Boston, May 3.—A private letter from an administration official in Washington says that Embassadors Jusserand of France and Sternburg of Germany are only awaiting the return of President Roosevelt to the capital to learn his views on the question of peace between Russia and Japan before sailing for their respective countries. This is the real reason for the President's sudden change of plans. He hopes before May 15 to be able to do something for peace. He will communicate to the Embassadors of powers, to Russia and to Japan, the terms upon which the United States will insist in the treaty of peace between the two warring nations.

As a power having material interests at stake in the Philippines and commercial interests on the Asiatic mainland, the United States will be as much entitled as any neutral power to dictate some of the terms on which peace shall be based.

The letter says the main terms upon which the United States will insist were long ago discussed and decided upon in Washington. Holding fast to the policy having as its sole purpose the maintenance of the integrity of China and the "open door," the United States will strive only for the expulsion of Russia from Manchuria, but it also will expect the Japanese Government to adhere to the pledges it frequently made, both before and during the war, and not attempt the annexation of Manchuria or interference with Chinese administration of that territory. Furthermore, the United States will insist that Korea be restored to the status existing before the exigencies of war compelled Japan to seize the reins of government there.

President Roosevelt has been criticized in some quarters for the seemingly partial attitude of the administration in favor of Japan and against Russia. The writer of the latter declares that the President has put the good faith of Japan to the full test and assumes that all pledges made relative to the administrative and territorial entity of China will be carried out. Japan has been regarded not as fighting for the conquest of territory, but to prevent encroachments by Russia upon a district of the Far East which must remain open to the commerce of all nations.

The Daughters of the Revolution are inclined to declare a feud over the disposition of the remains of John Paul Jones.

Another example of Russian tyranny is afforded by the reduction of poor Kuropatkin's salary to only $54,000 a year.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The public knows that the beef trust is likely to be indicted, but the trouble is that the beef trust does not seem to know it.

A pretty advertisement advises hunting with a camera. Probably the gun depicted in the illustration is to be used after the snap.

The Colorado clergyman who gravely announces that the world has only two more years to exist must have a grudge against Vice-President Fairbanks.

The Standard Oil Company of Kansas has informed the administration at Washington that Commissioner of Corporations Garfield is persona non grata.

With carriage horses selling in New York at $500 a pair, the sale of $5000 autos on the increase and a demand for diamonds which exceed the supply, why should anyone complain of hard times?

When Governor Folk asked the Missouri legislature to enact a bill making bribery a felony, he ought to have known that the constitution provides that no man shall be compelled to incriminate himself.

Until a senate committee began to investigate the railway problem no one ever dreamed how solicitous railway managers were for the interests of the dear people who have invested their savings in railway stocks.

A professor in a Chicago University claims to have discovered that the July 4th ought to be celebrated on August 18. We are afraid it will require all his pedagogic resources to educate the patriotic small boy to believe it.

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Crane, after a careful investigation, announces that there are at least 140 varieties of religion in one city. Something of a commentary on the Biblical announcement that "There shall be one faith and one baptism," etc.

According to some Canadian lapd advertisements there is an all water route for grain from the wheat fields of British Columbia to Liverpool. The advertisements forgot to say that most of all of the water is under three feet of ice, as in Hudson's bay.

Madame President General Fairbanks did say, "Now you hush," when trying to preserve order in the D. A. R. congress. But if a man had been obliged to preserve order in that assemblage the things he would have said would not have done to print.

A New York man recently told a Salvation Army meeting how he led the simple life. He said he was deckhand of a mud scow, the husband of a tug captain's daughter, the father of a child born aboard ship and lived in one room with a monkey, a parrot and a concertina.

Only superficial thinkers will be scandalized at the fact that extensive dishonesty is being exposed in the present administration. Ninety per cent of the men who have been found guilty of betrayal of their trust, in the government service, were appointed before the beginning of the present administration and nearly ninety-five per cent of the men discharged or indicted for dishonesty were appointed under the spoils system. And this is natural. There is everything in the method whereby men gain title to political preferment, such preferment as minor federal offices, which is calculated to vitiate the moral stamina of the aspirants for public office, everything which is likely to blunt the conscience and lead men to regard the federal treasury as the natural prey of the cleverest politician. It is to the credit of an administration to uncover dishonesty and prosecute "grafters." It would be easy to hush these things up and so preserve "an unblemished record," while on some future administration would devolve the duty of exposing the rottenness of the public service.
