Butter Making

We give below the law enacted by the last legislature regulating the manufacture and sale of butter in the state of Oregon, which should be of considerable interest to a great number of people in this section of the state:

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any person to offer or expose for sale, or sell reworked butter or mixed butter unless the same is plainly marked "process butter," and it shall be unlawful for any person to offer or expose for sale any tub or pucked butter remolded into prints, or rolls, or squares, unless the same is plainly marked "tub butter," and it shall be unlawful for any person to offer, expose for sale reworked, mixed, or remolded butter, and to make or print said butter with the stamp of any creamery or with the words "creamery butter." And it shall be unlawful to sell or expose for sale any diseased, unclean, impure, or unwholesome food or drink of any description.

Section 8. No person by himself or his agent or employe shall render, manufacture, or offer for sale, expose for sale, take orders for future delivery, or have in his possession with intent to sell as butter, any article, product, or compound made wholly or partly out of any fat, oil, oleaginous or compound thereof not directly or wholly produced from pure, unadulterated milk, or cream of the same, which has been or is colored to imitate yellow butter produced from pure, unadulterated milk or cream of the same; provided, that nothing of this act shall be so construed as to prohibit the manufacture of sale of oleomargarine in a separate and distinct form in such manner as will advise the consumer of its real character, free from coloring matter and ingredients causing it to look like butter.

Section 9. In any public dining or eating room where oleomargarine or renovated butter, or process butter are in use, the bill of fare shall state the fact in the same size type as is used in printing the body of said bill of fare, and printed notice thereof shall be posted in a conspicuous place in said dining room so as to be easily and readily seen and read by any one entering such room. Such notice shall be in letters not less than one inch in size and known as full-faced type, and these notices shall state that oleomargarine or process butter, or renovated butter, is used here, as the case may be.

Section 10. Any persons or persons, firm, association, or corporation who shall, within the State of Oregon, manufacture butter under the separator process, for sale in said State, shall apply to the Oregon Dairy and Food Commissioner for a stencil or plate with the number of the creamery and the name of the manufacturer and where manufactured, and the words "Oregon Creamery Butter, Full Weight." And on each box of butter so manufactured for sale in the State of Oregon there shall be an impression from said stencil or said plate shall be attached thereto; and each roll or square of butter so manufactured for sale in the State of Oregon shall bear a wrapper upon which shall be the number of the creamery and where manufactured and the words "Oregon Creamery Butter, Full Weight," and the number of ounces in such roll or square, and a device or motto to be adopted and furnished by the Oregon Dairy and Food Commissioner, and such device or motto shall be known as the "Oregon State Brand;" provided, that all butter that has been in cold storage for thirty days, or butter that is sold as a second or third grade shall not be sold in wrappers bearing the Oregon State brand. All butter with the State brand label placed in cold storage shall have the date when stored stamped in plain letters and figures on each box.

Section 11. Every person or persons, firm, or corporation who sells oleomargarine, butterine, or any imitation butter whatsoever, or other imitation dairy products, renovated or process butter in this State shall keep a sale book in which all sales shall be entered at the time of sale; said sale book shall state the amount sold and the date of sale, together with the name and address of the purchaser, and said book shall be open to the inspection of the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his deputy at all times.

Section 12. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, or corporation to offer or expose for sale in the State of Oregon any butter put up in rolls or squares made in any State (other than Oregon) in wrappers bearing the Oregon State brand or the words "Oregon Creamery," or any other words that will imply said butter was made in Oregon.

Section 13. No person, firm or corporation shall manufacture for sale, advertise, offer or expose for sale, or sell any mixture or compound intended for use as an adulterant or preservative of milk, butter, or cheese, nor shall any person, firm or corporation add milk, or butter, or cheese, or during the process of their manufacture, any borax, boric acid, dicalcic acid, formaldehyde, formalin, or any other substance or substances in the nature of adulterants, antiferments, or preservatives; provided however, that this section shall not apply to pure salt added to butter and cheese.

Section 14. Every square or roll of butter kept, exposed or offered for sale or sold in the state of Oregon shall contain not less than eight ounces, sixteen ounces, or thirty-two ounces, and each square or roll shall be plainly marked with the number of ounces they contain.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person to use the brand or label of any other creamery or dairymen without his consent for the purpose of selling the butter of another creamery or dairymen.

Washington the Place.

Washington, June 15—Washington has been selected as the place for the holding of a peace conference between Russia and Japan. President Roosevelt has issued the following: "When the two governments, Russia and Japan, were unable to agree on either Chefoo or Paris, the President suggested The Hague, but both governments have now requested that Washington be chosen as the place of meeting by the plenipotentiaries, and the President has accordingly notified both governments that Washington will be selected."

Isn't it about time for the archaeologists to unearth a miniature of Eve, painted on ivory?

Scientists now claim that the sword which Adam and Eve were kept out of the garden of Eden was only radium.

It is all a mistake. Vice President Fairbank's souvenir inkstand is not to cost $500, but only $250. As there is a treasury deficiency the Vice President has determined to be economical in spite of—any thing.

President Roosevelt could have taken no step more likely to secure from him the Democratic presidential nomination than by exposing the way in which the Steel Trust, and other trusts, are robbing "the folks at home."

Frenzied finance seems to have permeated even the New York legislature. Some of the legislators whose salaries amount to only $1,500 a year have accumulated bank balances during this year's session amounting to $25,000.

Roosevelt Commended.

Baron d'Estournelles de Constant ex-president of the parliamentary group in the Chamber of Deputies favoring international arbitration gave the Associated Press an authorized interview, in which he severely arraigned the action of the European powers and applauds President Roosevelt's initiative. The Baron had just received a letter from Premier Rouveir, politely declining to take the initiative for the peace. The Baron said:

"The United States has given hesitating Europe a wholesome example. All Europe ardently desired peace, yet allowed the war to go on without comprehending what immense service it could render the belligerents in taking the initiative for peace, which neither of them could be the first to take.

"President Roosevelt has already given four such striking lessons to Europe—first, in having brought before the arbitration tribunal at The Hague the question between Mexico and the United States over the Pius fund claims, while all Europe was scoffing at the peace court which it had created; second, in obliging Europe to settle peacefully the Venezuelan affair; third, in proposing a second peace conference at The Hague to complete the work of the first; and fourth, in now endeavoring to put to an end the hecatombs in the Far East.

"The conclusion of this is plain. All that the European governments have morally lost through their timidity the Government of the United States has gained. It is another good example for Europe of America's energy in safeguarding the most sacred rights of humanity.

"May American enterprise continue to stimulate your breaking our old traditions of inertia and egotism. It is from the west that the world is today receiving light.

"Now that President Roosevelt has taken the necessary initiative, it is certainly to be sincerely seconded by all the governments of Europe."

Temps says: "It might have been thought that France could have played the great role which has fallen to the United States, but circumstances otherwise decided. France can, however rejoice in the success of her sister republic, which is due to President Roosevelt's spirit and readiness of decision.

The coming session of Congress that is, the one which the President will call into existence on the 16th. of next October, promises to be extremely lively. Two intensely important questions will be placed before it in the President's message and on the action of Congress on these problems may depend the immediate future history of the country and certainly will depend the future of the now dominant party. The first of these, and the President places it first in point of importance, will be the question of railway rates.

The second will be the tariff which is always with us but which will assume a new interest when a Republican President recommends that its schedules be scaled so as to prevent "the fostering of monopoly" and the robbing of "the folks at home." To the unscrupulous newspaper correspondent the session will prove a harvest. There will be abundant capital at the disposal of the correspondent or syndicate which agrees to send out one sided, or exparte, reports of the proceedings in Congress, and the news paper which receives absolutely accurate reports will be fortunate.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The report that the President's bear, and other skins have been ruined by moths is what is called in newspaper offices, "pure fake"

The fact that it will be closed seasons for Vardamaus and partridges will not deter the President from making his southern trip on schedule time.

If it is true that the president was pleased with the railway rate speeches of both Secretary Taft and Secretary Morton it must be because he believes in the double track system.

When stage struck girls read that Nan Patterson was no sooner acquitted than she was engaged for the stage at $2,000 a week they should recall the fact that she only missed electrocution by a very small margin.

The political situation in Ohio is attracting the attention of the entire country. A stand-pat, anti-railway rate legislation Republican party is confronted by a tariff revision, anti-railway Secretary of War on one hand and by Senator Foraker on the other.

A Panama lady when asked why she did not join the rest of her family in the United States, declared that she was afraid of our dreadful diseases, such as pneumonia, grip etc. We suppose yellow fever is no more serious than a bad head ache when one gets used to it.

The greatest number of men ever employed on one structure was the Gizeh Pyramid, where 7,000,000 men were in forced labor. This pyramid is 450 feet high and covers an acre. In one instance 2000 men were three years in bringing a single stone from the quarry.

The suborning of the press has already been attempted in so far as railway rates are concerned and two special correspondents are constantly employed by the railroad interests to circulate biased reports of the testimony given each day before the Senate committee on Interstate Commerce. The methods of these correspondents is to send free of charge, to correspondents of reputable journals and to the newspapers themselves, daily abstracts of the testimony given before the committee; and, unfortunately, hundreds of newspapers, many of them doubt, less as the result of ignorance, are daily printing these entirely unfair reports. The only safeguard for the newspaper away from Washington, which wishes to present untainted news to its readers, is to secure the services of a regular Washington correspondent whose reputation is known to be unsullied, and whose honesty is invulnerable.

The recent decision of the administration, that the Russian naval vessels which took refuge from their Japanese pursuers in the harbor of Manila may remain there only for twenty-four hours unless interned for the remainder of the war, establishes a precedent so far as this country is concerned in international law in so far as it governs the conduct of neutrals. According to established precedents the vessel of a belligerent entering a neutral port could, under normal circumstances, remain only twenty-four hours. If injured it could make the repairs necessary to enable it to reach its nearest home port, and it could be furnished sufficient coal to reach that port. By the decision of the United States in this instance the law has been further defined, however, so that injuries incurred in battle with the enemy are differentiated from those occasioned by stress of weather or through accident. The latter classes may be repaired and the former may not. With regard to this interpretation of the law it is explained by the American officials that any other construction would render every neutral port in the vicinity of a naval battle a naval base for the making of repairs, which would be obviously contrary to the spirit of law.
