

'Capital and Industry - Keep Out'

WOULD YOU, AS A PATRIOTIC CITIZEN OF OREGON, PLACE SUCH A SIGN ON THE BORDERS OF THE STATE?

That is exactly what you will help to do if you do nothing to prevent the passage of measure No. 314 and 315 on the November ballot entitled, "Constitutional Amendment Fixing Legal Rate of Interest in Oregon."

This measure proposes to limit the rate of interest in Oregon to 5 per cent. You can, by law fix the rate of interest in Oregon, but you cannot, by law, force the loaning of money in this state, when a much higher rate can be secured elsewhere. The passage of this measure would force the withdrawal of the millions of foreign capital which is today loaned on factories, business and real estate in the state and send your local money owners outside of the state to better investments.

You, no doubt, understand the viciousness of this measure, but have you talked to your neighbors and friends about it? We urge you to do everything you can to defeat this measure. Oregon's reputation as a sound state for investments requires that this measure be overwhelmingly defeated.

Cow Testing Reports

(From Farm Bureau News)

Walter Reiman in charge of the Coos Bay Cow Testing association, reports 450 cows tested during the month of September with an average production of 590.6 pound of milk and 27 pounds of fat per cow. 32 cows produced over 40 pounds of fat during the month. Mr. Ben Monson, of Lakeside, is the owner of the high producing purebred, a Jersey with 658.1 pounds of milk and 37.65 pounds of fat. T. M. Collier owns the high grade cow this month, with a production of 1100.5 pounds of milk and 55.13 pounds of fat.

Three high herds of grade cows were:

Owner	head	lbs. milk	lbs. fat
T. M. Collier	19	866.6	37.53
L. B. Walker	14	734.9	34.35
Ben Monson	10	658.1	34.65

Evogene Furnish, of the Coquille-Myrtle Point association, reports 782 cows tested with an average of 531.5 pounds milk and 25.93 pounds fat production per cow. 50 cows produced over 40 pounds of fat. J. D. Carl is the owner of the high producing purebred with 975 pounds of milk and 47.78 pounds of fat. F. E. Willard owns the high producing grade Jersey with 1101 pounds of milk and 63.86 pounds of fat.

The three high herds of grades are:

Owner	head	lbs. milk	lbs. fat
W. E. Cross	19	859	40.65
W. L. Kistner	36	761.8	39.55
O. H. Aasen	8	690.7	37.25

G. M. Rhein, of the Bandon Co-operative cow testing association, reports 764 cows tested with an average production of 497.85 pounds of milk and 24.87 pounds of fat per cow. 32 cows in the association produced over 40 pounds of fat. I. Nordstrom had the high purebred, a Jersey, 1063 pounds of milk and 47.39 pounds of fat; Chris Riekart had the high grade with 1014 pounds of milk and 70.98 pounds of fat.

The following grade herds are high:

Owner	head	lbs. milk	lbs. fat
I. Nordstrom	30	725.9	37.42
H. P. Clausen	24	698.2	32.96
Joe Nulf	30	535	30.57

Robert S. Trigg, tester for No. 1 of Myrtle Point-Coquille Association, reports 535 cows tested during the month of Sept. and 40 producing over 40 pounds of fat. The average of all was 475 pounds of milk and 23.4 pounds of fat per month. Adam Guthardt with St. Mawes Lavina topped the list of purebred cows with 1155 pounds of milk and 60.1 pounds of fat. Martin Lassen has the high grade with 1038 pounds of milk and 72.7 pounds of fat.

The three high grade herds were:

Owner	head	lbs. milk	lbs. fat

Money Thrown Away

Very few people have any conception of the immense amount of money that must be spent and thrown away in the making of a great picture spectacle such as D. W. Griffith's supreme triumph, "Hearts of the World." In all 120,000 feet of film was exposed and photographed and yet only 12,000 feet are shown. Thousands upon thousands of feet of film that represented months of thought and labor and many thousands of dollars in expense had to be thrown away in order to reduce this wonderful picture to a single evening's entertainment. The saddest days of the great producer's career were those when with his camera man and assistants he got down to cut this precious film. Every inch was dear to him and it was like parting with his heart's blood to see it thrown ruthlessly into the discard. But it had to be, for although every foot was rich in story and material it would have kept an audience thirty hours in the theatre to see every foot of picture that had been made. It required almost as much genius to cut the film as it did to conceive the story and produce it. And there is where the master mind of Griffith came in again; for in his arrangement of the scenes he plays upon the heart strings of his audience like a violinist on his instrument. One minute he has the blood surging around your heart with excitement, the next you are laughing at some charming bit of comedy and almost in the same breath you are moved to tears of sympathy for the heroine and her friends. D. W. Griffith is the master of the world when it comes to picture spectacles. He almost makes them talk and he is the only producer who does not make one regret the absence of the voice. "Hearts of the World" will be seen in this city at the Liberty Theatre Thursday, November 11th and Friday, November 12. If you miss the opportunity you will never forgive yourself.

Church of Christ Notes

Not more church members but more right living by those who profess Christ before the world, was the theme of the sermon Sunday night and until we, as professed followers of Christ, do live according to His word, there cannot be much accomplished for Our Lord and Savior.

With 120 in Sunday School on time, with good lessons, and with 25 Juniors at their Endeavor in the afternoon, all ready and willing to study to learn more of their loving Savior, we can but rejoice and thank Him who hears and answers prayer.

The Senior Endeavor had another fine meeting with 18 young people present; while the Alumni Bible class at the same hour had a great time in the fifth chapter of John, with 9 present. It will do you good to attend these meetings and it will please Him for whom we are working and trying to serve.

The prayer meeting Wednesday evening was fine and the work is growing in all departments of the church.

Don't forget the Dedication of the new part of the basement supper Saturday night at 6 p. m. Church members expected to be present with eats and all others are cordially invited and welcome. Following it will be the Hallowe'en party and old times. Come, see and help make merry.—Church Correspondent.

Good Cattle For Portland Show

(From Farm Business)

The Pacific International Exposition at Portland next month, Nov. 13 to 20, promises to be bigger and better than any stock show ever held west of the Rocky mountains.

The main thing which should make it seem better, (especially to Coos county folks), is the fact that about twenty head of the best dairy cattle, the pick of our county, will be there.

Every breeder of purebred cattle should make an effort to attend this wonderful show; and if the boys and girls of the farm may be interested in helping you to develop a better herd, they should also be allowed to go, for it would be a valuable addition to their education and one of the brightest spots in their lives.

The Coos county cattle, which have already been entered in this great show are given in the following list, together with the names of their owners:

- Jerseys
- Aged bull, St. Mawes Tisha Waltz; I. Finley Schroeder, Norway.
  - 2 yr. old bull, Slightly's Golden Fern; Summerlin Bros., Lee.
  - 1 yr. old bull, Landseer's Bruce; Adam Guthart, Norway.
  - Senior bull calf, Engineer's Chief St. Mawes; E. E. Hampton & Son, Arago.
  - Junior bull calf, Slightly's Merry Golden Lad; Theo L. Clinton, Coquille.
  - Aged cow, Clover Blossom's Princess; Jas. T. Jenkins, Bandon.
  - 4 yr. old cow, St. Mawes Lavina 2nd; Adam Guthart, Norway.
  - 3 yr. old cow, Lass Silken of Cedar Grove; J. D. Carl, Arago.
  - 2 yr. old heifer, Nan's Cream Beauty; R. M. Bunn, Arago.
  - 2 yr. old heifer, St. Mawes Queen R.; Adam Guthart, Norway.
  - Senior yearling heifer, J. E.'s Sweetheart; R. M. Bunn, Arago.
  - Junior yearling heifer, St. Mawes Blossom's Madrid; E. E. Hampton & Son, Arago.
  - Senior heifer calf, Rosaire's Darling 2nd V. H. Berkeley, Lee.
  - Senior heifer calf, J. C. Harvey & Sons, Lee.
  - Junior heifer calf; J. C. Harvey & Sons, Lee.
  - Junior heifer calf, Beauty's Golden Glow; J. D. Carl, Arago.
- Holsteins
- 3 yr. old bull, Matador Segis Walker VI; L. J. Simpson, Shoreacres.
  - Junior yearling heifer, Oakdale Jolantha Johanna; L. J. Simpson, Shoreacres.
  - Junior heifer calf; L. J. Simpson, Shoreacres.

Farms Going Out to Sea

(From Farm Business)

Any observing person, who rides on the boat between Coquille and Bandon, cannot fail to note the deplorable loss of land caused by the caving in of the river banks, which is slowly but surely decreasing the size of the adjoining fields.

A few feet of earth dropping off the edge of many farms now and then all along the river amounts to a good many acres of valuable land in a year's time. Yet it does not stop at the end of one year, but goes steadily in year after year, never again to be reclaimed.

On some farms, this is very much more noticeable than on others. Some of the river banks bordering the fields are fairly well protected, while in other places along the way here is no sign of protection.

At the rate the bank is caving in along certain places on the river, it will not be much more than one hundred years till the width of the river will be from the foothills on one side to those on the other. Especially is this probable in places along the lower river unless something is done to prevent it.

A certain farmer living near Parkersburg, told us recently that the river in one or two places he knew of, is forty feet wider than it was when he first came there, twenty years ago.

We do not wish to appear as an alarmist but this thing has been going on so slowly but so surely, more or less each year for so long that the owners of such unguarded land do not pay much attention to it for the reason that they are being robbed of only a part of it each year. Apparently there is no thought of the future, but some day their descendants will condemn such neglect as absolutely criminal.

This rich bottom land is only worth from $300 to $500 per acre, so why worry over such small things now, let the future generation rave about that, (after it is too late.)

It Looked Good to Him

(From Farm Business)

Mr. I. T. Sparks, District Freight and Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific lines, made a trip recently through the Coquille Valley and during his stop at Bandon, he and Mr. Roy B. Corson, of the First National Bank, visited the large ranch owned by Laird and Watkins near Langlois. Mr. Sparks was greatly impressed by the fertility of the soil, and that evening at a meeting of the Bandon

Community Club, he made the statement that such land was equal to any he had ever seen.

Mr. Sparks was formerly with the Agricultural Extension service of the Imperial Valley and the Salt River Valley, considered to be among the most fertile sections in the United States. It is no wonder, therefore, that a man of his experience with soils recognized good land when he saw it in this country.

Rounding Up Scrub Bulls

(From Farm Business)

Arrangements are being made to hold several bull round ups during the fore part of November; one at Farmer's Merchants Bank, Coquille; one at First National Bank, Bandon; and one at Bank of Southwestern Oregon, Marshfield, at which time all the scrub bulls that have been listed with the banks to trade for purebreds will be loaded and shipped out to the Portland Stock Yards.

Already there are nearly forty scrub bulls on the list and we have lined up quite a number of young purebred bull calves (old enough for service next year), to take the places of the scrubs and we know where we can get plenty more.

Now this bull trading business is not hot air and if any more Coos County farmers wish to get in on it, they will please list them at any of the three banks named above not later than Nov. 5, (sooner if possible.)

Give age, weight and color of the scrub bull you wish to trade. If you happen to have a purebred bull for sale, also kindly send description to either of the three banks mentioned.

Two big features at the Liberty, Monday and Tuesday. Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives" and "Fatty" Arbuckle in "Rough House."

A Story With a Moral

(From Farm Business)

A year ago Sept. 13, the banks conducted their first public sale of purebred Jerseys at Coquille. In this sale was a car load of choice young St. Mawes heifers, the best that could be bought in Oregon, and they had been secured at a very reasonable figure, to be sold at cost to the dairymen. But not many here did appreciate this wonderful opportunity to buy such richly bred stuff. They were afraid to bid up on some of the best ones, so they allowed Robt. L. Burkhardt of Albany, Ore., to take away from them, four heifers at a very moderate price.

Last week, or on Oct. 13, Mr. Burkhardt sold his entire herd, thirty-one head, at his Maple Lawn Place near Albany, and in this sale were the four young cows which had been presented to him in Coos county, together with three heifer calves, which were born of these cows after he brought them back to his farm.

The following list gives the name of each animal, together with the price paid and price received for them by Mr. Burkhardt:

	Price paid	Price rec'd
St. Mawes Beauty's Gertie	$700	$1250
Her heifer calf		825
Gertie's Beauty Madrid	525	800
Her heifer calf		410
St. Mawes Mabel's Rosaire	485	2605
Her heifer calf		680
St. Mawes Susy Olga	575	1000
Total	$2285	$7540
St. Mawes Mabel's Rosaire sold to Howard & Williams, Sherwood, Ore., for $2605 topped the sale of the entire bunch of 31 head. The next highest was Birdie Owl of M. L. P., for $2125.00 to Frank Loughary & Son, of Monmouth.
The average price received for the 31 head was $497.00.
