SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Collier Entertain With a Dinner—Other Parties

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Collier entertained with a seven o'clock dinner last Friday evening. A long table and benches had been made by Mr. Collier in the basement of their home and at this over fifty guests sat down to partake of a dinner perfect in appointment and cuisine.

Following the satisfaction of the inner man, the large party repaired to the living rooms above where thirteen tables had been arranged for "500." After the evening's play prizes for high scores were awarded to Mrs. Chas. Harlocker and Dr. G. E. Low and to Leo J. Cary for lowest score.

Those present were Messrs. and Madames G. W. Endicott, L. H. Hazard, Chas. Harlocker, T. B. Currie, A. J. Sherwood, M. J. Hartson, L. P. Branstetter, L. J. Cary, N. N. Neiman, J. B. Barton, F. C. McNelly, E. D. Webb, H. C. Getz, G. E. Low, O. H. Knowlton, H. W. Pierce, L. L. Turner, W. V. Glasier, A. O. Walker, H. S. Norton, T. A. Leach, O. C. Sanford, C. L. Tuttle, S. P. Bartlett, J. A. Collier and E. A. Young.

Election Party at Coquille Club

About sixty members of the Coquille Club and their families attended the party given at the club rooms Tuesday evening to receive election returns. Dancing, cards and billiards were the diversions of the evening; interspersed with the reading of bulletins telling of the growing Harding majorities all over the coast. A cafeteria lunch was served about midnight, after which the guests were ready to leave when it became certain that the later returns would show no change in what the first reports had stated—a sweeping republican victory. It was a different ending from that party in the same place four years ago when the possible election of Wilson was first hinted at after midnight.

Mrs. Branstetter Entertains

Mrs. L. P. Branstetter entertained the "500" club and their husbands and a number of other guests at her home last evening, ten tables participating in the game. After the scores had been tallied, a most delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. W. Pierce and Mrs. T. B. Currie. The club prize was won by Mrs. Pierce, while Mrs. V. E. Wilson was awarded the consolation prize. Mrs. F. L. Greenough received the guest prize for ladies and Mrs. H. C. Getz the consolation prize. For the gentlemen Geo. Lorenz carried off the honors and prize while F. L. Greenough got the booty.

Harold Gould gave a party to his boy and girl friends at his home last Friday night. The young folks all had a fine time.

Searching for a Lost Man

The Roseburg News-Review tells the following regarding the search for a missing man: A party of experienced woodsmen will start tomorrow morning for the Strader cabin to resume the search for the body of Joseph Rohrer, 72-year-old hunter, who became lost in the forest on October 11. A search was conducted for more than a week, following his disappearance, and the searching parties were then forced out because of snow. The snow is now gone except in occasional patches, it is reported by those who have been located in the vicinity, and a party will pack up to the cabin tomorrow to again take up the search and continue it until the body is located or bad weather again drives them out.

Road News From Curry

Here are a couple of road items from this week's Port Orford Tribune:

Sheriff Tolman came up from the county seat Sunday with the election supplies. Coming down the mountain about three miles south of town he found a mudhole that was too much for his Ford, and leaving his machine in it he covered the rest of the distance on foot with the election supplies on his back. The road over the mountain is drying up rapidly, but had just been worked, and the loose dirt in the ruts was what caused our worthy sheriff his troubles.

C. C. Posting has taken the contract to haul the Elk river school children to town by team during the winter, the roads having gotten too bad for an auto.

Mrs. Marian Yeakum Passes

Mrs. Marian Yeakum, of Marshfield, died Tuesday evening and her funeral services took place there at 10:30 this morning. Sherwood, of this city, and two children, Mrs. William Horsfall, of Marshfield, and J. A. Yeakum, Jr., of Gridley, Cal. Attention Dairymen

Copy of Letter from Central Creamery Ranch, Oakland, California.

Dear Sir: After making a number of trips to different dairies where milking machines were in use I decided that the De Laval Milker was by far the best and since installing same I find I did not make a mistake.

The machines do the work easier, cleaner and better with no injury to the cow which is more than can be said of most hand milkers. I am milking 250 cows with four men to milk and one man to carry the milk from cow barn to milkhouse.

I feel confident that the De Laval Milking Machine is by far the best on the market. Yours truly, Central Creamery Ranch, By E. H. Fox.

Mr. Brewer, the outside representative of De Laval Dairy Supply Co., will be with us at the Corn Show Nov. 12th & 13th and we will have a De Laval Milking Machine installed with an alpha gas engine and it will be worth a trip to the Corn Show, if for no other purpose, than to investigate this wonderful machine. But taking into consideration all the attractions at the show and the pleasure of seeing this machine in operation, you can't afford to miss it.

For New Power Plant at Bandon

In line with a movement for a larger capacity power and electric power plant at Bandon, with a dam on Willow creek, in Curry county, and a transmission line of 20-odd miles to Bandon, the Bandon Power company submitted to the city council a price of $35,000 for its plant, including buildings, distribution system and all machinery.

Engineers had estimated the probable cost of the new system at $105,000, including the Bandon Power company's holdings at a price of $25,000.

The city has appointed an appraisal board to fix the value of the present plant.
