Room for Brain on the Farms.

No dairyman of the country is better known than H. B. Gurley of De Kalb, Ill., or whose advice is given closer attention by readers of dairy literature. Some of his ideas and the standards reached his own work are given in a recent issue of Orange Judd Farmer in which he says:

A young business man recently said to me that he wished he had a farm; he said that farmers were putting much less thought into their work than the business men were and were making more money. I am sure this is true, as a rule, and it is time we were looking up the opportunities on the farms, and especially on the dairy farm.

The Illinois experiment station has learned that one cow can make two-and-a-half times as much from the same amount of feed as another cow in the same herd that had the same care; this shows the individuality of cows, and the only way to learn this is by the use of the scale and the Babcock test: A person can learn in a very short time to operate this test and it makes the work very interesting.

In my experience, I find that cows that will produce only 200 pounds of butter annually will simply pay for the feed and labor, and a man might as well work by the month, as to keep this kind of a dairy. But if he will test his cows, and will weed out the ones that are making him no profit, and will fill their places with cows that will produce 300 pounds annually, he will soon have a dairy that will be a source of profit and pleasure.

When we think of the comparative value of cows to be kept in the dairy for a term of years, it is interesting at least to note that the 200 pound cows leave one nothing, and the 300 pound cows leave 100 pounds of butter for profit, which with a dairy of fifty cows brings $1,000 clear money for the year's work. And three hundred pounds is not the limit by any means, as many dairymen reach 350 pounds of butter annually, per cow, which means at least $10 more added to the net profit, and if one persists intelligently, the four hundred mark can be reached, which would leave the owner at least $40 per cow clear profit.

The successful merchants and manufacturers do not let such opportunities go unimproved; if they did they would be compelled to quit business. Dairying is more confining than other lines of farm work, and for that reason alone will always pay better for a term of years than other lines, as the farmer will not stay by the cows unless it does pay better.

The work that is now being done in breeding corn is intensely interesting and very profitable, to the farmers that produce beef, pork, mutton, etc. It is of equal interest to the dairymen, as they can grow as large crops as any farmer, and if they sell some corn and buy some high protein feed to balance their corn, it was all the same. The point is to grow profitable crops, there being no more profit in growing thirty bushels of corn per acre than there is in milking cows that will produce only sufficient milk to make 200 pounds of butter. There are hundreds of interesting problems to solve on the farm and it will pay those well who save them.—Dairy and Produce Review.

Heavyweight Team Challenges the World.

Hoquiam, Wash., June 19.—The Gray's Harbor Lumbermen's Baseball team will meet any team of any county of any state in the United States or Canada of their weight, the game to be played at the Exposition grounds at Portland, Or., on any date before September 15, 1905. This team is claimed to be the heaviest aggregation of ball players in the world. The total weight of the team consisting of 15 members is over two tons, or 4347 pounds—an average weight to the individual of 289 pounds and a fraction.

He Has Produced Life.

London, June 19.—According to the Daily Chronicle, experiments conducted for six years in the Cavendish laboratory at Cambridge University by J. Butler Burk, a young Professor Thomson, have almost certainly demonstrated the possibility of spontaneous degeneration. By means of radium and sterilized bouillon placed together in a test tube, Professor Burk obtained cultures presenting many appearances of vitality such as growth and subdivision.

Big Lumber Order.

An order has been received by the North Bend mill from San Pedro for ten million feet of lumber for use in the mines there. This order with the contract for three million feet already on hand, will require at least a year in filling, the management figuring on getting out about a million feet per month. Four barkentines will be needed on the run from now on for the transportation of the lumber.—Mail.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by R. S. Knowlton, druggist; price 50c."

President Castro's conservative statement of the asphalt controversy, contained in his last message to the Venezuelan Congress, leads many people to believe that the Asphalt Trust is not to be trusted.

An Englishman claims that the reason women are better looking than men is because they are not so hard-working. Perhaps the fact that they are not so hard-working has something to do with it too.

The Navy Department has just decided on the armament of two new battle-ships. These vessels will contain 12 and 10 inch guns and more of them than any vessel now afloat. Evidently the naval experts believe the lesson of the recent naval engagements in the far East to be the heaviest possible guns and the smallest variety of ammunition on a single ship.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Nan Patterson's show has disbanded. Undoubtedly there is still some good sense left with the American public.

Theatrical press agents will have to look for something new, now that jewel thefts are becoming so common in high society.

Apropos of Rojestvensky's defeat the American Admiral at Manila is holding an Enquist without authority from the coroner.

The Chicago newspaper which announced two weeks ago that "The teamsters' strike is over" probably meant over the first quarter.

Notwithstanding Mr. Frick's experience in floating steel on water, the President refused to consider him for Secretary of the Navy.

By attributing his victory to the Mikado's virtues Togo avoids all controversy as to who made the present to the Japanese people.

The New York papers persist in describing Hyde as extravagant. Who wouldn't be extravagant with 600,000 policy holders to pay the bills?

The next session of Congress will demonstrate whether or not it is possible to find 46 United States Senators who are not "afraid of the cars."

It is authoritatively denied that Representative Hull saw a Japanese gunboat stealing up the Des Moines river. The denial does not come from Mr. Hull, however.

"Is municipal dishonesty as common in the United States as the newspapers represent?" asks an English exchange. We wish we could assure him it is not.

It is reported that Grace Snell is to make a sixth matrimonial venture. The prospective bride groom for this occasion is "Max Love," Unquestionably, "love is blind."

The Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin on "The Hair-worm in Cabbage." Now for a new line of cabbage "Dandruff-cure" and new-fangled comb advertising.

Bishop Potter is to have a summer garden on his conscience in connection with the saloon he dedicated. And yet we venture to believe that the good Bishop sleeps well.

If the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries select Washington as a place of meeting they can be assured that they will have a pleasant time, as Washington has become a pleasant summer resort.

Sam Loble has been sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary for stealing a few paltry thousands from the Equitable. Sam made the mistake of his life in not becoming a director and immune.

The Czar has commended those officers who conducted themselves honorably in the battle of the Korean Straits. He will reserve his comment on those who conducted themselves otherwise until he sees the whites of their eyes.

A Des Moines minister recently said to his congregation, "Don't dress up to come to church." The next Sunday his church was crowded and it would take a sceptic to suggest that most of the people came to see what the others had on.

It was an outrage to correct Uncle Joe Cannon for taking ice from the company pitcher and rubbing it on his fevered brow at the Portland Exposition. Doubtless the speaker believed that when he refrained from drinking out of the pitcher he was paying the proprietors their full due.

The tariff positively cannot be revised at a long session of Congress because the business of the country would not have time to adjust itself to the new schedules before the following congressional election. And it is absolutely impossible to find the time in a short session to revise the tariff.
