SPRECKELS ROAD SOLD.

Southern Pacific Now Owner of the C. B. R. & E. R. & N. Co's Line.
The long-talked-of deal by which the Southern Pacific Railway gets control of the C. B. R. & E. Ry. was consummated on the 3rd, in which change W. S. Chandler remains manager of the road. No more hot air reports of the contemplated sale need be given to the public for the sale has actually been made.

By this sale the Southern Pacific becomes owner of the C. B. R. & E. Ry., the Beaver Hill and Southport mines, the steamer Breakwater and Charina, and the 100 old acres of town property including the terminal grounds of the C. B. R. & E. Ry.

W. S. Chandler, the old manager, has been appointed business manager by E. C. Colver, vice president and general manager of the Southern Pacific system.

The new management proposes to equip the road with new and additional rolling stock, and a general improvement of the system is to be made.

There will be constructed immediately an addition to the railroad wharf, new rolling stock has been ordered, and two new locomotives and a new passenger coach will be added at once.

This means that Marshfield will be the terminus of the Drain-Coos Bay branch of the Southern Pacific and means a good deal for Marshfield and Coos Bay.

The order for piling for the new wharf has been made, 50 new flat cars have been ordered.

In the Beaver Hill mining property 640 acres of coal land passes into the hands of the Southern Pacific, while an additional 200 acre of coal land goes with the Southport mine.

The above report was received from a thoroughly reliable source and was confirmed by a similar report given to Cashier W. S. McFarland, of the First National Bank of the city.—Coos Bay Times.

A Large Piece of Work.

The North Bend Iron Works, of which Herman Klahn and Henry Kern are proprietors, has just turned out one of the largest pieces of machinery ever turned out on the bay. The machinery referred to is a locomotive cylinder logging engine, built for the Cody Lumber Co., of Coquille. The engine weighs 2,200 pounds and is a fine piece of work. This is one of the largest castings ever made in this county and speaks well for the enterprise of this firm. The engine is to be delivered this week, and will be used at the Cody mill on Coquille river.—Coos Bay Times.

By due process of law four children, aged 6 to 12 years, who were found living in filthy conditions near The Dalles, have been taken from their parents and turned over to the custody of the authorities in Portland. They were immediately given a bath. There is no evidence that they were ever sick a day in their lives. Now suppose they should contract colds, drift into pneumonia and die. Would some one be guilty of murder? Answer up, you lawyers.—Oregonian.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

WANTED.—Gentleman or lady with good reference, to travel by rail or with a rig, for a firm of $250,000 capital. Salary $1,072.00 per year and expenses; salary paid weekly and expenses advanced. Address, with stamp, Jos. A. Alexander, Coquille City, Ore.

Farmers Will Organize.

The farmers of Sherman county will imitate the Umatilla county wheat growers in the formation of an association for mutual advancement. George Crossfield, of Wasco, who attended the meeting in Pendleton last Saturday, has returned home highly enthusiastic over the first steps taken by the Umatilla county farmers and will urge the farmers of Sherman county to hurry up their organization.

While in Eastern Oregon Mr. Crossfield visited Union county and also went to Walla Walla and Spokane, and found that a farmers' organization similar to the Inland Empire Wheatgrowers' association is now in existence in Spokane.

The Spokane Grain & Supply Company, an association of farmers capitalized at $1,000,000 last year saved sufficient on grain sales by organizing a pool, and also in the matter of freight rates and the purchase of sacks to amount to a dividend of two cents per bushel on each bushel of grain marketed. This dividend was actually paid to the members of the organization last season, as profits from this organization.

Sherman county produces about 2,000,000 bushels of wheat annually and is the second county in the state in wheat yield, Umatilla leading. The farmers of that county are anxious to have a jute plant installed at the Oregon penitentiary for the purpose of manufacturing grain and wool sacks for Oregon. This matter will be placed before the next session of the legislature by the representatives of the farming interests of the state.—East Oregonian.

For some time past a vigorous campaign has been carried on in Oregon against the neglect of orchards. A good deal of public sentiment has been stirred up in favor either of giving old, neglected, profitless orchards such care as will make them pay, or else grubbing out the trees and thus removing the most serious eyesore of the Willamette Valley. There has actually been a great deal done in this direction this year, but there is still room for much more. In fact, visitors who have never been through the valley before cannot easily understand how much has actually been done to improve orchard conditions. Rev. F. Walden, horticultural editor of the Ranch, recently took his first trip through the Willamette Valley. He caught occasional glimpses of orchards which are well cared for, but noticed a disappointingly large number of old, scraggy, grass-grown orchards. The conditions were practically the same in this respect all the way from Tacoma in Washington to Eugene in Oregon. Mr. Walden suggests that what these orchards need more than anything else is a sufficient amount of dynamite to blow out the trees and then a few crops of clover or vetches turned under. After this is done, a new orchard can be started. That is about the same sort of a suggestion as has been made at quite a number of fruitgrowers' meetings in Oregon in the past year or two. The old, neglected orchards in the Willamette Valley are a great economic waste, as well as a most undesirable advertisement.—Oregon Agriculturist.

The same could be said of a few orchards and scattering trees in the Coquille valley. And, while we have not as yet been bothered with serious tree insect pests, these neglected trees, if once infected, will become veritable incubators for these, and looks will not be the worst feature. More trees should not be set out on a place than are properly cared for and made to pay a liberal return for the labor put on the tree as well as for the space they occupy.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce is to assist Coos Bay enterprise, especially is it to lend a hand toward the consummation of harbor improvement. That's right, make the boost the sort that will move things.—Telegram.

Plot to Assassinate.

Seattle, Washington, July 3.—Evidence that tends to prove a plot to assassinate Gov. Governor McBride was disclosed this afternoon by the police of this city. The evidence secured points to the guilt of August Rosenberg, a German who has lived in Seattle for the past 14 years. Besides plotting against the life of Gov. Governor McBride, Rosenberg is also accused of plotting to assassinate President Roosevelt and other officials. He left Seattle June 8th for Germany, where he was arrested upon his arrival by the German police department who had been sent a tip to be on the lookout for him. At his residence a wagon load of material to be used in the manufacture of bombs was found. It is thought by the German officials that Rosenberg's visit to Germany was made for the purpose of assassinating the Kaiser.

A father's sorrow, a daughter's shame, filial obtuseness, martial faithfulness, maternal forgetfulness, these are some of the points brought out in the Mitchell trial now in progress in Seattle. The bitter shame, the outrageous assumption of it all is that religion was made the cloak for all this villainy and that, even though the arch fiend who ruined homes and broke up families in its name has gone to his last account, his unholy influence still governs his victims, despoiling them of everything womanly and of good repute. There is no question as to the expediency of Creffield's taking off. The method employed is frowned upon by law and civilization, but it now seems probable that a jury of twelve men will decide that under the circumstances, it was justifiable.—Oregonian.

San Francisco, June 26.—A powerful organization known as the Policy Holders' Protective League was formed yesterday by the business men of San Francisco to force fair treatment from all insurance companies. Bankers, manufacturers, merchants and shippers were present on the floor, representing fire losses amounting to more than $100,000,000. A committee was appointed from the membership of the commercial organizations of the city, two from each, with one member at large, which will prepare and direct a plan of campaign for the organization which will supply the necessary money.

Croup
Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes; and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by R S Knowlton.

Some of the strawberry growers have had an implement for cutting strawberry runners made as follows: A broad hoe is bought and taken to a blacksmith who straightens the shank and curves the hoe in a semi-circular form. This enables the worker to cut the runners faster than can be done with a straight edge chopper. We have heard of runner-cutters made in complete circles but they do not appear to be as useful as those which are semi-circular.—Oregon Agriculturist.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Child not Expected to Live From one Hour To Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E N Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "It happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by R S Knowlton.

Note and Comment.

It will be a long time before the beef trust will ever have any one's trust again.

It is fortunate that the beef trust revelations come at a season when vegetables are cheap and plentiful.

Senator Smoot is not a polygamist but there are fifty thousand women all trying at once to give him as much trouble as possible.

The Beef packers continue to deny the "Jungle" story but they are white washing and cleaning the shambles in a way that is frantic.

We have already had the iron age, stone and bronze ages but probably historians will agree that we are now passing through the steal age.

There are rumors of a revolution at Panama but the people of this country are not agitated for fear something may happen to the canal.

Pennsylvania has a plumber for candidate for governor of that state. The people want someone who can discover and repair "Leaks."

The young queen of Spain is to have an allowance of $90,000 a year but it is probable that one of our own summer girls could have more peace of mind and fun with ninety dollars.

Congress has just passed a truancy law for the District of Columbia but it applies only to school children. Congressmen are as heretofore exempt from attending the sessions at the Capitol.

They say in Chicago that the packers use everything about the pig but the squeal, but it is clear now that they are letting the smell get away.

A Pittsburg heiress has just captured a bargain in titles. A two hundred and fifty thousand dollar baron was marked down to one hundred thousand for one day and she nabbed him.

A physician says there are fifty seven different varieties of headache but the man who suffers from staying out too late the night before is sure he has all of them.

Secretary Shaw who says he would willingly go a thousand miles to visit the tomb of a man who died from overwork probably thought he would have to go that far from the United States, Capitol to find it.

A London woman has shut herself up in her house and refuses to pay taxes or come forth until she is given the right to vote. The tax collectors are puzzled how to get her out not having thought of advertising a bargain sale in the district where she does her shopping.

Professor Alexander Haig, the famous dietary specialist of London says there is danger for Americans in too much dieting and this just at the time when the average American is beginning to find out that nearly all foods are impure or diseased.

The King and Queen and the populace forget the horror of the attempted assassination by attending a bull fight. It would take an altogether Spanish mind to devise this amusement as means of forgetting the wholesale assassination.

The life of Representative Adams though tragically ended by suicide will not have been in vain if it results in the discontinuance of the hyperbolic eulogies that are recited by Congress whenever one of its members dies. Nothing can be more painful to a family of a deceased member and to the public, or more stultifying to the speakers than the addresses that are made in Congress upon the death of a representative or senator.
