"The American Family Educator" is the title and style of a publication for which our young friend, J. J. Edwards, is taking orders in this section. This is a work that should be in every household as well as in the hands of every young man who expects to follow industrial pursuits as a vocation. It is a storehouse of information along mechanical and industrial terms which makes it highly valuable in fact a necessity to all such persons. The volume is well bound and would be highly appreciated by anyone.

Sunday afternoon the gasoline schooner Fish, Capt. John Swaye in command, came into Toledo harbor. The little craft was from Coos bay and came to take Dr. Wetmore and family, and their household goods to Coquille. The schooner has a nine ton capacity and is driven by a 30 horse power Hercules gasoline engine. When the Doctor's freight was all on board, the hold of the vessel was jammed full and the deck piled high. About 6 o'clock Monday evening the family went on board. A large number of friends accompanied them to the wharf. In a mist of rain the lines were cast off, the engines were started and the little sea-going ship pointed her bow towards Newport. Amid good-byes and the waving of handkerchiefs, the Doctor and Mrs. Wetmore left the shores of Toledo where they spent three happy and prosperous years.—The Toledo Reporter.
