is estimated that $125 is required for the trip.

The winning team consists of Verla Summerlin, Myrtle Clayton and Marion Clayton, all of Gravel Ford. Their local club leader is T. G. Summerlin, who has worked faithfully throughout the season to give his club members every opportunity for improvement.

Errol Sloan, Roy Jenkins and Malcolm Jenkins are the members of the winning team from Parkersburg. Their local leader is W. A. Sloan, who together with Jim Jenkins is responsible for the success of that team.

The Catching Inlet boys had been very confident of winning first place; but like all others who feel absolutely certain of something because of past success, sometimes find themselves in the position of the hare in his race with the tortoise. The fact that they did not hold up to their previous high record, however, is in no way due to any lack of effort on the part of their local leader; for Jim Culley has surely given his time and efforts and the use of his boat most freely. If we may make a guess, it will be to the effect that Catching Inlet will be in the swim again next year and we will predict further that they will not be caught asleep.

Houses Still in Demand

Every day the Sentinel has calls from people who are roaming the streets of this city trying to find a house for rent. The other day a party called who had seen an unoccupied house across the street and wanted to know if it was for rent. The telephone company bought it and is using it now to store some of its material in anticipation of the time when a telephone building will be erected there. A big barn door has been put in at the south end so that material can be stored or removed more easily.

Our advice to people intent on getting a house is to sit down on the doorstep and wait until the occupants begin to move out and then move in. But they do even better than that; they find out weeks or months in advance when some one intends to move out; then see the owner or agent and get their names first on the waiting list.

Mrs. J. S. Barton Entertains

Tuesday evening Mrs. J. S. Barton entertained the "500" club and other guests in honor of Mrs. K. V. B. Nicklin. Six tables of cards were played and Mrs. J. A. Lamb received high score, being presented with one of Steward Edward White's novels. Many bouquets of lavender china asters made the living rooms bright with color. A delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess and all present enjoyed a jolly evening. The guests were Mesdames C. C. Eviand, Bert Folsom, Ed Lorenz, Walter Sinclair, Ralph Cate, A. J. Sherwood, C. L. Tuttle, H. W. Pierce, T. B. Currie, J. A. Collier, D. D. Pierce, G. E. Low, H. C. Gets, N. N. Nelman, J. A. Lamb, M. J. Hartson, H. W. Young, Chas. Harlocker, O. C. Sanford, Stanley Martless, F. E. McKenna, V. R. Wilson and Miss Marian Young.

It's like picking up money in the street to get the Oregon Farmer every week for a year at only 15 cents when subscribing for the Sentinel.

Case Against Them Dismissed

The cases against James Loveland and Albert Couter before Justice E. A. Didge at Myrtle Point last Monday, on complaint of J. P. Beyers, were withdrawn and the men freed from custody. D. J. Murphy, one of the officials of their company, the University Uplands Co., of San Francisco, came up here and offered to refund the money to any purchaser who was dissatisfied, and after being advised by the district attorney that the charge being a misdemeanor only and not a felony, it could be compromised, Mr. Beyers accepted their offer and withdrew his complaint, the company also paying the costs.

Mr. Murphy feels that an injustice has been done his representatives here, inasmuch as the California law does not require real estate salesmen to have licenses when selling property of the company they represent, but the Oregon law is plain and does not countenance the kind of sales the men were making unless a license has been procured.

As to the character of the land which they are offering for sale, Mr. Murphy showed letters from many satisfied customers who had gone over the tract and were well pleased with their purchase. Among them was W. O. Smith, principal of the Fresno High School, a former real estate man. Mr. Murphy states that the University Uplands are not a steep hillside but that a six to eight per cent grade is the greatest on the tract. He also says that lots within 100 yards of their property are considered worth $3000 or more.

Mrs. Candlin Coquille Chairman

At the recent annual meeting of the Coos County Library Association in this city it was decided to begin an active campaign for the establishment by the county court of a County Library system in this county.

Mrs. Wm. Candlin was appointed chairman for Coquille and vicinity, with authority to select such associates as may be deemed necessary. A membership campaign is to be inaugurated, with dues placed at 25 cents.

From the dues collected each chairman is to retain sufficient money to pay the traveling expenses of one delegate to and from Coquille, where on October 6th at 11 o'clock a. m. the entire delegation will go before the County Court to ask an appropriation for the establishment and maintenance of a county library system.

It is hoped that Miss Marvin, state librarian, will be present at this meeting and present the matter to the court. It is hoped that a large delegation from this city and vicinity will accompany Mrs. Candlin in appearing before the court at its October meeting on Wednesday, the 6th.

Attorney Jas. T. Brand was the speaker at the Presbyterian church at Marshfield last Sunday evening and School Superintendent C. A. Howard, formerly of Coquille, will fill the pulpit there next Sunday evening.

The abundant rains so far this month have put the ground in fine condition for setting out a strawberry bed, which will furnish a good deal of fruit next season.

"I do not think much of a man who is not wiser to-day than he was yesterday," said Abraham Lincoln. To this you might add Beethoven's, "Every day that we spend without learning something is a day lost."

Barley Damaged by Rain
J. M. Hodge says the present condition of the barley crop will prevent his leaving Coos county, since selling his ranch, and going out into the valley as soon as he expected. Barley, especially in the bottoms, has been hard hit by the early September rains, which have not before been so copious since 1914, when nine inches of rain fell in September and fall pasture was the best ever.
The Sentinel and the Oregon Farmer can still be obtained for $2.15 for one year.
